REGARDING: AMENDMENT TO PROPOSITION HHH FY 2020-2021 PROJECT EXPENDITURE PLAN

SUMMARY

On May 9, 2019, the Mayor's Office and the Los Angeles Housing + Community Investment Department (HCIDLA) issued the Proposition HHH Housing Challenge Request for Proposals (RFP). Through this report, HCIDLA is requesting authority to issue a letter of commitment for one Proposition HHH Innovative Housing Challenge (Housing Challenge) project (see Table 1).

In addition, HCIDLA requests authorization to amend the Fiscal Year (FY) 2020-2021 Project Expenditure Plan (PEP), to include four projects from the Proposition HHH Permanent Supportive Housing Loan Program (HHH Program) and one project from the Housing Challenge. The five projects have total HHH loan commitment of $26,335,000 (Attachment A).

- D. AUTHORIZE the disbursement of HHH funds to take place after the sponsors obtain enforceable commitments for all proposed funding, including, but not limited to, the full amount of funding and/or tax credits proposed.

BACKGROUND

Housing Challenge RFP

On May 9, 2019, the Housing Challenge RFP was released and on May 4, 2020, the City Council granted HCIDLA authority to issue HHH Program conditional financial commitments in an amount not to exceed $33,726,666 for seven projects (C.F. No. 20-0388). One of the seven projects, McDaniel House (formerly known as South Harvard), has received their background check review approval, has been underwritten by HCIDLA staff, and expects to close their construction financing by the second quarter of FY 2021-2022. The project team for McDaniel House received a Housing Challenge award (C.F. No. 17-0090-S4). The staff report for the project is provided in Attachment B.

1. McDaniel House (formerly known as South Harvard)

The project is located at 1043 S. Harvard Boulevard in Council District 10 and involves the construction of 47 units (including 46 supportive housing units). The project received a conditional HHH loan commitment of $6,440,000 and passed a background check review on February 1, 2021. The project's financing plan is compliant with the Council-approved Housing Challenge RFP and requires no waivers from the Council approved HHH Regulations (C.F. No. 17-0090-S8).

Therefore, HCIDLA is requesting authority to issue a final financial letter of commitment for one project, totaling $6,440,000 in HHH funds. The proposed Housing Challenge project represents a total of 47 units (46 supportive housing units and 1 manager's unit).

FY 2020-2021 PEP Amendment

No. 17-0090-S15) for a total funding of $106,516,646 and amended by City Council on April 20, 2021 (C.F. No. 17-0090-S15) for an additional funding of $37,590,000.

PROJECT COST JUSTIFICATION

There are several factors contributing to the high cost of the unit. First, construction costs continue to rise due to shortages and tariffs. The trade is most impacted by the cost of material drywall and lumber. The next factor is the structural concrete and waterproofing of walkways and roof deck for this project. There are also infill site factors since the site shares the eastern property line with a commercial building. The costs of shoring and slot to maintain the integrity of the neighboring structure contribute to the high costs. Lastly the project will be providing on-site supportive services. This means office space for those services. All of these factors affect the cost of project.

PROJECT COST JUSTIFICATION

The total development cost of $616,286 per unit reflects several factors, including the cost of construction. With increased construction throughout the Los Angeles area, competition for a limited number of subcontractors has increased rates and driven up construction costs.

Constraints specific to the Type III construction. This type of construction is costlier than traditional Type V wood framed construction methods. This construction is necessary to support the number of units and building height requirements.

As an infill site, the project shares property lines with an existing commercial building. Due to its proximity, certain shoring or slot cutting methods will be implemented to ensure no impacts occur to the neighboring structure.

The project is in a Methane Zone Design Level II site. As a result, a passive methane mitigation system will be designed and installed. The cost for Environmental Investigation and Remediation Implementations is estimated at $183,000.

Additionally, the project is in one of the busiest streets in Los Angeles which will require the closing down of the parking lane to allow access for deliveries of material, rental fees, and traffic management.

Finally, the project will be subject to State of California Prevailing Wage laws. This law certifies that contractors and subcontractors will comply with Section 1725.5 of the Labor Code. Prevailing Wage increases the labor costs associated with construction adding soft cost for monitoring.

Although the total cost per unit is $746,527, there is a substantial 8,000 square foot commercial component of the building that represents nearly 7% of the total costs. Once the costs of the commercial component are subtracted, the residential cost per unit is $699,505.

The budget includes approximately $407,065 per unit in construction costs, which is approximately 54% of the total cost. The high construction costs are in part due to the site being divided by an alley requiring duplicative systems such as two elevators and stairwells, two greywater systems, two storm water systems, two transformers for electrical services and associated infrastructure improvements, and two community rooms. The noted items account for nearly $925,000 in additional total costs, or $12,000 per unit.

Another major factor that drove up the cost of development is the extended holding period. Prior to the passage of Propositions 1 & 2, there was a well-known decrease in available public funding at the state level. Because of the extended holding period of waiting for sufficient funds to be available, the project incurred substantial cost overruns in predevelopment loan interest and other holding costs – around $300,000 more than expected in total, or nearly $4,000 per unit.

In addition, 2443 sq. ft. will be allocated for commercial use and guided by a community engagement process. A grocery store, library, schools, pharmacy and parks are within a quarter of a mile.

BORROWER AND PROPOSED OWNERSHIP STRUCTURE

The site is currently owned by the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transit Authority, (METRO). The Applicant, ELACC (East LA Community Corporation) and the co-Developer, BRIDGE Housing have site control through an Exclusive Negotiation Agreement which was agreed upon by METRO by submitting a Request for Proposals that was returned by ELACC and BRIDGE Housing for approval. ELACC will serve as the Managing General Partner and BRIDGE as the Administrative General Partner. The long-term structure will consist of the following:

The total development cost of the project has increased substantially since the original application date of November 2018. The main drivers of the cost increase are due to the Land Value offer subject to Metro approval. In addition, construction costs have escalated rapidly in two years and is further impacted by concrete cost escalation tied to subterranean parking.

The construction period has increased by an additional four months than was originally anticipated contributing to higher loan interest and monthly consultant fees. In addition, insurance costs have skyrocketed due to the fires in California. The project was not eligible for conditional use approval for entitlements as initially advised by Planning, resulting in a longer, more complicated, and more expensive General Plan Amendment/Zone Change entitlement for the site.
