Comments for Public Posting: The request for a CEQA exemption is dangerous and unreasonable. For decades, every building structure slated to be built in Venice (coastal zone) requires an environmental study and has pass rigorous qualifications. Especially one of this size, mass and scale which clearly does not fit into the neighborhood at all. The Soviet-style Constructivism design of this building is depressing and does not fit with the character of the neighborhood, at all. The out-of-character design notwithstanding, the request for a CEQA exemption for a project of this mass and scale presents unreasonable danger to the coastal ecosystem.
