Comments for Public Posting: Morons, psychopaths, and mental defectives. No not the so called “gadflies”, YOU the council members that signed on to this piece of performative nonsense. What has been clear over the years is that those in the horseshoe do not pay attention to public comment. Now we know that you apparently do, but only the comments of the so called “gadflies” that clearly are getting under your thin skin. Why would you even acknowledge that? You have unleashed the “Streisand Effect” and now have brought attention to the very few people who are making comments that keep you up at night. Essentially and ironically, you provided the green light of encouragement to redouble their efforts using those words and other words per your poorly conceived motion, which clearly allows their use, encourages their use, until the rules are changed. So, buckle up and brace for the deluge that you yourself have asked for. In addition, your green light will encourage this conduct at all sorts of public venues for all City agencies. City Planning, boards, and even the Neighborhood Councils comprised of volunteers who will likely be subjected to what you highly paid public officials can’t seem to tolerate. Your vision for a sanitized public comment period is doomed to fail for a number of reasons including but not limited to Strict Scrutiny. Google it. Fighting words? Are you kidding? The whirlwind coming your way is one of your own creation. Enjoy!
