Comments for Public Posting: While I applaud the city for trying to protect vulnerable buildings and pedestrians, the city continues to use K71 plastic bollards to protect bike lanes and pedestrians at “protected” intersections. I hope that the city council will recognize that plastic bollards do not do much to keep people safe, and apply a sense of urgency to installing quality bollards at intersections and along protected bike lanes, to keep vulnerable road users safe. I have seen plastic bollards all over the city get destroyed by vehicles, leaving the lanes they were supposed to protect unprotected. Please amend this item to include bollards that effectively protect people while walking and riding bikes.
