Comments for Public Posting: I like the way you think, Joe. Enabling the homeless just makes them homeless for another day. We need a way to get them into treatment sooner rather than later. Every time I am forced to step around someone lying on the sidewalk, I say to myself "as a society we have failed". We fail every time we normalize encampments blocking our sidewalks, under bridges, etc. We fail every time we give them "maid Service" and expect them to change their ways. I hope this is successful.
