Comments for Public Posting: I absolutely support this. Drivers do not pay attention to cyclists and it puts lives at risk. Even in regards to the new law that requires drivers to change lanes when possible while passing a cyclist, NOONE I speak to is even aware of this law. Driver education is extremely important when most drivers subconsciously and sometimes even consciously do not respect cyclist and pedestrian lives.

Comments for Public Posting: I support any efforts to expand and connect a bike lane network! I live in El Sereno and work in dtla and I've stopped riding my bike to work bc it feels so dangerous. With our nice weather, it's ridiculous we don't have a good bike network. More bikes = less cars and less traffic! More connections to the LA river would be nice, or some protected bike lanes further down Broadway, Huntington, Valley and Eastern.

Comments for Public Posting: I wholly support this motion. There's a lot of driver misinformation out there and the streets are getting dangerous

Comments for Public Posting: I myself have been a victim of multiple driver road raging on roads with specific signs both posted on poles and signs along the road. I've also have gotten hit by a motorist luckily I had my helmet on or else my I probably wouldn't be here writing this. Please help educate the importance of how fragile a human can be and how fast someone's life change. We all have to look out for each other just like if we witness a car accident, the majority of cyclist and pedestrian become 1st responders.
