Comments for Public Posting: To members of the Los Angeles City Council, I write to support the taking of this land by the City using eminent domain for expansion and connection of the Expo Line Bike Path through the Northvale Gap. This disconnected section is extremely important for providing a safe and comfortable connection for people riding bikes on the Expo Line Path between West LA and Culver City and the current on-street route is neither safe from vehicles nor easy given the tough hills. I urge the council to act quickly to build out this sorely needed gap in the most useful off-street biking path on the Westside. Best, Jacob Wessel

Comments for Public Posting: I am a daily bike commuter in Los Angeles. I strongly support the completion of the Expo line bike path with the Northvale Gap closure project. Our streets are not safe for bike riders, and the alternate route through this bike path gap includes a dangerous left hand turn across Motor Ave. Closing the Northvale Gap and completing the Expo line bike path will make bike riding through the area much safer for riders and pedestrians. Safe cycling infrastructure is also key to promoting climate friendly commutes via bike and e-bike. Please complete the bike path.
