

Dear Los Angeles City Council Members,

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing as a concerned member of our community, deeply troubled by the increasing presence of extremist groups in public spaces such as City Hall Council of Chamber. These spaces should be places of dialogue, safety, and inclusivity, regardless of political affiliation.

Los Angeles has long been a city that prides itself on inclusivity, respect for diverse viewpoints, and the promotion of peaceful discourse. However, the growing presence of individuals and organizations who espouse violent, exclusionary ideologies threatens to undermine these values. I believe it is critical for our local government to take a firm stand to ensure that our public spaces remain safe and welcoming for everyone—regardless of race, religion, gender, or political views.

As a concerned resident, I am reaching out to advocate for the City Chamber to remain a place where communities can come together to create change in a peaceful and productive manner. The constant presence of these extremist groups has created an atmosphere of fear that has, in turn, made it difficult for many residents—including myself—to fully exercise our First Amendment rights. The atmosphere they are fostering is one of division and hate, which is harmful to the city's reputation and the safety of its citizens.

Thank you for your time and attention to this critical issue. I look forward to hearing about the steps the Council will take to address this growing concern and to ensure that our city remains a place where all individuals can feel safe, respected, and heard.

Sincerely,

Cristian Gaspar
