

Reason for appeal

I, In Ok Choi, owner/operator of Tom's Market is appealing the decision in its entirety due to the fact that we have exhibited and established substantial compliance with the previous conditions. The conditions were in adhered to and validated by the many residents who spoke in support of our continued operation. The new conditions that were added for this Letter of Determination prohibits us from continuing to providing the public convenience and necessity to our customers. Furthermore, some conditions will put us line for potential lawsuits for racial profiling and discrimination. Lastly, the decision-maker erred by stipulating conditions that are really not enforceable.
