Comments for Public Posting: I would like to address the concerns over the unnecessary spending on marketing and the website that Ms. Barnette had proposed. The money that has been donated for LA Animal Services should be used for the animals, not websites and marketing. The money she wants to take away from the animals, that she is supposed to take care of, can be better spent on fostering kittens, treating animal injuries, and not abandoning animals left in her care. She lacks transparency in terms of how she fundraisers and should have more oversight. Does a website offer a better care for the animals than the West Valley Animal shelter? The very same one that she has abandoned. You decide where her goals lie when she wants to sell off the biggest and most equity building LAAS has.
