Comments for Public Posting: I appreciate that LADOT has been trying to increase enforcement of parking violations in Hollywoodland. However tour operators are utilizing handicap placards to avoid parking restrictions and not receiving violations. Their ability to acquire these personal placards and utilize for commercial gain seems unlawful and should not be a loophole to increased restrictions being considered with this item. A flashing signal / camera that got drivers attention if their vehicle was over 6000 lbs would seem like something to consider.
