Comments for Public Posting: Giving signal priority for transit makes the most sense. Why should a train filled with people have to wait at an intersection for a handful of cars. Even if the train is half empty, that's at least 50-60 people. Why should they be deprioritized for 15 cars to get pass? If we do not give signal priority to transit, we would be literally devaluing riders. Why is should someone in a BMW be given more priority than me on the train? Is it because the city values rich people more than me? If this motion does not pass, that is literally the message the city is sending.
