Comments for Public Posting: I have lived in Venice since 2001 & feel a great affinity to this ever evolving Beach community to which I feel very much a part of, I believe this development is too large a building & to condense for our surrounding community to absorb, I believe the beach traffic which is already gridlocked in the summer months will be compounded during the building process & create a bigger nightmare scenario for locals & visitors when finished, I believe the cost per unit isn't economical in any shape or form, i believe the enclosing the multi story parking inside a building will create a crime haven that will be extremely unsafe after dark & possibly a no go area at night , and will only add to the traffic chaos during the day as visitors try navigate the entrance & exists if this complex structure , I totally a-pose the scale & the harsh concrete prison like facade thats been propose, I think Venice is a vibrant mix of both high & low income property & all new developments needs to enhance our community not divide it... Ultimately it is we locals that will live in the shadows of such a large overpowering building.. why couldn't the money be used to buy up & renovate or existing property & install a low income mandate in them.. please reconsider the scale & retain the deck are harmony that exists here....
