Comments for Public Posting: I am absolutely disgusted about the decisions that are being made, I was a renter for 20 years and now as a single mom have bought the duplex. I have two kids aged 9 and 11. The tenant I was landed with has been subletting and making an income, she moved people in and out of the unit, I have no idea who is actually living on my property. I bought the property to move into the bigger unit as my children need their own room and am unable to move into my own house whilst this awful women continues to do whatever she wants. This is outrageous and has to stop.
