Comments for Public Posting: Dear City Council, In my part of Los Angeles, I am kept awake by illegally loud exhaust noise. While I enjoy being in an urban environment, this excessive noise diminished the value of my Los Angeles neighborhood. California law limits motorcycles and vehicles to 80 decibels, and yet I often hear cars and motorcycles well beyond that. People seem to drive with these illegally modified exhaust systems with impunity. While I do not wish to see more armed police officers doing traffic enforcement, I ask that the city clamp down on the shops performing these illegal exhaust modifications. Solving this problem will create a more livable city. Noise pollution is pollution. We must curtail it. Thank you, John Blevins Los Angeles, CA 90019

Comments for Public Posting: Dear City Council, In my part of Los Angeles, I am kept awake by illegally loud exhaust noise. While I enjoy being in an urban environment, I didn't sign up for living on a racetrack. California law limits motorcycles and vehicles to 80 decibels, and yet I often hear cars and motorcycles well beyond that. People seem to drive with these illegally modified exhaust systems with impunity. How can we push for more electric vehicles while also allowing street racers and polluting exhaust systems to continue in areas where we should be making things more walkable? Solving this problem will create a more livable and healthier city. Thank you, Kelly Wright, MD Los Angeles, 90035

Comments for Public Posting: Dear City Council, On my corner of Olympic boulevard, there is atleast horrible car crashes once a month. Often times, theses "accidents" are fatal. I regularly hear the screeching of cars that are narrowly avoiding a crash In my part of Los Angeles and I have to brace myself in fear of hearing a loud impact. I am kept awake by illegally loud exhaust noise. While I enjoy being in an urban environment, I didn't sign up for living on a racetrack. California law limits motorcycles and vehicles to 80 decibels, and yet I often hear cars and motorcycles well beyond that. People seem to drive with these illegally modified exhaust systems with impunity. While I do not wish to see more armed police officers doing traffic enforcement, I ask that the city clamp down on the shops performing these illegal exhaust modifications. Solving this problem will create a more livable city. Thank you, Thurmon Los Angeles, 90019

Comments for Public Posting: Dear City Council, In my part of Los Angeles, illegally loud exhaust noise is a frequent annoyance. While I enjoy being in an urban environment, I didn't sign up for living on a racetrack. California law limits motorcycles and vehicles to 80 decibels, and yet I often hear cars and motorcycles well beyond that. People seem to drive with these illegally modified exhaust systems with impunity. While I do not wish to see more armed police officers doing traffic enforcement, I ask that the city clamp down on the shops performing these illegal exhaust modifications. Solving this problem will create a more livable city. To reiterate-- this is a systemic problem that requires targeted solutions. Sending in the police is a reactive and ineffective response to this issue. Lorenzo M Panorama City, 91402

Comments for Public Posting: Dear City Council, Illegally loud exhaust noise is a problem throughout the City. California law limits motorcycles and vehicles to 80 decibels, and yet I often hear motorcycles and cars that are undoubtedly well beyond that. There seems to be impunity for these illegally modified exhaust systems. While I do not wish to see more armed police officers doing traffic enforcement, the City should certainly crack down on the shops performing these illegal exhaust modifications. Solving this problem will create a more livable city. Thank you, Ben Creed

Comments for Public Posting: Dear City Council members, Living in a densely populated area of LA there is traffic, helicopters and emergency vehicle noise that I have to live with, but, there are INCREASING incidents of vehicles with excessively loud exhaust systems that I should not have to endure. These noisy cars & motor bikes startle me when I'm outdoors and also startle me awake me from sleep at night. It's really dangerous to set people's heart racing or to interrupt their sleep, so I encourage you to do whatever is possible to stop the use of these noisy exhausts. Thank you, Carol Springer Los Angeles, 90004
