

Dear LA City Council,

Since becoming a mother and the current political climate we are in, I see myself becoming more interested in engaging with our city officials. After doing some research I decided attending Council Meetings would be a great start to my civic engagement. Unfortunately, the language, the hate speech, and disruptive behavior has deterred me from participating. I don't have time to watch chaos and see people being disrespectful.

I urge action be taken by the Councilmembers and enforce rules to allow for a space without hostility and intimidation. We deserve a space for dialogue and professionalism.

Sincerely,

Gladys Ferrero
