Comments for Public Posting: WORST IDEA EVER. The consequences of this policy will ruin the last few remaining bright perks of living on the Westside. I have a 1 year old baby and we love going to the beach on the weekends. If this moves forward I will no longer feel safe to take my baby to the beach. Just like how I do not feel safe going to Venice beach. Even parts is Santa Monica is becoming weird and unsafe. I am now forced to carry pepper spray and stun gun to feel remotely safe when I walk my baby. I understand and accept the reality of what's required living here on the Westside. But please do not make it worst for the residents who are paying some of the highest taxes to fund local city and county's incompetent policies like homelessness. I understand that homelessness is an ongoing issue that needs to be solve, but this is NOT the solution.

Comments for Public Posting: I strongly oppose the proposal to house homeless people at the beaches. It is bad for the community, bad for the environment, and not the solution for the homeless crisis. For all the reasons stated in the Pacific Palisades Community Council statement, this is an outrageously terrible idea and should not even be considered.
