Dear Honorable PLUM Committee:

I urge the PLUM Committee adopt the nomination by the Cultural Heritage Commission on April 15th, 2021, without any revisions, for Studio City Golf and Tennis Club to be included in the list of Historical-Cultural Monuments according to the CHC staff findings as written. The CHC determined " that the property conforms with the definition of a Monument pursuant to Section 22.171.7 of the Los Angeles Administrative Code.

As a property that for generations has been open to everyone regardless of age, gender, and ethnicity for an affordable price without membership dues, Weddington Golf and Tennis is in a unique position between a public, municipal course and a private country club. Weddington Golf & Tennis complemented and supported surrounding suburban development in Studio City. Weddington Golf & Tennis stands out for its planned landscape, specifically, the number and application of over 350 palm, eucalyptus, and pine trees, to define the fairways.

Any proposed demolition of this excellent example of a post WW II Era recreational facility will result in a significant loss to the heritage of Studio City. I urge you to protect this iconic Studio City landmark for future generations.

Sincerely,

Barbara Brabec

Dear Honorable PLUM Committee,

I urge the PLUM Committee to adopt the nomination by the Cultural Heritage Commission on April 15th, 2021, without any revisions, for Studio City Golf and Tennis Club to be included in the list of LA City Historic-Cultural Monuments according to the CHC staff findings, as written. The CHC determined "that the property conforms with the definition of a Monument pursuant to Section 22.171.7 of the Los Angeles Administrative Code."

As a property that, for generations, has been open to everyone regardless of age, gender, and ethnicity for an affordable price without membership dues, Weddington Golf and Tennis is in a unique position between a public, municipal course and a private country club. Weddington Golf & Tennis complemented and supported surrounding suburban development in Studio City and the San Fernando Valley. Weddington Golf & Tennis stands out for its planned historic-cultural landscape, specifically, the number and application of over 350 palm, eucalyptus, and pine trees, to define the fairways.

Any proposed demolition of this excellent example of a post WWII-era recreational facility will result in a significant loss to the heritage of Studio City, the San Fernando Valley, and the City of Los Angeles. I urge you to protect this iconic Studio City landmark for future generations.

Save Coldwater Canyon supports the staff report and the original findings of the Historic Cultural Commission, which states that Weddington Golf and Tennis is a prime example of a post World War 2 golf course, and designates the entire subject property as a Historic Cultural Monument.

I will start with a brief personal anecdote. Important memories of my lucky life growing up in Studio City in the 90's (where I proudly find myself living again today) include walking down to the Wedding Golf Course (née Studio City Golf & Tennis Center) to take weekly golf lessons from retired legend Roger Dunn (yes indeed, of the Roger Dunn golf stores!) PLEASE help save this treasure. Nostalgia aside, I wholeheartedly believe that the facilities as they exist will better serve the community for many years to come, in addition to their indelible contribution to the rich and special post WWII history of our humble nook of Whitsett Ave. in Studio City.

Dear Honorable PLUM Committee:

While I'm a bit confused about exactly what can be done about the Harvard Westlake sports complex since they bought the property, I write concerned about the destruction of the ecosystem of this acreage, needed wildlife and trees. Anything that can be done to mitigate this massive alteration of natural landscape would be extremely appreciated. It's unfortunate that the city or another "green" investor did not step up to purchase this property, but I believe property could be run in a way to attract locals as well as tourists and be financially sustainable. I realized H-W is offering to preserve a small piece of the original structure, but I am more concerned about the loss of trees and wildlife, and production of more pollution.

As a property that for generations has been open to everyone regardless of age, gender, and ethnicity for an affordable price without membership dues, Weddington Golf and Tennis is in a unique position between a public, municipal course and a private country club. Weddington Golf & Tennis complemented and supported surrounding suburban development in Studio City. Weddington Golf & Tennis stands out for is planned landscape, specifically, the number and application of over 350 palm, eucalyptus, and pine trees, to define the fairways.

Any proposed demolition of this excellent example of a post WW II Era recreational facility will result in a significant loss to the heritage of Studio City. I urge you to protect this iconic Studio City landmark for future generations.

Sincerely
