Wilcox and Selma, 8 stories, hotel.

Who authorized the behemoth building next door ? That's the slippery slope on this one. I think 8 stories is too tall. Boxing up and gobbling up all the open space. Selma = just another crowded corridor now. People don't know what to do w their money. There's so much of it over in this neighborhood.

My biggest gripe is that it's a hotel. I get it, it's right in the heart of tourist town, but aren't you guys the ones pushing so hard for affordable housing ? Why isn't this an affordable housing project ?
