

Communication from Public

Name:

Date Submitted: 05/07/2024 11:18 AM

Council File No: 14-1371-S13

Comments for Public Posting: Please see attached letter to city council with 26 community members names. Dear L.A. City Council, I stand with workers fighting for a living wage to thrive and sustain their families. Tourism workers keep LAX running and passengers safe, and ensure we have a good stay in Los Angeles. Tourism employers have built back with billions of dollars in public investment and pandemic relief funds, leaving their workers behind. I am distressed upon hearing that tourism workers, who greet people like me and folks from around the world, are forced to live in their cars, often working two jobs just to make ends meet, because wages are too low to keep up with the skyrocketing cost of housing. This is unacceptable, especially in such a profitable and growing industry. I support the proposed policy requiring airport and hotel employers to pay family-supporting wages of at least $25 an hour, steadily increasing to $30 an hour by the Los Angeles hosted 2028 Olympics. The City Council has the power to ensure that tourism workers are healthy and housed, and I urge you to do all you can to move the Tourism Worker Rising Ordinance (Council File: 14-1371-S13) forward as quickly as possible and ensure tourism workers are healthy and housed.

TELL L.A CITY COUNCIL:
STAND WITH TOURISM WORKERS,
RAISE THE WAGE NOW!

Dear L.A. City Council,

I stand with workers fighting for a living wage to thrive and sustain their families. Tourism workers keep LAX running and passengers safe, and ensure we have a good stay in Los Angeles. Tourism employers have built back with billions of dollars in public investment and pandemic relief funds, leaving their workers behind. I am distressed upon hearing that tourism workers, who greet people like me and folks from around the world, are forced to live in their cars, often working two jobs just to make ends meet, because wages are too low to keep up with the skyrocketing cost of housing. This is unacceptable, especially in such a profitable and growing industry.

I support the proposed policy requiring airport and hotel employers to pay family-supporting wages of at least $25 an hour, steadily increasing to $30 an hour by the Los Angeles hosted 2028 Olympics. The City Council has the power to ensure that tourism workers are healthy and housed, and I urge you to do all you can to move the Tourism Worker Rising Ordinance (Council File: 14-1371-S13) forward as quickly as possible and ensure tourism workers are healthy and housed.

Sincerely,

First Name	Last Name	Zip Code
Brett	Farkas	91030
Ken	Kusner	90603
Jed	Lauer	90027
Laureen	Lazarovici	91403
darlene	Escobedo	90012
Ryan	Giron	90012
Shirley	PETREIN	90042
Airgail	Koshellu	90027
Angeles Bai	Bai	90032

TELL L.A CITY COUNCIL:
STAND WITH TOURISM WORKERS,
RAISE THE WAGE NOW!

Dear L.A. City Council,

I stand with workers fighting for a living wage to thrive and sustain their families. Tourism workers keep LAX running and passengers safe, and ensure we have a good stay in Los Angeles. Tourism employers have built back with billions of dollars in public investment and pandemic relief funds, leaving their workers behind. I am distressed upon hearing that tourism workers, who greet people like me and folks from around the world, are forced to live in their cars, often working two jobs just to make ends meet, because wages are too low to keep up with the skyrocketing cost of housing. This is unacceptable, especially in such a profitable and growing industry.

I support the proposed policy requiring airport and hotel employers to pay family-supporting wages of at least $25 an hour, steadily increasing to $30 an hour by the Los Angeles hosted 2028 Olympics. The City Council has the power to ensure that tourism workers are healthy and housed, and I urge you to do all you can to move the Tourism Worker Rising Ordinance (Council File: 14-1371-S13) forward as quickly as possible and ensure tourism workers are healthy and housed.

Sincerely,

First Name	Last Name	Zip Code
David Klein	Klein	91325
EDIE	PISTOLESI	91325
Kwan	Luu	90012
FRANK	HIGBIE	90031
Christine	Conan	90042
Maxim	Bo Idan	90270
LINCOLN	Abell anasa	90270

TELL L.A CITY COUNCIL:
STAND WITH TOURISM WORKERS,
RAISE THE WAGE NOW!

Dear L.A. City Council,

I stand with workers fighting for a living wage to thrive and sustain their families. Tourism workers keep LAX running and passengers safe, and ensure we have a good stay in Los Angeles. Tourism employers have built back with billions of dollars in public investment and pandemic relief funds, leaving their workers behind. I am distressed upon hearing that tourism workers, who greet people like me and folks from around the world, are forced to live in their cars, often working two jobs just to make ends meet, because wages are too low to keep up with the skyrocketing cost of housing. This is unacceptable, especially in such a profitable and growing industry.

I support the proposed policy requiring airport and hotel employers to pay family-supporting wages of at least $25 an hour, steadily increasing to $30 an hour by the Los Angeles hosted 2028 Olympics. The City Council has the power to ensure that tourism workers are healthy and housed, and I urge you to do all you can to move the Tourism Worker Rising Ordinance (Council File: 14-1371-S13) forward as quickly as possible and ensure tourism workers are healthy and housed.

Sincerely,

First Name	Last Name	Zip Code
Odetta	Arrendano	91744
Daniel	Velazco	91205
David	Garcia	91722
Abril	Dozal	90043
Morgan Arreola	Currier	90042
Frances	Gill	90026
Edwarco	Martinez	90062

Dear L.A. City Council,

I stand with workers fighting for a living wage to thrive and sustain their families. Tourism workers keep LAX running and passengers safe, and ensure we have a good stay in Los Angeles. Tourism employers have built back with billions of dollars in public investment and pandemic relief funds, leaving their workers behind. I am distressed upon hearing that tourism workers, who greet people like me and folks from around the world, are forced to live in their cars, often working two jobs just to make ends meet, because wages are too low to keep up with the skyrocketing cost of housing. This is unacceptable, especially in such a profitable and growing industry.

I support the proposed policy requiring airport and hotel employers to pay family-supporting wages of at least $25 an hour, steadily increasing to $30 an hour by the Los Angeles hosted 2028 Olympics. The City Council has the power to ensure that tourism workers are healthy and housed, and I urge you to do all you can to move the Tourism Worker Rising Ordinance (Council File: 14-1371-S13) forward as quickly as possible and ensure tourism workers are healthy and housed.

Sincerely,

[illegible]