Comments for Public Posting: please lift the local 'emergency.' i think the City Council needs to consider how property-owners have been stripped of their due-process rights. a tenant can 'claim' a covid hardship and there is absolutely nothing a housing-provider can do to even contest it as the ordinances are so loosely and broadly written. the City Council is being the judge, jury, and executioner with its local state of emergency. all of america has resume normal business practices except rental-housing. it is time to rip this band-aid off and solve this problem. please allow mom+pop homeowners a means to remedy their problem & professional tenants and give back their property rights. this is very un-american and unconstitutional. please finally let this 'emergency' expire. an emergency that has full indoor arenas and outdoor stadiums. the irony of all this where City Council is 'rigging the game.'

Comments for Public Posting: the state of the country/state/county/city are very different than it was march 2020. this 'emergency' has gone on long enough and needs to be lifted. i have a professional tenant damaging my property and causing a leak. i am unable to rectify this problem because the tenant has denied me access to fix something he is damaging! the City continues to protect this squatter as its ordinance is so broadly written. i have no due-process. we all know the good intentions the City had to protect the most vulnerable, but is the City going to aid home-owners which the tenant is causing immense damage to the home and with no avenue to fix the problem let alone remove the problem tenant? it is time to give property owners their rights back and to stop protecting criminals. this is only happening because there are no repercussions for this criminal behavior because the City's ordinance the way it is currently written allows this. this is only going to encourage more fraud in the future because of terrible policy.
