Comments for Public Posting: The January wildfires damaged this area both financially and emotionally. Employees of the City of Los Angeles, like thousands of others, have found themselves displaced from their homes. One of my staff has seen his entire life destroyed by the Eaton Canyon Fire. And now I don't know exactly when he can return to work as he has to find both a home and deal with the emotional toll. Adding insult to injury is that he is almost entirely out of "vacation" time to take to keep regular paychecks coming to him during this experience. The City Council must ask rapidly and pass this measure to help out its own work force.
