Comments for Public Posting: Please support the Historical Cultural Monument designation for Marilyn Monroe's house. We are losing important buildings every day and a lot of people care about this house. Thank you.

Comments for Public Posting: To Whom It May Concern, As a lifelong resident of the City of Los Angeles, I am saddened to remember how many beautiful structures that I remember from my childhood are no longer here. This being said, it is often easier unfortunately to save a building that has a connection to a historical figure of the past. This being a company town for motion pictures has many such structures and sadly has lost many such structures. I am asking you to consider preserving this structure in Brentwood that was once the residence of Marilyn Monroe, one of the most iconic and recognized figures in the history of film. This is one of the structures attached to a figure that defines us as a city. Marilyn's likeness graces Hollywood Blvd like no other as does her star and her final resting place. To lose this building would be a tragedy to the city. Please consider saving this building and not making another senseless loss to a developer that clearly doesn't see the value in preservation, only in money. Sincerely, Jay Falconer
