

Fire Emergency feedback

1 message

Anne Brown <brownanne0021@gmail.com>
To: Clerk.CPS@lacity.org

Fri, Jan 10, 2025 at 10:57 AM

Dear Sir

Re: Civil Emergency Planning

I wish to submit the following suggestions for future emergency planning and residential policies.

- 1) Malibu area could be re-zoned away from residential toward hotel/motel/restaurant facilities. This would mean climate change conditions would not so easily impact on civilian lifestyles.
- 2) Looking at the drive out to Malibu I thought the vista could be more beautified by increased planting of palm trees along the perimeter of the highway.
- 3) All residential areas should be given mandatory legislation: 1) underground emergency shelters on private sections i.e. basement of dwellings. 2) more efficient home sprinkler systems. 3) appropriate vegetation.
- 4) Engineering planning around the foothills for underground sprinkler systems that can be activated in emergencies to protect fires from penetrating into the city area.
- 5) Underground archival storage for Hollywood records.

Thinking 'Roman-style' could be the way forward!

Yours faithfully
AB

Press conferences on fire

1 message

Mike GANNUSCIO <maga03377@aol.com>

Sat, Jan 11, 2025 at 9:50 AM

To: Clerk.CPS@lacity.org

If the city is going to have press conferences on fire please have microphones for reporters so the public can here there questions and not just answers from respondents

Karen Bass press conference was horrible, could not hear reporters vs county press conf we're all was very clear

What happen to "one voice"

Thanks

Sent from my iPhone

Press Conference Saturday Jan 11

1 message

Carrie Broggie <vtakid@me.com>
To: Clerk.CPS@lacity.org

Sat, Jan 11, 2025 at 9:54 AM

It is frustrating to watch the mayor and Fire Chief hold a press conference where questions from the media in attendance do not have microphones. The Mayor does not take the time to repeat the questions so viewers are listening to a very one-sided dialogue. Without hearing the questions, there is no context to what the Mayor is talking about.
Sent from my iPhone