Comments for Public Posting: Hi, I am writing to strongly urge the city to get serious about scofflaws who block bus lanes and screw up the city's transit system (and therefore contribute to more driving & traffic) for the rest of us. I live just off Santa Monica Blvd and pretty close to Wilshire, and I would LOVE to rely on the bus to get across town and for my commute to Santa Monica on days when I don't feel like biking. However, the buses are always stuck in traffic and it's never worth the risk of being super-late to something, so I often end up driving to things alone or taking ubers. Automated enforcement of the bus-only lanes seems like an easy and obvious first step toward making the bus system work for people again. Please move forward on this as quickly as possible. Thank you,

Comments for Public Posting: I support automatic camera ticketing & enforcement for vehicles blocking our bus lanes. Since we are currently establishing new bus lanes we need to implement ticket automation asap. The impact on traffic of blocking bus movement must be very high as each bus represents many passengers. Additionally, automatic ticketing may free up police officers for other duties that actually utilize their specialized training.
