

With deep experience in air pollution and clean energy, Ross Zelen has worked in California environmental policy and public interest for the past 8 years. Currently, Ross serves as the Board Consultant and Policy Advisor to Gideon Kracov, South Coast Air Quality Management District and California Air Resources Board Member. Working for the Governor's appointee to the two air boards, he leads legal research and policy analysis for matters that come before the Governing Board, including regulatory decisions on warehouses, refineries, and clean transportation infrastructure. Previously, Ross worked for Communities for a Better Environment, Community Partners, the California Energy Commission, and served as a California Executive Fellow at the California Air Resources Board. Ross was born and raised in the San Fernando Valley and is passionate about making the City of LA more equitable, resilient, and sustainable.
