Comments for Public Posting: This is obviously a good idea. Free speech should not extend to using bigoted, discriminatory language in a public platform for no reason other than to hurl abuse in the work place. I see Traci Park isn't supporting or seconding this motion, which shouldn't be surprising considering she defended a city employee's right to use the N-word in the past. It makes sense that the councilmember with ties to the Heritage Foundation and Breitbart doesn't want to support something like this.
