Comments for Public Posting: My name is Riley O'Brien and I live in Council District 10 in Koreatown. I urge City Council to adopt the DTLA Community Plan to protect garment jobs and preserve an essential part of the Los Angeles community. The garment industry provides thousands of jobs, supports thousands of families, and provides lifelines to workers and our economy overall. After years of collaboration among workers, business owners, and other community members, City Council must move forward to adopt the DTLA Community Plan and preserve this important part of Los Angeles.
