Comments for Public Posting: Here we are again, with yet another laughable proposal for a Historical Monument designation. The groups proposing these monuments are doing nothing but making a mockery of this process. There is absolutely nothing significant whatsoever about this building. They are misdirection their memories of a long gone business for a decrepit hunk of drywall. Designating this as a Historical monument would do nothing but devalue the worth of the Historical designation itself. The words would become meaningless. Reject this proposal, as you already have once.
