The Reseda Neighborhood Council requests that the Los Angeles Redistricting Commission place the neighborhood of Reseda in only one council district. At present, Reseda is divided into two council districts with the majority of our neighborhood in Council District 3 and a north-northeastern section in Council District 12. Historically, this division between council districts has not served the stakeholders of Reseda well. Regardless of which council district Reseda is placed into, we would prefer to not have our community arbitrarily split between districts. We believe that the split causes a diffusion of responsibility by our Councilmembers, particularly along the areas where the dividing lines occur. Additionally, Roscoe Boulevard and Reseda Boulevard are two streets in Reseda that are part of the High Injury Network under Vision Zero and are where dividing lines occur. Where these streets do not mark the dividing lines between communities, we believe Reseda would benefit from not having these particularly dangerous streets divided between Councilmembers.

Please see attached map.
