Comments for Public Posting: It's critical we have legislative support since that's the only way we can really implement healthy changes. There are many folks united on this effort. I strongly encourage you to push people in the right direction to make smarter choices, and not just easy ones. At Surfrider Ventura, we're working with restaurant owners to add an Ocean Friendly To-Go POS button for online orders. Adding this Ocean Friendly To-Go POS button will simply give customers an option to decline utensils to support the ocean & environment. All that is required is to designate a POS button for "Ocean Friendly To-Go" to distinguish it from a regular To-Go order (for example, "OceanToGo") - this alerts your kitchen+staff to prepare it on reusables and/or without utensils. If/when #SkipTheStuff legislation passes, I believe this Ocean Friendly To-Go POS button for online orders should still be implemented in order to continue to bring awareness of the importance of having a healthy ocean to our community. Would this Ocean Friendly To-Go POS button project be an endeavor Reusable LA would be interested in supporting? If so, my next step would be to offer any assistance with community outreach to help restaurants add this Ocean Friendly To-Go POS button for online orders. Thank you for your consideration on how we can combine efforts to ensure that folks don't just simply opt into utensils if/when this legislation passes. I appreciate everything y'all do!
