Re: Council File 21-0350; CAO Feasibility Study – Use of Will Rogers State Beach (WRSB) Parking Lot for Homeless Housing / Factors Demonstrating Infeasibility

Dear President Martinez, City Councilmembers, Mr. Szabo and Ms. Chavez:

Pacific Palisades Community Council (PPCC) has provided City officials with myriad reasons why the use of the WRSB parking lot to house the unhoused is infeasible. Here are additional reasons why this proposal should be rejected, even if the CAO makes a narrow finding of “feasibility.”<sup>1</sup>

Beach visitors, from throughout the region and beyond, DO NOT SUPPORT this use

The WRSB General Plan expressly provides that the beach should be available to “all visitors – for their benefit and enjoyment.” PPCC recently surveyed visitors to WRSB. Here is a video recording of what we found:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=E9N3eTyd8Uw>.

As the video shows, WRSB is regularly visited and enjoyed by persons of all ages, ethnicities and backgrounds from throughout the City, the County, the State – and even Las Vegas, Nevada. Beach users made clear that they do not support the use of the beach parking lot for homeless housing. They gave common sense reasons why this is a bad idea. One beachgoer from Hollywood stated: “There really needs to be some good thought behind where they are going to plan these encampments. The government . . . really need[s] to think the whole thing through. If they don’t want it in their front yard or back yard, then they really need to consider the rest of us [emphasis added].”

Respected leaders, commentators and experts DO NOT SUPPORT this use

California’s only four-term Governor, Jerry Brown, in an interview with Conan Nolan of KNBC, recently characterized the proposal to move homeless encampments to Los Angeles beach parking lots as “crazy.” The <sup>1</sup> As explained in our letter of July 12, 2021, we firmly believe, based on documents received in response to our PRA request, that the feasibility study had been substantially completed months before this motion was even made in Council, i.e., the outcome was already pre-determined. <http://pacpalicc.org/wp-content/uploads/2021/06/PPCC-Supp-Letter-to-CAO.pdf>.

LA Times opined in a recent editorial: “What is certain is that no one should be camping in city parks, including the beaches [emphasis added].”<sup>2</sup> And U.S. District Court Judge David O. Carter made clear in his preliminary injunction ruling in the Alliance case that it is “pivotal” that access to public spaces such as beaches and parks, which enhance the quality of life for all citizens, be maintained for the public.<sup>3</sup>

Moreover, John Maceri, CEO of the respected service provider The People Concern,<sup>4</sup> has stated publicly that in his opinion, placing housing for the unhoused at WRSB is “not a good idea.” Mr. Maceri was guest speaker at the July 26, 2021, online community meeting of the Pacific Palisades Task Force on Homelessness (PPTFH).<sup>5</sup> Explaining his position, he noted that the beach is a “really valuable asset” to the County, and further, that “access to public space has been constrained for so long,” people have been “cooped up for 15 months,” the temperature in the San Fernando Valley has been in “triple digits for several weeks,” and many Angelenos want to get “relief from the heat” by enjoying the beach. He asked: “Why would you take a County-wide asset and limit its use for something that is going to have a pretty significant impact on thousands and thousands of other people in the County? It just doesn’t make any sense for me. There are alternative locations that can be looked at [emphasis added].”

Mr. Maceri also commented: “There absolutely has to be transparency with the community when there’s anything being contemplated to be sited . . . it’s on the government, the electeds and their staff, to work with the community to help them understand what the proposals are [emphasis added].” Sadly, what transpired in this case was the exact opposite of what Mr. Maceri sensibly recommends.

State park land was rejected from the Governor’s EO 23-20 inventory

Governor Newsom issued Executive Order 23-20 in January 2020, declaring a homeless emergency and directing an assessment of state-owned surplus property for use by local governments for homeless shelter purposes. The State Business, Consumer Services and Housing Agency (BCSH) administered the inventory of state-owned properties that were determined to be suitable for this use. The Deputy Director of BCSH (Real Estate division) has advised PPCC that during inventory development, Cal Parks rejected the inclusion of any state parks, beaches or other Cal Parks properties in the inventory. The final EO 23-20 inventory as a result included no Cal Parks properties.

Conclusion:

We agree with actual beach users, with Gov. Jerry Brown, and with the LA Times, Judge Carter, John Maceri and Cal Parks – WRSB is no place for homeless habitation. The use is not allowed by the General Plan and applicable laws; it will constrict public access and is dangerous for the unhoused as well as for the entire Santa Monica Mountains/Very High Fire Hazard Severity Zone region. According to City Controller Ron Galperin, there Outreach workers from The People Concern have been engaged by PPTFH for the past several years in working with community volunteers to assist the many unhoused individuals who come to WRSB and adjacent bluff and canyon areas and provide them with offers of housing and services. Despite The People Concern’s extensive knowledge of the conditions at this location, Mr. Maceri stated at the PPTFH meeting that no one from government had reached out to him or his organization for their input on this proposal.

are “nearly 14,000 properties in the City owned by six major public entities, with 7,508 owned by the City itself [original emphasis].”<sup>6</sup> We respectfully urge you to focus on the thousands of other sites that are potentially feasible to house the unhoused in Los Angeles and reject further consideration of WRSB for this purpose. Thank you.
