1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Introduction / Purpose of this Addendum

The purpose of this this Addendum to the Environmental Impact Report (EIR) prepared for the Citywide Housing Element 2021-2029 and Safety Element Update ("Housing Element EIR") is to evaluate the environmental effects associated with the proposed targeted amendments to the Housing Element ("Proposed Project").

On November 24, 2021 the Los Angeles City Council certified the Housing Element EIR and adopted the updates to the Housing Element, Safety Element, and Health Element. The Housing Element EIR was prepared to examine the potential environmental effects of the 2021-2029 Housing Element Update, including build out of the RHNA, as well as the programs and policies that have the potential to result in physical environmental effects, and the Inventory of Sites and Rezoning Program needed to demonstrate zoned capacity needed to accommodate the City's RHNA Allocation.

As indicated in Section 2, the Proposed Project is a targeted amendment to the Housing Element, which includes targeted revisions to implementation programs in order to provide more detailed metrics, timeframes, and place-based strategies in lower-income areas of the city as part of the affirmatively furthering fair housing (AFFH) requirement. These AFFH amendments were identified as needed by the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) in order to ensure the Housing Element's substantial compliance with state housing element laws and requirements. In addition, the project includes minor technical corrections. This includes corrections of typographical and formatting errors, including but not limited to accrediting staff, adding references to the amendment case number and adoption dates, and revisions to Appendix 4.1.

The purpose of this Addendum is therefore to evaluate the Proposed Project consistent with CEQA Guidelines Section 15164 and 15162, and determine whether the Proposed Project results in a change to the project or circumstances which will require a major revision to the Housing Element EIR due to the involvement of any new significant impacts or a substantial increase in the severity of a previously identified significant effect.

1.2 CEQA Requirements

According to Section 15164(a) of the CEQA Guidelines, "the lead agency or responsible agency shall prepare an addendum to a previously certified EIR if some changes or additions are necessary but none of the conditions described in Section 15162 calling for preparation of a subsequent EIR have occurred." Section 15164(c) states that an addendum does not need to be circulated for public review. Section 15164(d) provides that the decision-making body shall consider the addendum in conjunction with the certified EIR prior to making a decision on the project. Section 15164(e) requires documentation of the decision not to prepare a subsequent or supplemental EIR pursuant to Section 15162.

Section 15162 of the CEQA Guidelines lists the conditions that would require the preparation of a subsequent EIR or negative declaration rather than an addendum. These include the following:

1. Substantial changes are proposed in the project which will require major revisions of the previous EIR or negative declaration due to the involvement of new significant environmental effects or a substantial increase in the severity of previously identified significant effects;

2. Substantial changes occur with respect to the circumstances under which the project is undertaken which will require major revisions of the previous EIR or Negative Declaration due to the involvement of new significant environmental effects or a substantial increase in the severity of previously identified significant effects; or

3. New information of substantial importance, which was not known and could not have been known with the exercise of reasonable diligence at the time the previous EIR was certified as complete or the Negative Declaration was adopted, shows any of the following:

    a. The project will have one or more significant effects not discussed in the previous EIR or negative declaration;

    b. Significant effects previously examined will be substantially more severe than shown in the previous EIR;

    c. Mitigation measures or alternatives previously found not to be feasible would in fact be feasible, and would substantially reduce one or more significant effects of the project, but the project proponents decline to adopt the mitigation measure or alternative; or

    d. Mitigation measures or alternatives which are considerably different from those analyzed in the previous EIR would substantially reduce one or more significant effects on the environment, but the project proponents decline to adopt the mitigation measure or alternative.

The Proposed Project has been reviewed by the City of Los Angeles in light of Sections 15162 and 15164 of the CEQA Guidelines. As the CEQA Lead Agency, the City of Los Angeles has determined, based on the analysis presented herein, that none of the conditions apply which would require preparation of a subsequent or supplemental EIR and that an Addendum to the certified Housing Element EIR is the appropriate environmental documentation under CEQA for the Proposed Project.

1.3 Incorporation by Reference

The following document was used in the preparation of this Addendum, and is incorporated herein by reference, consistent with Section 15150 of the Guidelines: Citywide Housing Element 2021-2029 and Safety Element Update, Final Environmental Impact Report (SCH No. 2021010130), certified November 24, 2021. Referred to herein as the Housing Element EIR.

The Housing Element EIR is available for review at the City of Los Angeles, Department of City Planning Records Management, 221 N. Figueroa Street, Room 1450 Los Angeles, and online at the following weblinks:

- Draft EIR: https://planning.lacity.org/development-services/eir/Housing-Element_2021-2029_Update_Safety-Element_Update_deir
- Final EIR: https://planning.lacity.org/development-services/eir/housing-element-2021-2029-update-safety-element-update-0

1.4 Summary of Effects

Section 3 of this Addendum includes a detailed evaluation of environmental effects associated with the Proposed Project, as they relate to impacts identified in the Housing Element EIR.

The Proposed Project consists of targeted amendments that largely would not result in a change to the project or circumstances. Inasmuch as the amendments would reflect a change to the project that was analyzed in the Housing Element EIR, the analysis shows that these changes would not result in a change to the EIR. Therefore, as analyzed in more detail below, the Proposed Project would not result in 1) substantial changes that require major revisions to the Housing Element EIR; 2) substantial changes to circumstances, related to significant effects, that require major revisions to the Housing Element EIR; 3) new information of substantial importance regarding worsened significant effects, mitigation measures or alternatives now found to be feasible; or new mitigation measures or alternatives which are considerably different from those analyzed in the Housing Element EIR. Therefore, the Proposed Project does not trigger any of the conditions that require the preparation of a Subsequent or Supplemental EIR in Sections 15162 and 15163 of the CEQA Guidelines, and therefore an Addendum to the Housing Element EIR is the appropriate document to address the Proposed Project.

2. DESCRIPTION OF PROPOSED PROJECT

2.1 Background on the 2021-2029 Housing Element Update and the Housing Element EIR

On November 24, 2021 the Los Angeles City Council certified the Environmental Impact Report (EIR) prepared for the Citywide Housing Element 2021-2029 and Safety Element Update, SCH No. 2021010130 (“Housing Element EIR”) and adopted the updates to the Housing Element and Safety Element. Following adoption, the City submitted the 2021-2029 Housing Element Update to HCD for compliance review and certification.

On February 22, 2022, the City of Los Angeles received a letter from HCD reporting the results of its review of the City’s 2021-2029 Housing Element Update. While the letter acknowledged the City’s Housing Element met almost all of the statutory requirements of state housing element law, it directed the City to make additional revisions in order to gain a finding of substantial compliance by HCD.

In particular, the HCD letter cited two related deficiencies with regard to statutory AFFH requirements. First, housing element programs, strategies and actions designed to meet local AFFH goals must include metrics and milestones, pursuant to Government Code Section 65583(c)(10)(A). The purpose of metrics and milestones is to determine what beneficial fair housing results will be achieved during the eight-year housing element cycle and to better allow HCD to evaluate the effectiveness and progress of local implementation actions. Secondly, HCD found that the 2021-2029 Housing Element Update's AFFH programs did not sufficiently address targeting of geographic areas or neighborhoods and the need to include additional place-based strategies to encourage community revitalization.

Revisions were identified as necessary to correct these deficiencies in order for the 2021-2029 Housing Element to be fully compliant with all regulations in state housing element law.

Housing Element EIR

The Housing Element EIR was prepared to examine the potential environmental effects of the Safety Element and the 2021-2029 Housing Element Update, including the programs and policies that have the potential to result in physical environmental effects, and the Inventory of Sites and Rezoning Program needed to demonstrate zoned capacity needed to accommodate the City's RHNA Allocation.

Based on the analysis contained in the Housing Element EIR, the EIR found that the 2021-2029 Housing Element Update would result in unavoidable significant environmental impacts with regard to:

- Air Quality (Exceedance of Criteria Pollutants—Construction and Operations)
- Biological Resources (Special Status Species, Sensitive Habitats, Wildlife Corridors)
- Cultural Resources (Historical Resources and Archaeological Resources)
- Geology and Soils (Paleontological Resources)
- Hazards and Hazardous Materials (Hazardous Materials Near Schools and Hazardous Materials Sites)
- Noise (Construction Noise, Operation Noise, and Construction Vibration)
- Public Services (Fire Protection, Police Protection, and School Facilities)
- Recreation (Deterioration of Recreational Facilities and Construction of Recreational Facilities)
- Transportation (Freeway Queuing)
- Tribal Cultural Resources (Construction: Ground Disturbance during Construction)

- Wildfire (Impair Emergency Response Plan, Exacerbate Wildfire Risks in State Responsibility Area or VHFHSZ, Require Infrastructure that may Exacerbate Fire Risk, Expose People or Structures to Significant Risks in State Responsibility Area or VHFHSZ, and Expose People or Structures to Significant Risks Involving Wildland Fires)

The Housing Element EIR also identified the following significant impacts that were anticipated to be reduced to less than significant with identified mitigation measures:

- Air Quality: Construction-related emissions of toxic air contaminants
- Hydrology: Impeding or Redirect Flood Flows
- Transportation: Circulation Plan Consistency, Hazardous Design, Emergency Access

The Housing Element EIR considered two Project Alternatives, including 1) No Project Alternative, and 2) Redistribution of Rezoning Program. The analysis contained the Housing Element EIR found that neither of the studied alternatives would avoid any of the significant and unavoidable impacts of the 2021-2029 Housing Element Update and both would also result in a significant and unavoidable impact related to GHG, land use, and transportation (VMT) that would not occur under the 2021-2029 Housing Element Update.

2.2 Description of Targeted Amendments to the 2021-2029 Housing Element

The Proposed Project consists of a General Plan Amendment to make targeted amendments to the adopted Housing Element, including the modification and addition of implementation programs in Chapter 6 to clarify metrics, milestones, actions, and strategies to affirmatively further fair housing as well as expand place-based programs to encourage community revitalization. As described in Section 2.1 above, these revisions are identified as necessary to obtain full compliance with statutory requirements. In addition, the Proposed Project includes minor technical corrections to correct formatting and typographical errors.

Modification and Addition of Implementation Programs

The Proposed Project includes the modification to existing implementation programs to include metrics and milestones that target significant and meaningful AFFH outcomes. These amendments include a revised and reogranized AFFH Program 124, as well as targeted edits to individual existing programs that have important AFFH components. In addition, four new implementation programs are proposed to be added to the Housing Element in order to better reflect place-based strategies.[1] These programs reflect activities that are part of the City's existing work programs, but had not previously been included in the Housing Element as they are not explicitly related to housing programs.

The Proposed Project's modifications to existing implementation programs are summarized as follows:

[1] Previously existing programs: 1, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 14, 15, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 30, 32, 38, 41, 42, 49, 52, 56, 63, 65, 68, 81, 82, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 93, 96, 99, 102, 108, 122, 123 and 124; Newly proposed programs: 133, 134, 135 and 136.

- More specific commitments: Within individual programs, language around exploring or considering specific actions is revised to include more specific commitments or actions, such as drafting a code amendment or presenting a report to the City Council.
- Geographic focus: Where applicable, the geographic targets of existing implementation programs are clarified.
- Timelines: Revisions provide clearer timelines for implementation of certain programs.
- Metrics: Revisions also add reasonable and achievable AFFH metrics where applicable, which are intended to aid in ongoing evaluation of program success.
- Connection to AFFH: Revisions aim to more clearly define program objectives and the overall program description, as they relate to the principles and goals of AFFH.
- Articulating previously established metrics and targeting: For some programs, revisions incorporate previously established metrics and geographic targeting.

In addition to revising existing programs that affirmatively further fair housing, the Proposed Project would add four new implementation programs to the Housing Element to better capture existing place-based efforts that have been identified in prior planning efforts and/or implemented across City Departments, and have strong commitments to AFFH. These are all existing work programs, and the metrics associated with them have been previously established through grant requirements, council report backs, or existing department policies:

- Program 133 - Mobility Improvements in Lower-Income Areas,
- Program 134 - Promote Equitable Economic Development in High Poverty and High Unemployment Areas,
- Program 135 - Place Based Community Revitalization Efforts, and
- Program 136 - Solid Ground Program

Finally, the Proposed Project would revise the structure of Program 124, which is the Housing Element's overarching AFFH Program. The Program includes a table containing the various strategies and actions identified to affirmatively further fair housing. Within the table, thirteen broader AFFH strategies link to more than 50 individual Housing Element implementation programs, where metrics, timelines, commitments and AFFH components have been summarized. The table also links these strategies and program actions to the primary contributing factors identified in the element's assessment of fair housing as well as the four AFFH issue areas identified in state law. This revised structure does not materially change the implementation of Program 124, but is intended to better clarify how the program meets statutory requirements.

Additional Technical Corrections

In addition, the Proposed Project includes minor technical corrections. This includes corrections of typographical and formatting errors, including but not limited to accrediting staff, adding references to the amendment case number and adoption dates, and revisions to Appendix 4.1 (Inventory of Adequate Sites for Housing (Table A)). The correction appends missing data for individual sites that is intended to be provided for informational purposes only, regarding the maximum number of units that would be permitted on the site after application of a development bonus. These data were inadvertently omitted due to a formatting error, but are entirely optional, not required by the state, and provided for additional clarity. The addition of these data does not affect the substance of the plan, the sites identified in the inventory, or the overall evaluation of potential site capacity.

3. IMPACT ANALYSIS

The Proposed Project consists of targeted amendments to the 2021-2029 Housing Element, the majority of which would not result in a change to the project or circumstances. Inasmuch as the addition of new programs would reflect a change to the project that was analyzed in the Housing Element EIR, these changes would not result in the need for a major revision to the EIR, as they do not result in new significant impacts or increase the severity of the significant impacts identified in the Housing Element EIR.

Revisions Not a Change to the Project or Circumstances

The proposed targeted amendments to the adopted 2021-2029 Housing Element only affect implementation programs related to the AFFH strategy, and provide relatively minimal revisions to clarify existing programs and commitments in the Housing Element. The goals, policies, and objectives included in the adopted 2021-2029 Housing Element are not proposed to be amended or modified. The amended programs are supported by the existing goals, policies, and objectives in the 2021-2029 Housing Element, and are intended to provide the necessary tools to implement and carry out the vision established by those goals, policies, and objectives. The changes to the programs are all fully within the scope of the existing programs (with the exception of the four new programs discussed below) and do not change the programs. The proposed amendments do not result in a substantive change to the adopted 2021-2029 Housing Element. The Housing Element EIR fully analyzed the environmental impacts that could occur as a result of the implementation of the 2021-2029 Housing Element.

Revisions Do Not Result in New Significant Impacts or Increase the Severity of Previously Identified Significant Impacts in the Housing Element EIR

Inasmuch as the program revisions could be considered a change to the project, for example, the creation of new implementation programs to describe place-based strategies, these revisions would not result in a change to the Housing Element EIR, and would not have new or different impacts than those previously identified and analyzed in the EIR.

As discussed in Section 2.2, these new programs are intended to capture existing place-based efforts that have been identified in prior planning efforts and/or implemented across City Departments. These are all existing work programs, and the metrics and commitments associated with them have been previously established through grant requirements, council report backs, or existing department policies. In particular:

> Program 133, Mobility Improvements in Lower-Income Areas, incorporates existing programs and work efforts that are previously identified in the City's Mobility Plan and are implemented by the Los Angeles Department of Transportation (LADOT). This includes mobility and transportation investment programs such as Vision Zero, Great Streets, Safe Routes to Schools, and Mobility Equity Zones, which aim to provide active transportation and street improvement programs (e.g., construction of bike lanes), micro-mobility programs (e.g., dockless scooters), and provide greater access to transportation services through fare subsidies.
> Program 134, Promote Equitable Economic Development in High Poverty and High Unemployment Areas, incorporates existing programs and work efforts that are implemented by the Economic and Workforce Development Department (EWDD). These programs primarily consist of grants and loans to small businesses or social services such as jobs skills training and mentoring, although they do include funding for small-scale physical improvements to existing small businesses (e.g., facade improvements).
>
> Program 135, Place Based Community Revitalization Efforts, is a comprehensive program which summarizes a wide range of existing, ongoing place-based efforts across multiple City Departments and Agencies. This includes, for example, participatory budgeting programming, existing efforts to allocate funding to improve parks and amenities through Measure A funds (approved by LA County voters in November 2016), and a variety of resilience and climate adaptation efforts identified in the Safety Element. As noted in Section 2.1 above, the Safety Element Update was analyzed in the Housing Element EIR.
> Program 136, Solid Ground Program, incorporates existing social services programming implemented by the Community Investment for Families Department (CIFD), as they relate to homelessness prevention. This primarily involves financial assistance and wraparound services for families at risk of experiencing homelessness.

Many of the programs or components of these new programs address socio-economic conditions (such as workforce development programs), and would not entail any physical or environmental impacts, or would involve continuation of existing uses (such as services to families at risk of homelessness).

For the components of these programs that could entail physical or environmental impacts (e.g., construction of bike lanes), they would either be subject to an exemption (e.g., PRC Section 21080.25, and CEQA Guidelines Section 15301(c) for transit or bicycle improvements or minor changes to existing facilities), or the physical impacts would not differ from the type of infill impacts already extensively analyzed in the Housing Element EIR. Potential environmental impacts of construction and operation of infill development (residential and mixed use) of all size and scale in locations throughout the City are evaluated in the Housing Element EIR, and impacts from the construction activities associated with the new programs would not be different from those analyzed in the EIR. It is not foreseeable that impacts from physical activities associated with implementation programs would have greater or different impacts than those identified in the Housing Element EIR for construction or operations. Similar to other types of development, construction activities could contribute to significant impacts, such as to historic resource and construction noise and vibration similar to those identified in Sections 4.4, Cultural Resources, and 4.10, Noise, of the Housing Element EIR. Based on the urban location and the relatively small size that would be likely to occur for any construction activities, their construction or expansion would likely qualify for an infill exemption or result in less–than-significant impacts with standard regulatory compliance measures and project specific design features or project specific mitigation measures identified through environmental review.

To the extent that any significant impacts could result from the unique characteristics of a specific site where construction activities may occur, those impacts would be speculative at this time. Additionally, as discussed many of these programs or program components, such as the Downtown Los Angeles Mobility Investment Plan (DTLA MIP) identified in Program 133, involve previous City commitments and existing ongoing programs, and as such their inclusion in the Housing Element would not foreseeably change the environment.

Therefore, program modifications and additions included in the Proposed Project would not result in a change to the Housing Element EIR, and would not have new or more severe significant impacts than those previously identified and analyzed in the EIR.

Conclusion

Based on the analysis presented above, the Proposed Project would not result in 1) substantial changes that require major revisions to the Housing Element EIR related to new or more severe significant impacts; 2) substantial changes to circumstances that require a major revision to the Housing Element EIR, related to new or more severe significant effects; or 3) new information of substantial importance regarding worsened significant effects, mitigation measures or alternatives now found to be feasible; or new mitigation measures or alternatives which are considerably different from those analyzed in the Housing Element EIR. Therefore, the Proposed Project does not trigger any of the conditions that require the preparation of a Subsequent or Supplemental EIR in Sections 15162 and 15163 of the CEQA Guidelines, and therefore the City finds that the Proposed Project was adequately analyzed in the Housing Element EIR and no further analysis beyond that contained herein is required.

Dear Vincent Bertoni:

RE: City of Los Angeles 6th Cycle (2021-2029) Adopted Housing Element

Thank you for submitting the City of Los Angeles (City) housing element adopted on November 24, 2021 and received for review on November 24, 2021. Pursuant to Government Code section 65585, subdivision (h), the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) is reporting the results of its review. In addition, HCD considered comments from Alliance for Community Transit – Los Angeles (ACT-LA) and a coalition of 24 community organizations, Tieira Ryder and Abundant Housing LA pursuant to Government Code section 65585, subdivision (c).

The adopted housing element addresses most statutory requirements described in HCD's September 3, 2021, review. For example, HCD applauds the substantial rezoning program and actions to facilitate housing choices, affordability and supply, the element now demonstrates adequate sites to accommodate the regional housing need allocation. However, an additional revision is necessary to fully comply with State Housing Element Law, as follows:

> Affirmatively further[ing] fair housing in accordance with Chapter 15 (commencing with Section 8899.50) of Division 1 of Title 2…shall include an assessment of fair housing in the jurisdiction. (Gov. Code, § 65583, subd. (c)(10)(A).)
> Promote and affirmatively further fair housing opportunities and promote housing throughout the community or communities for all persons regardless of race, religion, sex, marital status, ancestry, national origin, color, familial status, or disability, and other characteristics protected by the California Fair Employment and Housing Act (Part 2.8 (commencing with Section 12900) of Division 3 of Title 2), Section 65008, and any other state and federal fair housing and planning law. (Gov. Code, § 65583, subd. (c)(5).)

Goals, Priorities, Metrics, and Milestones: Programs and actions must include metrics and milestones to target significant and meaningful affirmatively furthering fair housing (AFFH) outcomes and evaluate the effectiveness and progress towards implementation. While the element included metrics for some programs, it did not include metrics for most programs related to AFFH. In addition, many actions do not appear to explicitly AFFH such as targeting geographic areas or neighborhoods. Without these components, whether the element is targeting meaningful outcomes is unclear, particularly related to place-based strategies to encourage community revitalization. Examples of programs that should be revised include Programs 10 (Affordable Housing Linkage Fee), 20 (New Local Revenue), 22 (Systematic Code Enforcement), 30 (New Models of Acquisition and Rehabilitation), 84 (Citywide Fair Housing Program) 88 (Eviction Defense Program) and 90 (Tenant/Community Opportunity).

In addition, while the element included some actions to replace segregated patterns, these actions, lacked specific geographic focus (communities with fair housing issues), firm commitments and significant targets for AFFH outcomes. Given the patterns and trends and other relevant factors noted in the assessment of fair housing, the element must include specific and significant actions that adequately promote community revitalization and conservation and replace segregated living patterns to foster more inclusive and equitable communities.

The element will meet the statutory requirements of State Housing Element Law once it has been revised and re-adopted to comply with the above requirements.

As a reminder, the City's 6th cycle housing element was due October 15, 2021. As of today, the City has not completed the housing element process for the 6th cycle. The City's 5th cycle housing element no longer satisfies statutory requirements. HCD encourages the City to revise the element as described in this letter, re-adopt, and submit to HCD to regain housing element compliance. For more information on housing element adoption requirements, please visit HCD's website at: http://www.hcd.ca.gov/community-development/housing-element/housing-element-memos/docs/sb375_final100413.pdf.

For your information, pursuant to Assembly Bill 1398 (Chapter 358, Statutes of 2021), if a local government fails to adopt a compliant housing element within 120 days of the statutory deadline (October 15, 2021), then any rezoning to accommodate the regional housing needs allocation (RHNA), including for lower-income households, shall be completed no later than one year from the statutory deadline. Otherwise, the local government's housing element will no longer comply with State Housing Element Law, and HCD may revoke its finding of substantial compliance pursuant to Government Code section 65585, subdivision (i).

Several federal, state, and regional funding programs consider housing element compliance as an eligibility or ranking criteria. For example, the CalTrans Senate Bill (SB) 1 Sustainable Communities grant; the Strategic Growth Council and HCD's Affordable Housing and Sustainable Communities programs; and HCD's Permanent Local Housing Allocation and Prohousing Incentive Program consider housing element compliance and/or annual reporting requirements pursuant to Government Code section 65400. With a compliant housing element, the City will meet housing element requirements for these and other funding sources.

For your information, some general plan element updates are triggered by housing element adoption. HCD reminds the City to consider timing provisions and welcomes the opportunity to provide assistance. For information, please see the Technical Advisories issued by the Governor's Office of Planning and Research at: http://opr.ca.gov/docs/OPR_Appendix_C_final.pdf and http://opr.ca.gov/docs/Final_6.26.15.pdf.

HCD appreciates the continued dedication and effort the City's team including Blair Smith, Matthew Glesne, Cally Hardy, Jackie Cornejo, Maya Abood, Nancy Twum-Akwaboah and Ann Sewill provided. We are committed to assisting the City in addressing all statutory requirements of State Housing Element Law. Vincent Bertoni, Director
Department of City Planning
City of Los Angeles
Los Angeles City Hall
200 North Spring Street, Suite 525
Los Angeles, CA 90012

Dear Vincent Bertoni:

RE: City of Los Angeles 6TH Cycle (2021-2029) Revised Draft Housing Element

Thank you for submitting the City of Los Angeles (City) revised draft housing element update received for review on April 28, 2022. Pursuant to Government Code section 65585, subdivision (b), the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) is reporting the results of its review.

The revised draft element meets the statutory requirements described in HCD's February 22, 2022 review. The element now includes specific and significant actions, including metrics and milestones, to affirmatively further fair housing (AFFH). Among many actions, the element also now includes place-based strategies to promote community revitalization and conservation and foster more inclusive and equitable communities. As a result, the revised element will comply with State Housing Element Law (Article 10.6 of the Gov. Code) when the revisions are adopted and submitted to HCD, pursuant to Government Code section 65585. Any changes to the revised draft will be subject to additional review by HCD and may impact the finding that the revised draft meets statutory requirements. HCD encourages the City to expeditiously adopt, and submit to HCD to regain housing element compliance.

HCD applauds the City's approach to the housing element update, including the tremendous effort in planning for nearly half a million homes between now and 2029, and the bold and meaningful set of strategies put forth in pursuit of that goal. For example, the analysis to demonstrate the potential for redevelopment on nonvacant sites and aggressive rezoning to accommodate the regional housing need allocation (RHNA), including in higher opportunity areas serves as model for other California jurisdictions. HCD appreciates the City's leadership in addressing the critical housing needs of the region and state.

Public participation in the development, adoption and implementation of the housing element is essential to effective housing planning. Throughout the housing element process, the City should continue to engage the community, including organizations that represent lower-income and special needs households, by making information regularly available and considering and incorporating comments where appropriate.

Several federal, state, and regional funding programs consider housing element compliance as an eligibility or ranking criteria. For example, the Strategic Growth Council and HCD's Affordable Housing and Sustainable Communities programs, and HCD's Permanent Local Housing Allocation consider housing element compliance and/or annual reporting requirements pursuant to Government Code section 65400. With a compliant housing element, the City will meet housing element requirements for these and other funding sources. While going through the process to adopt these revisions, HCD encourages the City to continue to apply for all HCD programs. Requirements and deadlines vary by program and being in process toward adoption is not necessarily disqualifying.

HCD appreciates the hard work and dedication of Maya Abood, Matthew Glesne and the rest of the housing element update team throughout the housing element review. We are committed to assist the City in addressing all statutory requirements of State Housing Element Law. WHEREAS, on November 24, 2021 the Los Angeles City Council adopted an amendment to the Housing Element of the General Plan for the 2021-2029 planning period ("Housing Element 2021-2029"), which replaces the Housing Element that covered the period 2013 to 2021; and

WHEREAS, the Council adopted the Housing Element 2021-2029 upon finding that it was in substantial compliance with all statutory requirements; and

WHEREAS, the City is required to submit the adopted Housing Element to the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) for its review and finding as to whether the Housing Element is in substantial compliance with State Housing Element Law; and

WHEREAS, on February 22, 2022 the City received a letter from HCD stating that HCD found additional revisions were needed to the Housing Element's programs before HCD could find the Housing Element was in substantial compliance with all statutory requirements; and

WHEREAS, the Department of City Planning, working with the Housing Department, have prepared targeted revisions to the Housing Element 2021-2029, after meeting with HCD; and

WHEREAS, each time the General Plan is amended in whole or in part, the City Charter Section 555 requires the City Planning Commission must hold a public hearing and recommend approval or disapproval of the proposed amendment to the Mayor and the City Council; and

Re: Letter of Concern Regarding City of Los Angeles 6th Cycle Housing Element Update (2021-2029); Environmental Case No.: ENV-2020-6762-EIR-ADD1

Dear City of Los Angeles City Planning Commission:

On behalf of Communities for a Better Environment (CBE), we appreciate the opportunity to further comment on the City of Los Angeles 6th Cycle Housing Element Update. The City's 2021-2029 Housing Element Update (Update), adopted by the City Council on November 24, 2021, was deemed non-compliant by the California Department of Housing and Community Development's (HCD) findings letter on February 22, 2022. In response, City Planning released a set of proposed targeted amendments (TA) for public review on April 21, 2022.

We submit the comments below to help the City develop a legally compliant Housing Element that addresses both the housing and environmental justice issues facing Black, Indigenous, people of color (BIPOC) communities, and low-income communities throughout the City of Los Angeles. Further revisions to the TA will be necessary to comply with statutory requirements which HCD found that the City failed to satisfy, including: (1) affirmatively furthering fair housing (AFFH) under Government Code §65583, subd. (c)(10)(A); (2) failure to provide goals, metrics, and policies under Gov. Code §65583(b)(1); (3) failure to conduct an energy conservation analysis under Gov. Code §65583(a)(8); and (4) lack of robust community outreach under Gov. Code §65583(c)(9).

Finally, CBE urgently requests a meeting with both Planning Department and Housing Department staff to discuss ongoing concerns with the Update in more detail. We do not believe the abruptly announced six-day public comment period provided adequate opportunity for the extensive engagement that is necessary for such a consequential development. We look forward to speaking with LA City staff soon to discuss these concerns in greater detail.

I. The Targeted Amendments Fail to Achieve Sufficient Public Participation

The public comment period beginning on April 21, 2022 and ending on May 9, 2022[1] is severely inadequate in providing impacted City residents an appropriate opportunity to review and comment on the TA. According to the email received by CBE on April 21, 2022, comments could be submitted via email to housingelement@lacity.org until Friday, April 27, 2022. After which comments could be directed to cpc@lacity.org. There was no deadline noted in the email originally sent on April 21, 2022. CBE was notified via email Friday, May 6, 2022 that a public hearing is scheduled before the City Planning Commission, May 19, 2022. Based on a subsequent notice[2] regarding the TA CBE assumes that the formal public comment period ends on Monday, May 9, 2022, making the public comment period only 19 days. CBE finds this short period to be an inadequate amount of time to provide for public comment or community engagement.

[1] <https://planning.lacity.org/odocument/1e5a7688-35a5-44d6-83e2-e6b99f1b5bc0/COMMISSION_PublicHearingNoticeMay2022.pdf>, "Regular submissions—written material not limited as to volume must be received by the Commission Executive Assistant no later than the end of business day Monday of the week prior to the week of the Commission meeting. Materials must be delivered electronically to the staff and commission email identified on the front of this page." *please note that no staff or commission email was provided on the front of this notice.

Under California law, jurisdictions must develop a housing element that complies with certain statutory requirements. Per Gov. Code §65585, this includes meaningfully working to achieve public participation of all economic segments of the community, such as incorporating public comments into the housing element. Thereafter, jurisdictions must submit a draft element to HCD for review. If HCD finds that the draft element fails to comply with specified statutory requirements, the jurisdiction must amend its draft element to meet the statutory requirements. HCD has already found the City's Update non-compliant and despite the City's proposed TA it once again fails to create a statutorily compliant housing element.

We remain deeply disappointed by the City's failure to conduct an appropriate public participation process leading up to and in the process of adopting the TA. Gov. Code §65583(c)(9) requires the City "to achieve public participation of all economic segments of the community in the development of the housing element…" Given the complexity of the TA the public comment period was profoundly inadequate to secure meaningful public participation from members of all economic segments which make up the City of Los Angeles. Moreover, the TA was specifically addressing the City's plan to Affirmatively Further Fair Housing and it appears that once again the City has not engaged with community members who continue to be deeply impacted by a legacy of racist and inadequate land use planning.

The proposed TA also fails to address or incorporate the comments provided in ACT-LA's October 2020, September 2021 and March 2022 letters, regarding the initial Update adopted in November 2021 (See Attachments 1, Attachment 2, and Attachment 3). As such, the City has still not satisfied the law's requirements regarding public participation, as set forth in Government Code §65583(c)(9).

To meet these requirements, the City must consistently and diligently engage with community members about proposed amendments and revisions to the Draft Housing Element.[3] Meaningful community participation must ensure appropriate efforts are undertaken to provide equitable access for all communities. This includes, at a minimum, providing opportunities for in-person and virtual participation, including during evenings and weekends. Many low-income residents must work long daily hours to make ends meet and do not have the ability to attend daytime meetings held on weekdays. Moreover, language access must be guaranteed, including by ensuring provision of live language interpretation and/or closed captioning, for individuals with limited English proficiency and for people with disabilities, at all in-person and virtual community meetings.

II. The Targeted Amendments Lack Tangible Commitments to Affirmatively Further Fair Housing

a. Goals, Quantified Objectives, and Policies Under Government Code §65583(b)(1)

As noted in HCD's February 22, 2022 findings letter, the City's most recent Update failed to include quantified metrics on most programs related to AFFH. As such, the City does not currently comply with Gov. Code §65583(b)(1), which requires a statement of "goals, quantified objectives, and policies relative to affirmatively furthering fair housing and to the maintenance, preservation, improvement, and development of housing." The City must clearly identify its AFFH priorities and provide clear metrics and milestones to determine when and how these goals will be achieved.

For instance, the TA fail to identify a deadline by when the City must meet its goal of initiating investigations for 80 percent of habitability investigations within 72 hours of complaint receipt (Program 22, Systemic Code Enforcement). Furthermore, the TA fails to provide any metrics by which the public could track the City's progress in meeting this goal. Similarly, Program 84 (Citywide Fair Housing Program) lacks any milestones in the TA that would allow the public to gauge progress on the City's receipt of "800 fair housing inquiries, resolution of 500 investigations, and 50 trainings conducted." Even with the proposed TA, many of the programs identified in HCD's findings letter[4] still do not have concrete milestones and deadlines as required under the public reporting requirements under Gov. Code §65583(b)(1).

b. Programs Under Government Code §65583 (c)(10)(A)

Additional revisions are necessary to ensure that the proposed programs in the TA are compliant with state law. Under Gov. Code §65583, subd. (c)(10)(A), a jurisdiction must include scheduled programs to affirmatively further fair housing that, among other things, promote community revitalization and conservation, and rectify segregated living patterns, in order to spur development of more inclusive and equitable communities. The TA fails to meet this requirement by leaving out key metrics and milestones which would enable the public to evaluate the City's success in achieving these objectives. To address these concerns, the City must make further revisions to the Housing Element Update, including:

(1) Program 15: Public Land for Affordable Housing. The City should identify how many affordable housing units the City plans to create and number of households it plans to assist as part of this Program. It should also include milestones and deadlines that enable the public to track progress on the production of affordable housing under this program.

(2) Program 82: Accommodations for Persons with Disabilities. The City must do more than commit to comply with state fair housing law but should also provide timelines and deadlines for conducting trainings and making improvements to ensure the program is successful.

(3) Program 86: Tenant Anti-Harassment. The City should identify how many tenants it expects to outreach to under its Tenant Anti-Harassment Ordinance. It should also provide milestones for outreach efforts under this Ordinance. Moreover, the City should identify its target response rate for complaints and milestones to achieve such rate.

(4) Program 134: Place Based Community Revitalization Efforts. A variety of details are lacking from this program and revisions must be made to determine what actions will be taken and at what time. For instance, the program does not provide milestones for the LA REPAIR Innovation Fund and Racial Equity Audit. More specifics are needed on how the City plans to allocate Park Fees in the future and how it plans to use the Transit Oriented Communities policy to secure more affordable housing. Resiliency efforts to address the impacts from climate change also lack details, including how oil drilling, the expansion of Clean Up Green Up, and the expansion of Cool Neighborhoods will assist the City in meeting its AFFH goals.

III. Environmental Justice Must be Included in the Housing Element to Affirmatively Further Fair Housing

Access to safe and affordable housing has a direct impact on public health. The very communities facing the highest rent burden are often the same frontline communities who bear the brunt of the negative impacts brought on by multiple, intersecting crises related to housing, homelessness, and environmental racism. These health disparities are brought on by land uses based on an extractive economy that contributes to environmental degradation, industrial pollution, the climate crisis, and increased health disparities for residents living on the frontlines.

AB 686 extends the duty of state and local agencies to affirmatively further fair housing.[5] AFFH requires all public agencies must both (1) administer programs and activities relating to housing and community development in a manner that affirmatively furthers fair housing, and (2) take no action inconsistent with this duty. AFFH requires "meaningful actions, in addition to combating discrimination, that overcome patterns of segregation and foster inclusive communities free from barriers that restrict access to opportunity based on protected characteristics…"[6] Local jurisdictions can AFFH by reducing the pollution burden of environmental justice communities and addressing the negative impacts of siting and operating Locally Unwanted Land Uses (LULUs) in disadvantaged communities.

According to the Health Atlas for the City of Los Angeles, 21% (or approximately 59,000 individuals) of Southeast LA CPA residents lived adjacent to noxious land uses in 2013.[7] The Housing Element is an opportunity to ensure that housing promotes public health with land use policies that create a more productive, equitable, and healthy regenerative use of land. Therefore, the recommendations below account for issues related to access to an adequate supply of safe affordable housing and the need for climate resilient housing infrastructure.

a. Energy Conservation Analysis Under Gov. Code §65583(a)(8)

Under Gov. Code §65583(a)(8), the City must analyze "opportunities for energy conservation with respect to residential development." Jurisdictions "are [also] encouraged to include weatherization and energy efficiency improvements as part of publicly subsidized housing rehabilitation projects. This may include energy efficiency measures that encompass the building envelope, its heating and cooling systems, and its electrical system."

We are encouraged to see new policies in the TA, such as implementation of Program 68, which aims to "[t]rain and hire public housing residents to provide new solar roofs and energy efficiency retrofits to households in Watts who are income-eligible." However, the City should implement a more comprehensive analysis of available energy conservation opportunities that reach citywide and effectively serve all residents. In addition, the City should prepare supportive services and programs to ensure that the cost of transitioning to cleaner and more sustainable energy sources does not burden low-income tenants who are already struggling to pay rent and cover basic living expenses.

b. Brownfield Remediation

We remain concerned with the City's proposal to use brownfields for very low- and low-income units under Program 14: Remediation of Environmental Hazards. While we support remediation of brownfield sites in environmental justice communities, we believe that the City should engage in a thoughtful process with negatively impacted communities to determine whether affordable housing is the correct choice for the proposed sites the City expects to consider under this program. Given the health and environmental dangers that inadequate remediations pose on residents, the City should revise the program to ensure a comprehensive analysis of the level of contamination found on the proposed sites and require that the best available remediation method—beyond what is already required by the Department of Toxic Substances Control— are always undertaken for all proposed housing projects.

c. Building Decarbonization

CBE is a member of the Leap/RePower coalition and has been working to build decarbonization efforts in the City. The Update creates a plan to provide more housing units in the City, however the Update does not explicitly include the path to decarbonization. The City is well aware that climate change is rapidly-worsening and harming communities throughout Los Angeles, particularly low-income renters and communities of color, who disproportionately experience the impacts of extreme heat, pollution, and environmental degradation. In Los Angeles buildings make up 43% of carbon emissions. As a result, the City has made a commitment to reduce those emissions through building decarbonization. However, the must City ensure that it is not low-income communities who are left with higher energy bills and worse air quality due to the disparity in access to energy efficiency programs. The costs of decarbonizing buildings where renters live threaten to exacerbate the unprecedented housing and homelessness crisis in Los Angeles, where nearly 73 percent of renters are "housing burdened" and 21 percent of renters are "energy burdened."[8] The Update is an opportunity to equitably apply a building decarbonization policy in new and existing housing. In ensuring environmental justice in this regard, the City would also be affirmatively furthering fair housing.

IV. Recommendations to the Department of City Planning and the Los Angeles Housing Department

Lastly, we urge the Department of City Planning to:

(1) Health Impact Assessments: Integrate health impact assessments into environmental impact reviews (EIRs), evaluating proximity to industrial land use/brownfields; health impacts of exposure to industrial and other noxious land uses; displacement impacts; and risk of increased evictions, homelessness, and susceptibility to overcrowded and substandard housing.
(2) REAP: Identify ways to ensure the Rent Escrow Account Program (REAP) is meeting its intended goals.
(3) Healthy Homes: Ensure all appropriate City departments are trained to identify and address environmental hazards, including, but not limited to mold, asbestos, and lead hazards affecting tenants, and develop strategies to prevent and mitigate the negative health impacts of repair or construction work that may release environmental hazards, including providing meaningful relocation assistance at the expense of the property owners, and enforcing tenants' right to return to their repaired rental units.
(4) Receivership Program: As a deterrent to slum housing practices and to facilitate community ownership goals, establish a receivership program for properties in REAP that do not achieve compliance so that tenant groups, CLTs and social housing entities can act as receivers and stewards of delinquent properties.
(5) Health and Habitability Training and Outreach: Require property owners and property managers to undergo training on responsible management of environmental hazards and tenants' right to live in habitable housing, and partner with community-based organizations to assist in outreach to tenants to inform them of their rights to live in habitable housing, regardless of income, race, or immigration status.
(6) Healthy Development Standards: Identify and adopt development standards that promote healthy air and water quality.
(7) Use an EJ lens in Planning: Integrate the CalEnviroScreen into land use planning to target critical investments increasing access to affordable housing in underserved and highly impacted areas.

(8) Industrial sites/brownfield sites: Advance new standards such as requiring EIRs to include health impact assessment for a 2-mile radius; enhanced site remediation and polluter accountability strategies; prevent development in proximity to brownfield sites until full EIR/HIA and remediation is done; provide support to affordable housing developments for environmental review and remediation, including identifying funding opportunities based on polluter-pay principles.
(9) EJ in infrastructure: Work with the City's Climate Emergency Mobilization Department to ensure infrastructure alignment with principles of environmental justice and a just transition framework that puts an end to environmental racism and, thus, the displacement of low-income communities and communities of color, and uplifts public health through affordable housing.
(10) Education and training: Train City departments, property owners, and property managers on tenants' rights to live in habitable housing, the health effects of environmental hazard exposure, and appropriate management of environmental hazards such as lead and asbestos to prevent tenant exposure.
(11) Land use compatibility: Prevent instances of incompatible land use by establishing strict health and safety buffers between hazardous and sensitive land uses, including a 2500-foot health and human safety buffer between oil extraction sites and sensitive land uses, and at least a 500-foot buffer between other noxious land uses, such as auto-related uses, and sensitive land uses
(12) Green and Renewables Infrastructure: The City should convene stakeholders to develop green and renewable energy standards for housing development.

Sincerely,

Housing Jobs & Transit for All

October 20, 2020

Re: Program and Policy Recommendations for the 2021-29 Housing Element

Dear City of Los Angeles Planning Department and Housing and Community Investment Department:

The Alliance for Community Transit (ACT-LA) is a city-wide coalition of 38 organizations working at the forefront of racial, environmental, and economic justice. Our coalition members include tenants' rights organizations, affordable housing developers, workers' centers, public interest law firms, and public health advocates, among many others. Thanks to our coalition's diversity, we view housing policy through an intersectional lens. Our mission is to uplift communities—through affordable housing opportunities, good jobs and access to high quality public transit—as the Southland transforms into a more sustainable region. Given our commitment to equity, we believe that low-income communities and communities of color must be centered in decisions that seek to transform our neighborhoods.

The Housing Element is a tremendous opportunity to ensure that as Los Angeles grows, it does so in an equitable and sustainable fashion. At the same time, the past year has demonstrated that we simply cannot afford to mask, ignore, or deepen, the negative human and environmental impacts of the affordable housing, racial injustice, and public health crises in Los Angeles. With many of ACT-LA's member organizations serving on the Housing Element Task Force, or otherwise engaged in community planning and other land use plans or policy-making, the following recommendations represent our shared vision for Housing Element Goals, Policies and Programs that will advance racial equity, smart growth, and community preservation. We will provide additional input on the suitable sites inventory in forthcoming correspondence.

Background

It is abundantly clear that Los Angeles is in the midst of an affordable housing crisis. According to the "Housing Element 2021-29" presentation developed by the Los Angeles Housing and Community Investment Department (HCIDLA) and the Los Angeles Planning Department, nearly 6 in 10 renters in Los Angeles struggle to pay rent, and more than 30% are severely rent burdened. This results in a sizable part of our city struggling to buy groceries or cover their transportation costs. Displacement pressures are already extremely high for the majority of renting Angelenos, with many families living on the edge of losing their home.

This profound housing instability is why Los Angeles now has the highest number of unsheltered people experiencing homelessness in the country. According to LAHSA's most recent Homelessness Count, homelessness in the City of Los Angeles increased 14% this past year. And, homelessness does not impact all populations equally. Black Angelenas continue to be 4 times more likely to experience homelessness than their white counterparts. Youth homelessness increased 24% this past year. Since public benefits and wage levels have not kept up with housing costs, family homelessness is expected to increase. More than half of unsheltered adults counted this past year are on their first episode of homelessness, which indicates that even as we create new housing opportunities for the unhoused, the housing crisis is forcing yet more of our neighbors onto the street or into their cars.

These dire conditions demand bold action. HCIDLA's "Displacement Index" clearly shows that rent burdened households are concentrated in Central LA, South LA, East LA, Northeast LA, and significant portions of the San Fernando Valley. These communities must therefore be prioritized for displacement prevention policies. The policies outlined below articulate ACT-LA's shared vision for how the Housing Element can and should address the affordable housing and homelessness crises, and protect vulnerable residents.

Our Regional Housing Needs Assessment (RHNA) goal requires the city produce about 32,000 units per year at various levels of affordability, and yet LA has been averaging about only 1,100 affordable units a year. We have failed as a city to come close to meeting the affordable housing goals set out in the last Housing Element. Meanwhile, market rate units have indeed been built, some of which are still sitting empty. And between 2001 and 2019, over 26,500 units - over 3% of the total rent-controlled housing stock (which makes up roughly 75% of rental housing in Los Angeles) were taken off the rental market using the Ellis Act.

The City must prioritize programs and policies that create and preserve the housing Los Angeles needs the most: units affordable to deeply, extremely and very low-income households.Without a significant commitment to policies and programs that result in deeply affordable units at scale, address vacancy issues in new units, and stabilize communities at risk of displacement, simply building a large number of units will not stem the severe housing crisis we are in.

Summary of Recommendations

ACT-LA has outlined six overarching priorities to guide the City's work in meeting housing needs while also protecting vulnerable residents and the environment. Each priority consists of subsections, which include recommended policies and programs to further these priorities. ACT-LA's six priorities for the Housing Element are: (1) Preserve Affordable and Rent-stabilized Housing; (2) Strengthen Tenant Protections; (3) Facilitate Investment in Social Housing, Community Land Trusts, and Strategic Land Acquisitions; (4) Increase Supply of Deeply Affordable Housing; (5) Further Environmental Justice and Improve Climate Resilience and Community Health; and (6) Ensure Meaningful Community Participation and Capacity Building.

Some of the following recommendations are similar to recommendations we made during the creation and adoption of the City of LA's Assessment of Fair Housing Plan. Given the conclusions researchers have made about the transformative nature of access to high opportunity areas for low-income families, we encourage a particular emphasis on goals, objectives, programs, and policies that desegregate Los Angeles and ensure that high opportunity areas actually create opportunity for people of color and low-income families.

1. PRESERVE AFFORDABLE AND RENT STABILIZED HOUSING

Preserving affordable housing—whether subsidized or naturally-occurring—is necessary to achieve housing policy goals and to ensure an equitable and inclusive city. This requires specific Housing Element goals, policies and programs aimed at eliminating the loss of affordable and rent stabilized units due to demolition or conversion, adequately monitoring our affordable housing inventory, and carefully assessing and mitigating the risk of homelessness before it occurs.

a. Regulate demolition and condo conversions.

Demolitions and condo conversions are city-regulated processes that often precede the direct displacement of tenants, often low-income renters of color. The City should follow the lead of other jurisdictions in California and set an annual allowance for the number of demolitions and condo conversions in a given area, such as a Community Plan Area. In addition, HCIDLA and the Planning Department should work with the LA Department of Building and Safety to ensure that demolitions are properly tracked and labeled. Currently, it is difficult for the data to be tracked from Planning Application to demolition and construction as permits go through various agencies such as DCP, LADBS and HCIDLA. Furthermore, to protect against premature demolition, the City should require that demolition permits be granted only after all building permits have been issued. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to effectively regulate demolitions and condo conversions, including but not limited to the following.

- Residential Conversion Annual Allowance. Establish an annual allowance for the number of condo conversions in a given Community Plan Area.
- Residential Demolition Annual Allowance. Establish an annual allowance for the number of residential units demolished in the Community Plan Area.
- Limit Residential Conversions. Residential Conversion Projects, as defined in LAMC Section 12.95.2, shall be denied if the vacancy rate in the Community Plan Area is five percent or less or if the cumulative effect on the rental housing market is significant.
- Restrict Residential Demolition Permits. No permit for residential demolition in the Community Plan Area shall be issued unless all necessary building permits have been issued for new construction on the site.

b. Ensure "No Net Loss" of affordable housing.

Achieving a net gain of affordable housing requires that the City: (a) preserve existing affordable housing; (b) replace affordable housing lost due to new development and ensure right of return; and (c) incentivize new affordable housing production. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to effectively ensure no-net-loss of affordable housing, including but not limited to the following.

- Area-wide No Net Loss. For each Community Plan Area (CPA), create and monitor an inventory of units subject to a recorded covenant, ordinance or law that restricts rents to levels affordable to lower-income households, including Low-income, Very Low-Income, Extremely Low-Income and Deeply Low-Income; subject to the Rent Stabilization Ordinance or AB 1482; and/or occupied by lower-income households. Publish an annual report of the affordable housing inventory, including the total number of units, affordability level, as well as the frequency and location of Ellis Act evictions, condominium conversions, and/or residential demolitions within the CPA. If an annual report demonstrates a reduction in the inventory within any affordability category, the City should: (a), create a Recovery Action Plan with specific programs and investments to prevent further loss and to increase affordable housing production in the area; and (b) require applications for discretionary land use approvals in the CPA to include a Displacement Impact Report. These provisions would apply until an annual report demonstrates that that particular loss has been recovered.

- Site-specific No Net Loss. All new construction should replace any housing demolished that was affordable to or occupied by lower-income households, or subject to LARSO or AB 1482. Replacement requirements should include housing affordable to or occupied by deeply low-income households at the 15% AMI level (in addition to 30%, 50% and 80% AMI levels). Over 10% of renter households in LA County fall into the 0-15% AMI range and cannot afford rents set to the 30% AMI level.[1]
- Right of Return to Newly-Constructed Affordable and/or Rent-Controlled Units. Households displaced due to demolition or condominium conversion should be offered and have the first right of refusal on leases in the new units whenever possible.
- Enhance HCIDLA's Ellis Act Report Dashboard. HCIDLA recently released an Ellis Act Report Dashboard[2] which tracks the number of units withdrawn under the Ellis Act and the number of units added. This dashboard will be a valuable tool and should be improved to include all replacement unit data, as well as information regarding units withdrawn and added from Conditional Use Permits, the Transit Oriented Communities Program, By Right Developments, SB 330 and other entitlement applications.
- Preserve Expiring Covenants. Coordinate with relevant agencies to ensure the renewal of expiring affordable housing covenants and promote opportunities for tenant purchase or acquisition of units with expiring covenants by affordable housing developers, community-based organizations, or community land trusts to achieve affordability in perpetuity.

c. Assess and mitigate risk of homelessness.

A large part of the City's current homelessness crisis is being driven by unaffordable housing, which is exacerbated by rising rents and results in evictions. The City's plans to meet its RHNA allocation through the community plan updates are primarily focused on increasing the supply of market rate housing which is far out of reach of our poorest residents and residents at highest risk of displacement and homelessness. To prevent these planned investments from exacerbating the homelessness crisis, the Housing Element should include policies and programs to effectively identify and mitigate homelessness risk, including but not limited to the following.

- Homelssness Risk Assessment. As part of each community plan update or major economic development project, the City must do an analysis to identify the number of residents at risk of homelessness utilizing HCIDLA's "Displacement Index," as well as the Homelessness

[1] https://chpc.net/resources/los-angeles-county-annual-affordable-housing-outcomes-dashboard-2020/
[2] https://hcidla2.lacity.org/ellis

Management Informations System (HMIS) used by HUD in developing their Annual Homelessness Assessment (AHAR) Report, and other data sources. Used together, the city should develop a predictive model for analyzing where risk is likely to increase due to proposed public and private investment.

- Adopt Protective Measures to Mitigate Identified Risk of Homelessnes. Based on the findings of the homelessness risk assessment, the City should adopt key protective measures such as increasing proactive enforcement of tenants rights regulations and developing policies to preserve and increase the supply of deeply affordable housing. In addition, these reports should also identify hotels and motels—those currently on the market for sale or those that can be acquired through eminent domain[3]—in at-risk areas that could potentially be acquired and converted to affordable housing, without displacing residents that rely on hotels and motels for housing.
- Preserve Residential Hotels. Prevent the conversion or demolition of residential hotels and enforce the rights of residential hotel tenants through additional resources and proactive enforcement of the Residential Hotel Ordinance and Wiggins Settlement.

2. STRENGTHEN TENANT PROTECTIONS

Displacement is a direct cause of houselessness and a destructive force in low income communities and communities of color. The Housing Element must address displacement risks head-on and include Goals, Policies and Programs that create real tools to minimize displacement and promote community stability.

a. Ensure housing opportunities are accessible to all residents without discrimination on the basis of race, income, ancestry, sex, national origin, religion, sexual orientation, maritial/familial status, age, or disability.

Despite the passage of SB329, housing voucher recipients continue to face discrimination from landlords, particularly in opportunity-rich communities. And, while the City's "211LA" program allows tenants to file reports of illegal rent increases, it does not go far enough in proactively monitoring compliance among the City's existing stock of RSO units. In order to strengthen RSO enforcement as well as the antidiscrmination provisions created by SB329, the City of Los Angeles must direct HCID to: offer outreach and education services to landlords and tenants so they are familiar with the new law's requirements, and establish testers, administrative complaint mechanisms, and hearing officers to identify unlawful practices. Such measures will allow HCID to more adequately report violations; collect, investigate, and remedy complaints; perform regular testing to ensure compliance; and report publicly on the number of complaints and resolutions, testing results, and the overall effectiveness of SB329's implementation. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to strengen enforcement of tenant protection and discrimination laws, including but not limited to the following.

- Publicize SB 329 anti-discirimation protections. Establish outreach and education services to landlords and tenants regarding SB329 source-of-income anti-discrimination measures
- Increase investigation and prosecution of source-of-income discrimination. Develop proactive enforcement mechanisms, such as testers and hearing officers, to identify and prosecute source-of-income discrimination.

b. Prevent tenant harassment.

Strong tenant protections can be undermined if unscrupulous landlords push tenants out of their homes through harassment and intimidation. The City should enact a robust tenant anti-harassment ordinance (TAHO) that includes substantial statutory penalties to deter such tactics. To ensure efficacy, the anti-harassment ordinance must have strong enforcement mechanisms that provide both a private right of action for tenants and dedicated HCID staffing. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to prevent tenant harassment, including but not limited to the following.

- Enact a Tenant Anti-Harassment Ordinance. Enact a Tenant Anti-Harassment Ordinance with a comprehensive definition of harassment, strong statutory penalties and an enforcement program that consists of dedicated staffing.
- Improve tracking and reporting tenant harassment complaints.Track harassment complaints monthly and by Council District.
- Prosecute repeat offenders. Initiate legal action against repeat offenders of the TAHO to prevent harm and ensure compliance.

c. Prevent Displacement of Vulnerable Tenants by Strengthening the City's Rent Stabilization Ordinance and Just-Cause Eviction Protections.

State law and the City's Rent Stabilization Ordinance currently leave many Los Angeles tenants without protection from arbitrary or unjust evictions. Whether or not a tenant can be evicted should not depend on the year their housing was built or what kind of entity owns their building. All tenants should have the guarantee that, if they pay their rent on time and abide by their lease, they will not be evicted. And, if they are evicted for no fault of their own, they will receive relocation assistance to help find new housing.

In many circumstances, the annual allowable rent increase under the city's rent stabilization ordinance significantly exceeds the rate of inflation. Allowing rent to increase faster than inflation leaves tenants in gentrifying neighborhoods vulnerable to indirect displacement if new, predominantly market-rate, projects drive up neighborhood rents. The Housing Element should direct the City Council to amend the Rent Stabilization Ordinance to reduce the annual allowable rent increase to a percentage of inflation, similar to the Santa Monica and West Hollywood ordinances.

Furthermore, allowing landlords of master-metered units to impose even larger rent increases creates significant displacement pressure and gives landlords an incentive not to upgrade their gas and electric utilities. Tenants in master-metered units should have the same protections against large rent increases as any other tenant. And, it is well established that households on master-meter utilities use more energy than individually metered households. Removing the incentive to maintain master-metered utilities will protect tenants from large rent increases and remove the disincentive for landlords to upgrade their gas and electric systems, benefiting both the tenant and the environment.

Lastly, in response to the acute displacement pressures brought on by the COVID19 pandemic, the City appropriated significant funding for tenant outreach and education and legal defense for tenants facing eviction. Yet, the funding currently available will reach only a small percentage of tenants impacted by housing instability. Furthermore, the economic impacts of COVID19 on low-income Angelenos are likely to last many years. In addition, according to a recent report conducted by Stout, the City of Los Angeles saves $3.50 for every $1 invested in eviction representation. Codifying a tenant's right to counsel will therefore not only advance economic justice in the City but also do so in a way that is financially sustainable. Providing a guaranteed right to an attorney will act as a strong deterrent against the thousands of baseless evictions filed and executed each year, dramatically reduce housing instability, and reduce in-flows to homelessness. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to strengthen the City's RSO and Just-Cause eviction protections, including but not limited to the following.

- Expand just-cause eviction protections to cover all tenants. Expand just-cause eviction protections to cover all tenants in the City of Los Angeles and establish a corresponding enforcement program.
- Reduce the annual allowable rent increase under the RSO. Reduce the annual allowable rent increase, and close the "master-metered loophole," in the City's Rent Stabilization Ordinance to help address indirect displacement in gentrifying neighborhoods and encourage energy conservation.
- Codify a tenant's right to counsel in an eviction proceeding. Codify a tenant's right to counsel that guarantees access to an attorney to all tenants who face an eviction.
- Create a permanent tenant education program. Create a permanent tenant education program to inform tenants of their rights and how to access eviction defense resources.
- Explore additional opportunities that strengthen the RSO. Explore amendments to the City's RSO to restrict allowable grounds for eviction, including restrictions on eviction for failure to pay and policies to alleviate rent-debt.

3. INVEST IN SOCIAL HOUSING, COMMUNITY LAND TRUSTS, AND STRATEGIC LAND ACQUISITION

We cannot rely on status quo policies to dig ourselves out of this unprecedented affordable housing crisis. Instead, the Housing Element must be the vehicle to drive LA housing policy into a new future that reimagines social housing and brings land into community control in order to produce the permanent deeply affordable housing that Angelenos so desperately need.

a. Facilitate and invest in a Social Housing program that preserves and creates new permanent affordable housing at all levels of affordability, especially the deepest levels of affordability that reach 30% AMI, 15% AMI, 10% AMI and below.

Currently, most renters in Los Angeles are rent burdened and high rents have become a clear driver of homelessness. The City must dramatically expand its supply of Social Housing to shield low-income residents from an increasingly unaffordable rental market and provide long-term stability for both households and neighborhoods. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to effectively expand the supply of deeply affordable Social Housing, including but not limited to the following.

- Expand the acquisition and use of publicly- and privately-owned land for the use of Social Housing. Acquire land for Social Housing and designate Social Housing - including but not limited to community ownership models (see below) as the primary intended use for surplus or underutilized public land in the City. Coordinate with City, County, State, Metro and other public agencies to identify sites for disposition for Social Housing development and/or community control through neighborhood-based nonprofit ownership.
- Facilitate innovative models of Social Housing. Facilitate innovative models that seek to lower costs while providing quality housing and supporting family-supporting wages.
- Explore establishing a multijurisdictional joint authority to facilitate Social Housing. Explore opportunities for land assembly across jurisdictions through establishment of a multijurisdictional joint authority that can purchase, assemble, remediate, and entitle land for social housing production and preservation.
- Increase access to financing for Social Housing. Create, and/or partner with other public agencies and private lending institutions to facilitate, low-cost financing opportunities for social housing developers, neighborhood-based nonprofit cdcs, land stewards, homeowners, resident associations, and housing cooperative shareholders.
- Remove limits on the number of public housing units allowed in each council district. Take any legal or electoral steps required to remove any limitations on the number of public housing units allowed per council district.
- Explore new funding and revenue sources for Social Housing. Research all available and/or potential funding sources for social housing and actively seek funding opportunities, including partnering with state and federal agencies or electeds on creating new programs and funding opportunities. Pursue the creation of new revenue sources, including but not limited to new taxes - particularly those that serve to limit residential vacancies and speculative land flipping - as well as the potential use of a newly-created public bank to facilitate financing.

b. Advance community ownership models of affordable housing, such as community land trusts, housing cooperatives and other strategies that create permanent affordability and opportunities for renters and unhoused residents to build equity through ownership.

Rents paid by tenants to corporate landlords benefit a corporation's profit margin rather than Los Angeles neighborhoods and families. In order to keep wealth within our communities, provide permanent affordability and provide equity opportunities to households with low incomes, we must scale up community ownership models of affordable housing. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to effectively expand community ownership models, including but not limited to the following.

- Dedicate publicly owned land to community land-trusts. Dedicate publicly owned land to CLTs who can provide affordable housing in perpetuity by owning land and leasing it to those who live in units built on that land, and/or offer subsidies for the purchase of land and/or house construction by CLTs[4].

- Remove zoning and land use barriers to CLT development. Consult with existing CLTs to identify ways to remove zoning and land use barriers to future CLT development.
- Convey land to CLTs. Convey city-owned, surplus, and abandoned properties to a CLT including land acquired, remediated, and readied for development by a public agency, land bank or redevelopment authority; surplus land acquired by the city for the construction of roads, schools, bike paths, municipal buildings, public housing, etc.; underutilized surface parking lots; surplus fire stations, school buildings, or other buildings owned by the City; and, abandoned buildings.
- Facilitate transfer of tax foreclosed properties to CLTs. Partner with County of Los Angeles' Treasurer and Tax Collector to facilitate transfer of tax foreclosed residential, mixed-use and vacant properties located within the City to CLTs, subsidize rehabilitation, and support a path to ownership for any current residents.
- Prioritize funding to permanently affordable housing. Redirect existing funding toward affordable housing with permanent affordability via threshold criteria or preferential scoring in the distribution of federal, state, and municipal housing funds for the construction, rehabilitation, or financing of affordably priced homes that are owner-occupied, renter-occupied, or owned and managed as a limited equity cooperative.
- Increase CLT use of current acquisition and rehabilitation programs. Engage CLTs and their lending and development partners in evaluating the City's current funding programs for acquisition and rehabilitation of naturally occurring affordable housing (NOAH) and at-risk deed-restricted multifamily properties, and institute resultant recommendations in order to increase CLT utilization of existing and future NOAH programs.
- Design land use incentives to expand CLTs. Award density bonuses, and/or grant regulatory concessions and design any new inclusionary zoning program in a manner that steers units into CLT portfolios and covers a portion of CLT cost of stewardship.
- Expand funding for CLTs. Research all available and/or potential funding sources for CLTs and actively seek funding opportunities, including partnering with state and federal agencies or electeds on creating new programs and funding opportunities. Pursue the creation of new revenue sources, including but not limited to new taxes - particularly those that serve to limit residential vacancies and speculative land flipping - as well as the potential use of a newly-created public bank to facilitate financing
- Foster new CLTs through technical assistance. Foster the development of new CLTs in the City through allocating City resources for tenant engagement, tenant-ownership training, legal counsel, and CLT technical assistance.
- Transfer properties in receivership to CLTs. Establish a receivership program to facilitate the transfer of ownership of properties in receivership to CLTs.

[4] A recent motion introduced by Councilmembers Buscaino, Krekorian, Martinez, and O'Farrell to explore such a strategy is an important first step. However, in addition to partnering with local CLTs, it is crucial that the City Planning Department support these efforts by identifying and committing land for this purpose in high-opportunity neighborhoods. In addition a motion authored by Councilmember Marqueece Harris Dawson, Cedillo, Wesson also explores donating surplus land to Community Land Trusts for the purpose of affordable housing

c. Limit the speculative use of land and property by extractive investors and corporate entities

During the Great Recession, American households lost trillions in wealth and millions of homes were foreclosed. Black and Latino homeowners were 71 to 76 percent more likely to lose their homes after the crash than white homeowners.[5] After the Great Recession, private equity firms invested upwards of $20 billion to purchase more than 200,000 homes nationwide; they converted owner-occupied homes to rental properties and created new financial instruments to trade rental income streams on Wall Street. This transfer of wealth from LA families to Wall Street further entrenched the racial wealth gap and led to increased neighborhood instability. Especially given the economic crisis caused by Covid-19, the City of LA must be doing everything possible to avoid a similar trend in the coming years. The Housing Element should include policies and programs that accelerate an affordable housing acquisition strategy of single family, multifamily and commercial properties, including but not limited to the following.

- Create Anti-Displacement Overlay Zones. Apply strong displacement protections where federal, state or local incentive programs drive new development. For instance, the federal Opportunity Zones program provides catalytic development incentives in census tracts that are among the most vulnerable neighborhoods in the City. Yet, this federal tax program stimulates provides no guidelines to protect communities. Local regulation can provide necessary protections to keep neighborhoods stable and healthy.
- Enact disclosure requirements for property owners Enact disclosure requirements for LLCs, LLPs, LPs and other corporate or non-individual ownership designations to ensure public transparency and understanding regarding the business practices by corporate owners of housing and land.
- Prosecute predatory landlords and developers. Deepen local institutional capacity to investigate and pursue affirmative cases against landlords with predatory patterns of behavior like frequent/malicious evictions, unlawful evictions, poor habitability records, tenant harassment issues, and violations of RSO, and disclose such records to the public.
- Tax and regulate large real estate portfolios. Adopt regulatory and revenue generating policies to disincentivize the accumulation of large real estate portfolios. These may include policies such as a vacancy tax, a flipping tax, and Out-of-State Property Transaction tax.

d. Facilitate Acquisition of Land and Housing for Community Benefit.

Right of Refusal programs can help preserve the ongoing affordability of dedicated affordable rental housing by giving priority consideration to mission-oriented buyers when the owner of a subsidized rental property decides to stop participating in a subsidy program. They can also be applied to unsubsidized rental properties, helping to preserve the availability of rental units and in some cases facilitate conversion to dedicated affordable rentals. Eligible buyers may include tenant associations, nonprofit and for-profit developers, and/or state or local government agencies. To establish such a program first requires that the City Council pass an ordinance establishing a TOPA/COPA policy.

Once the policy framework is established, tenants trying to exercise the right of first refusal will typically need substantial financial and technical assistance to make a successful offer. HCID should establish a technical assistance program that educates tenants on their Cities may also want to identify non-profit organizations that have experience conducting preservation transactions and can act as partners to help tenant associations throughout the process

By creating a right of first offer and a right of first refusal for current tenants and qualified organizations to purchase for-sale rental properties, and supporting the exercise of these rights, the City can help keep property in community hands and remove housing from the speculative market. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to adopt and implement an Opportunity to Purchase policy, including but not limited to the following.

- Adopt an Opportunity to Purchase Ordinance. Direct City Council to adopt an ordinance creating an Opportunity to Purchase policy containing a right of first offer and right of first refusal of for-sale rental property for current tenants and qualified organizations, including Community Land Trusts, neighborhood-based CDCs, tenant organizations, nonprofit organizations, public agencies, and other entities who commit to permanent affordability. Qualified purchasers should have an exclusive window to offer to purchase rental property and secure financing. If these qualified offers are rejected, the same purchasers should have the right to match any third party offers to sell the same property.
- Support Opportunity to Purchase with Technical Assistance. Provide technical assistance to tenants and qualified organizations to exercise their right of first offer and/or right of first refusal.
- Create infrastructure to facilitate notification between buyers and sellers. Develop an infrastructure to facilitate notification between buyers and sellers, in order to maximize participation and effectiveness of the Opportunity to Purchase policy.
- Identify funding to support buyers exercising the opportunity to purchase.Identify dedicated funding to ensure that qualified purchasers under this policy are able to secure financing and make competitive, bona fide offers to purchase when exercising their right of first offer.

e. Develop a strategic land acquisition program to preserve and expand the supply of affordable housing.

In addition to land use policies such as inclusionary zoning, value capture, and no-net-loss, the City should adopt a strategic land acquisition program to help meet the need for preservation and production of affordable housing. Strategic acquisition, or "land banking", is a process to acquire land and property for preservation and/or future development.[6]A land bank established as a public, quasi-public or non-profit entity can serve three critical functions: speed; reducing barriers; and cost savings. When properly structured to fulfill these objectives, a land bank may be able to acquire a property more quickly than an affordable housing developer who must adhere to complex funding requirements from multiple sources. The land bank can reduce barriers to acquisition by helping coordinate inspections, permitting and other entitlement processes. Lastly, a land bank can add efficiency to the system by using its relative size and coordinating capacity to achieve economies of scale which together can reduce the cost for the non-profit developer, CLT, low- or moderate-income homeowner or tenant group who will be the ultimate steward. A land bank operates with a clear mandate and operating directives, which in this case should ensure that disposition of property will achieve goals that include enhancing residential stability of current residents, retention of public investment, long-term affordability, and building capacity and advancing self-determination of impacted, lower income communities. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to implement a land acquisition policy, including but not limited to the following.

- Create a City Land Bank. Research best practices for establishing a public land bank and make recommendations to the City Council for implementation of a public land bank.
- Land Acquisition Strategies. Develop strategies to assist community land trusts and affordable housing developers with property acquisition. Coordinate with non-profit developers and community land trusts to take advantage of off-site acquisition options provided under Measure JJJ.
- Land Sales/Property Transactions: Collect and make information about land sales and property transactions in the Community Plan Areas more publicly accessible to support opportunities for purchase by affordable housing developers, community-based organizations, or community land trusts, and to enhance communities' access to information regarding changes in their own neighborhoods.

4. INCREASE THE SUPPLY OF DEEPLY AFFORDABLE HOUSING

While our city needs to increase the supply of housing, market rents on new construction far exceed what the vast majority of tenants can afford. Extremely low-income households face the worst rent burdens, are more likely to be severely rent burdened, and face the most acute housing shortage for their income range. Creating an adequate supply of deeply affordable housing (DLI and ELI) is a critical strategy to prevent further homelessness and protect the most vulnerable residents of LA.

a. Produce an adequate supply of affordable housing to meet current and projected need.

The Housing Element should include policies and programs to effectively produce affordable housing to meet current and projected needs, including but not limited to:

- Inclusionary Zoning. Adopt city-wide inclusionary zoning requirements on new rental and for-sale development that is structured in such a way as to incentivize construction of deeply affordable units, with the option to satisfy affordable housing requirements through off-site construction significantly restricted.
- Density Bonus. Explore an expansion of density bonus program, with restrictions on buildings occupied by tenants within 10 years.
- Deep affordability. Identify and implement incentives for new development to contribute towards the community's deeply low-, extremely low-, and very low-income housing needs.
- Public Investment in Affordable Housing. Utilize public land and funding for the construction of new housing for deeply low-, extremely low-, very low-, and low-income households.

- Strategic Use of City-Owned Land. Devote City-owned land exclusively to the creation of 100 percent affordable and/or supportive housing projects through below-market or no-cost sale or lease to non-profit developers or community land trusts.
- Surplus Land. Prioritize the creation of affordable housing by facilitating below-market sale or lease of surplus and other underutilized property to affordable housing developers, or for the creation of new park space where there is a demonstrated need for one or the other, consistent with state law.
- Vacancy Penalty. Support the adoption of a vacant homes penalty assessed on sites with vacant residential and commercial units; prioritize the use of revenue for the creation and preservation of deeply affordable housing, including supportive housing and land acquisition by community land trusts.

b. Equitably Distribute Deeply Affordable Housing Around Transit Corridors.

According to the City Planning Department's Inventory of Sites, there are 308,000 potential units on developable land in the City of Los Angeles, and 85% of these sites are within ½ mile of transit. Given that low-income renters are more likely to be transit-dependent, it is crucial that developments on these sites include units dedicated to the deepest affordability levels. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to effectively and equitably distribute deeply affordable housing around transit corridors, including but not limited to the following.

- Value Capture. Require that community plan updates implement value capture zoning such that any upzone is connected to affordability requirements equal to or greater than the Transit Oriented Communities program.
- Affordability in High Opportunity Areas. Require that community plan updates in high opportunity neighborhoods accommodate multi-family residential development with affordability levels equal to or greater than the TOC program.
- Homeowner Assistance. Expand and fund homeowner assistance programs for low- and moderate income households.
- Prioritize housing for displaced residents. Create a program that gives first priority of affordable housing units in TOC buildings to tenants of former buildings on that site, or tenants who have been evicted under the Ellis Act.

c. Reduce barriers for production of all affordable housing that does not result in the removal of existing units and/or displacement of tenants and that does not expose low-income communities of color to environmental harms.

New construction of 100% affordable and/or permanent supportive housing should have a clear and streamlined process from application to certificate of occupancy. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to effectively reduce barriers for production of affordable housing, including but not limited to the following.

- Affordable Housing on Vacant and Underutilized Land. Explore a citywide program that allows the production of affordable housing on vacant land, commercial buildings, or buildings unoccupied in the last 10 years, by right.

- Affordable Housing on Religious Institution property. Establish a program that encourages development by right of 100% affordable housing projects in key areas, including on land owned by religious institutions.
- Remediation. Create a program that requires - and funds - the environmental remediation of all housing sites and mitigation of impacts by neighboring sites.
- Innovation. Explore innovative solutions to increasing production of 100% affordable housing.
- Remove Obstacles to Permanent Supportive Housing. Identify and eliminate barriers to the funding, approval, and development of permanent supportive housing.

d. Provide reparations for Black Angelenos with affordable housing.

Los Angeles should take proactive steps to address the past and continuing harms of redlining, racial covenants, housing discrimination, predatory home loans, and disinvestments in Black neighborhoods by providing reparations for Black Angelenos with access to affordable rental housing and homeownership opportunities. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to provide reparations for Black Angelenos with affordable housing, including but not limited to the following.

- Set aside a percentage of affordable units for Black families. for Require a percentage of affordable housing rental units and for-sale units be set aside for eligible Black families.
- Establish a "Certificate of Preference" Program for Displaced Black Residents. Establish "Certificate of Preference"[7] for displaced Black residents to be entitled to priority in renting or buying units in the neighborhoods from which they were displaced.
- Support Black Homeownership. Fund a homeownership assistance program for Black families and support current homeowners with funds for rehabilitation of their properties.

5. FURTHER ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE, IMPROVE CLIMATE RESILIENCE AND PROMOTE COMMUNITY HEALTH

Access to safe and affordable housing has a direct impact on public health. The very communities facing the highest rent burden are often the same frontline communities who bear the brunt of the negative impacts brought on by multiple, intersecting crises related to housing, homelessness, and environmental racism. These health disparities are brought on by land uses based on an extractive economy that contributes to environmental degradation, industrial pollution, the climate crisis, and increased health disparities for the frontline communities. For example, according to the Health Atlas for the City of LA, 21% (or approximately 59,000 individuals) of Southeast LA CPA residents lived adjacent to noxious land uses in 2013. The Housing Element is an opportunity to ensure that housing promotes public health with land use policies that are aligned with practices that create a more productive, equitable, and healthy regenerative use of land. Therefore, the recommendations, below, account for issues related to habitability, overcrowding, access to an adequate supply of safe affordable housing, and the need for climate resilient infrastructure and zoning policies.

[7] For example, this motion introduced by Councilmembers Harris-Dawson, Price, and Wesson in 2018 would create a neighborhood stabilization program for South LA.

a. Promote environmental justice and public health in development processes.

The City's Health Element names the harmful health impacts of displacement on individuals, families, and communities when development and infrastructure investment is pursued without regard for low-income residents already residing in the area; the need for both preservation and production of affordable housing to avoid rising rents, evictions, and increased homelessness; and centering land-use policies on a goal to reduce "health disparities and advancing health, equity, and sustainability in Los Angeles." The Housing Element can achieve consistency with the Health and Wellness Element by including policies and programs to advance environmental justice and community health, including but not limited to the following.

- Health Impact Assessments. Integrate health impact assessments into environmental impact reviews (EIRs), evaluating proximity to industrial land use/brown fields; health impacts of exposure to industrial and other noxious land uses; displacement impacts; and risk of increased evictions, homelessness, and susceptibility to overcrowded and substandard housing.
- REAP. Identify ways to ensure the Rent Escrow Account Program (REAP) is meeting its intended goals.
- Healthy Homes. Ensure all appropriate City departments are trained to identify and address environmental hazards, including, but not limited to mold, asbestos, and lead hazards affecting tenants, and develop strategies to prevent and mitigate the negative health impacts of repair or construction work that may release environmental hazards, including providing meaningful relocation assistance at the expense of the property owners, and enforcing tenants' right to return to their repaired rental units.
- Receivership Program. As a deterrent to slum housing practices and to facilitate community ownership goals, establish a receivership program for properties in REAP that do not achieve compliance so that tenant groups, CLTs and social housing entities can act as receivers and stewards of delinquent properties.
- Health and Habitability Training and Outreach. Require property owners and property managers to undergo training on responsible management of environmental hazards and tenants' right to live in habitable housing, and partner with community-based organizations to assist in outreach to tenants to inform them of their rights to live in habitable housing, regardless of income, race, or immigration status.
- Healthy Development Standards. Identify and adopt development standards that promote healthy air and water quality.
- Use an EJ lens in Planning. Integrate the CalEnviroScreen into land use planning to target critical investments increasing access to affordable housing in underserved and highly impacted areas.
- Industrial sites / brownfield sites. Advance new standards such as requiring EIRs to include health impact assessment for a 2-mile radius; enhanced site remediation and polluter accountability strategies; prevent development in proximity to brownfield sites until full EIR/HIA and remediation is done; provide support to affordable housing developments for environmental review and remediation, including identifying funding opportunities based on polluter-pay principles.

b. Plan for climate resilience.

Low-income communities are more likely to disportionately bear the burden of climate change. For example, low-income communities that are park-poor and have less green infrastructure investment are also more likely to acutely feel the effects of extreme weather events due to climate change. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to enhance climate resiliency as a component of housing development, including but not limited to the following.

- EJ in infrastructure. Work with the City's Climate Emergency Mobilization Department to ensure infrastructure alignment with principles of environmental justice and a just transition framework that puts an end to environmental racism and, thus, the displacement of low-income communities and communities of color, and uplifts public health through affordable housing.
- Education and training. Train City departments, property owners, and property managers on tenants' rights to live in habitable housing, the health effects of environmental hazard exposure, and appropriate management of environmental hazards such as lead and asbestos to prevent tenant exposure.
- Land use compatibility. Prevent instances of incompatible land use by establishing strict health and safety buffers between hazardous and sensitive land uses, including a 2500-foot health and human safety buffer between oil extraction sites and sensitive land uses, and a 500-foot buffer between other noxious land uses, such as auto-related uses, and sensitive land uses
- Green and Renewables Infrastructure. The City should convene stakeholders to develop green and renewable energy standards for housing development.

6. ENSURE MEANINGFUL COMMUNITY PARTICIPATION AND CAPACITY BUILDING

Public resources can go further when they are used to amplify actions being taken independently by community organizations. For this engagement to be transformative, however, it must be aligned—in both content and process—to actionable processes and policies that can improve equity outcomes for people. Ensuring the success of the aforementioned programs requires that the city partner with existing community-based organizations with established networks of trust with residents in their respective neighborhoods. Such partnerships will ensure information is distributed in a linguistically and culturally appropriate manner, and also allow the city to gather data on the effectiveness of new Housing Element policies and programs on directly impacted communities. The Housing Element should include policies and programs to ensure CBOs are integrated into implementation and evaluation of Housing Element programs, including but not limited to the following.

- Budget for seed grants or community contracts to support the participation of community-based organizations (CBOs) in tracking and evaluating housing element policies and programs.
- Develop a list of mission-based nonprofit organizations in each Community Plan Area and distribute RFPs annually to develop contracts with organizations that work directly with tenants, individuals experiencing homelessness, and other vulnerable populations so as to ensure the success of new housing policies and programs. HCID can achieve this through distribution of funds from housing block grants, and/or the establishment of community contracts with CBOs. These partnerships will ensure the effective implementation of Housing Element policies and programs.

***

The Housing Element update and 6th cycle RHNA can be transformative for Los Angeles, with the potential to vastly improve housing affordability and the quality of life for millions of Angelenos if done right. After decades of underproduction of affordable housing, exclusionary zoning, and a lack of preservation of low-cost housing, our city must commit to take bold action and adopt affirmative policies and programs that will result in deeply affordable units at scale, address vacancy issues in new units, and stabilize communities at risk of displacement, while simultaneously building new housing units. Our coalition is eager to be a thought partner with the City in the implementation of the policies stated in our letter and we look forward to continued collaboration on making Los Angeles a city where everyone can thrive.

Sincerely,

ACT-LA

Re: Comments and Recommendations for LA City's 2021-29 Draft Housing Element

Dear City of Los Angeles Planning Department and Housing and Community Investment Department:

The Alliance for Community Transit - Los Angeles (ACT-LA) coalition respectfully submits this comment letter regarding the Housing Element for 2021-2029 to highlight key priorities and opportunities for more equitable development in our region. ACT-LA is a county-wide coalition of 41 organizations working on the forefront of racial, environmental, and economic justice. Our coalition members include tenants' rights organizations, affordable housing developers, workers' centers, public interest law firms, and public health advocates, among many others. Many of our coalition members serve on the Housing Element Task Force, or are otherwise engaged in community planning and other land use plans or policy-making to advance racial equity, smart growth, and community stability in the creation and implementation of housing policies and programs. Thanks to our coalition's diversity, we view housing policy through an intersectional lens and work to center low-income communities and communities of color in decisions that seek to transform our neighborhoods.

The residents of Los Angeles that we represent have borne the heaviest toll from generations of failed land use policy and environmental injustice, including redlining and exclusionary zoning. Furthermore, the last year has showcased and exacerbated the affordable housing, racial injustice, and public health crises in Los Angeles. It is a critical time to act, and the Housing Element is a tremendous opportunity to ensure that Los Angeles grows in an equitable and sustainable fashion: prioritizing underserved communities, centering their concerns, and providing for them overdue housing justice in Los Angeles.

We therefore call on the City Planning department to advance racial equity, public health, environmental justice, and community stability through the 2021-2029 Housing Element—and to materially benefit our communities with more and better affordable housing opportunities through the Rezoning Program. Specifically, we offer the following comments and recommendations to the Housing Element.

1. The Draft Sites Inventory demonstrates the magnitude of L.A.'s affordable housing crisis and compels equitable distribution of new deeply affordable housing.

    a. Realistic Development Potential

We applaud the Department for developing and utilizing a methodology to assess the realistic development potential using a regression analysis based on historical development patterns. The department's two step approach taking both the likelihood of development and the maximum capacity expected to be developed into account provides a unique model that highlights where, how many, and at what affordability level housing units are likely to be built in the next 8 years. The department's work highlights the housing opportunities and challenges the city is facing and better informs the creation of new programs and policies to maximize affordable housing production, preserve existing affordable housing, and affirmatively further fair housing.

b. RSO Protections

We support the draft Housing Element in not designating sites with existing RSO housing as low-income sites. All relevant policies and implementation of the Housing Element should be geared to provide maximum protection for RSO units. In the absence of a City-wide no-net-loss requirement, including RSO sites in the inventory but not designating them as Lower Income units adds protections in the form of no-net-loss requirements while protecting them from being targeted for redevelopment under the by-right approval process for recycled sites. That said, the City should enact a city-wide no net loss requirement via the Housing Element implementation process (Council File #21-0035 (Martinez - Cedillo)).

2. The Housing Element must maximize all opportunities to stabilize rents and maximize tenant protections

We reiterate suggestions to protect and enhance the Rent Stabilization Ordinance and to further protect tenants that we put forward in our October 2020 letter. We also recommend the following insertions to the Programs and Policies put forth in Chapter 6 of the draft Housing Element.

- Program 31: Reduce the annual allowable rent increase under the RSO. Reduce the annual allowable rent increase, and close the “master-metered loophole,” in the City’s Rent Stabilization Ordinance to help address indirect displacement in gentrifying neighborhoods and encourage energy conservation.
- Program 85: Expand just-cause eviction protections to cover all tenants in the City of Los Angeles and establish a corresponding enforcement program.
- Program 88: Codify a tenant’s right to counsel in an eviction and administrative proceedings. Codify a tenant’s right to counsel that guarantees access to an attorney to all tenants who face displacement.
- Program 88:Create a permanent tenant education program working with community based organizations to inform tenants of their rights and how to access eviction defense resources.
- Program 87: Explore additional opportunities that strengthen the RSO. Explore amendments to the City’s RSO to restrict allowable grounds for eviction, including restrictions on eviction for failure to pay and policies to alleviate rent-debt. The City needs to further explain in detail in this program how they "will continue to implement amendments to the LA Municipal Code to strengthen enforcement, preserve RSO units, prevent displacement of tenants, ensure relocation assistance to tenants..." as a strategy for protecting tenants vulnerable to Ellis Act displacement.

- Program 84: Increase investigation and prosecution of source-of-income discrimination. Develop proactive enforcement mechanisms, such as testers and hearing officers, to identify and prosecute source-of-income discrimination
- Program 86: The Tenant Anti-Harassment Ordinance was enacted this year but in a weaker form than advocated for. Current policy is still lacking avenues to prosecute repeat offenders. We also advocate to add language to track harassment complaints monthly and by Council District.
- Program 84: The City should add a program, committing to adopting a renter access ordinance, in order to ensure that residents are able to access safe and healthy housing regardless of their credit or prior rental history, including failure to pay rent or utility bills during the COVID-19 pandemic, and regardless of whether they have a prior criminal history. The ordinance should require that housing providers publish a list of objective criteria, reasonably related to tenancy, which will be considered when a tenant applies for rental housing, and provide a written explanation when denying an applicant housing. The ordinance should also allow tenants to dispute rejections and, if successful, require landlords to provide the next available comparable unit.

3. The Housing Element must further environmental justice, improve climate resilience and promote community health.

ACT-LA believes equitable housing policies must advance justice and utilize equity-based approaches to housing development by supporting alternative housing models, while also protecting community health. It is our hope that the City of LA Planning Department will address LA's legacy of segregation and discriminatory practices in communities throughout the state by increasing affordable housing in communities that have remained exclusionary and requiring cities to conduct both meaningful environmental review of proposed project sites and racial equity analyses to inform future planning and housing decisions.

In 2016, the California Legislature passed Senate Bill (SB) 1000 to incorporate environmental justice into the local land use planning process.[1] SB 1000 requires local governments to address pollution and other hazards that disproportionately impact vulnerable communities in their jurisdiction. Vulnerable communities, formally defined as "disadvantaged communities" include two identification methods: (1) "an area identified by the California Environmental Protection Agency (CalEPA) pursuant to Section 39711 of the Health and Safety Code"; or (2) a "low-income area that is disproportionately impacted by environmental pollution and other hazards that can lead to negative health effects, exposure, or environmental degradation."[2] If a local government adopts or updates two or more elements of its general plan after January 1, 2018, which LA City will do with the anticipated adoption of the Housing Element and upcoming safety element this fall, SB 1000 requires the local government to identify any

[1] SB 1000 is codified at Government Code section 65302, subdivision (h).
[2] Gov. Code, § 65302, subd. (h)(4)(A).

"disadvantaged communities" within its planning area.[3] If a local government identifies one or more disadvantaged communities in its planning area, its general plan must have either an "environmental justice element" or "related goals, policies, and objectives integrated in other elements" (collectively, "EJ policies") that "reduce the unique or compounded health risks in disadvantaged communities" by addressing different topics, such as (1) reducing pollution exposure, (2) promoting public improvements, (3) promoting safe and sanitary homes, and (4) promoting public engagement in the local decision making process.[4]

The City of Los Angeles' General Plan does not have a stand-alone Environmental Justice Element, therefore, SB 1000-related goals, policies, and objectives must be incorporated throughout other elements of LA's General Plan.[5] The 2015 Plan for a Healthy Los Angeles, a health and wellness element of LA's General Plan, lays the groundwork to create healthier communities for all LA County residents. As an Element of the General Plan, it provides goals and policies, to evaluate health and environmental justice as a priority for the City's future growth and development. However, this health and wellness element was adopted before SB 1000 was adopted, and requires significant revisions to meaningfully satisfy SB 1000 requirements. Although updated environmental justice requirements are addressed in the revised "Plan for a Healthy Los Angeles" and the "Health Atlas for the City of Los Angeles," we are not convinced that these two documents satisfy all SB1000 requirements, and we are concerned to find that critical environmental justice topics are not meaningfully addressed in the City's draft 2021-2029 Housing Element Update.[6] The City's lack of compliance with state law requirements under SB 1000 has a significant impact on LA residents, disproportionately impacting vulnerable communities within its boundaries. The City of LA has multiple sources of pollution and interspersed industry, carrying a high pollution burden. Because the City's draft Housing Element Update will serve as a blueprint for future development, City Planning should create programs that adequately address environmental justice issues. Addressing environmental justice issues will also ensure the furthering of fair housing.[7]

The City of LA contains numerous census tracts that the California Environmental Protection Agency (CalEPA) has designated as "disadvantaged communities."[8] CalEPA's screening tool, CalEnviroScreen 4.0, ranks each census tract in the state for pollution and vulnerability. The City of LA's CalEnviroScreen (census tract) scores are among the highest in the state. Latinx residents make up the largest demographic of the City's population with 1,922,889 persons (48.6%), followed by White residents, who make up over a quarter of the population at 28.5%. Asians make up 11.5% of the population, followed by Black or African Americans at 8.5% of the population, and Native Americans, Pacific Islanders, and those who ID as 'other' make up the remaining 2.8%. Disturbing studies and investigations have found that "people of color are more likely than white people to live alongside power plants, oil refineries and landfills" in LA.[9] Busy freeways and toxic industrial sites cloak neighborhoods with high levels of fine particulate matter (PM 2.5), toxic releases, clean-up sites and hazardous waste. In addition to these compounding pollution levels, LA residents are more vulnerable to the City's increasing environmental hazards due to additional vulnerabilities from medical conditions such as asthma and cardiovascular disease.[10] Other vulnerabilities identified through CalEnviroScreen, include linguistic isolation, poverty, and rising rent burdens from escalating housing costs.[11]

Housing Justice and Environmental Justice are inextricably linked. Access to safe and affordable housing has a direct impact on public health. The very communities facing the highest rent burden are often the same frontline communities who bear the brunt of the negative impacts brought on by multiple, intersecting crises related to housing, houselessness, and environmental racism. Staggering health disparities are brought on by land uses based on an extractive economy that contributes to environmental degradation, industrial pollution, the climate crisis, and increased health hazards for the frontline communities. According to the last Health Atlas for the City of LA, 21% (or approximately 59,000 individuals) of Southeast LA CPA residents lived adjacent to noxious land uses in 2013. [12]

LA City's 2021-2029 Housing Element is an opportunity to ensure that housing promotes public health with land use policies that are aligned with practices that create a more productive, equitable, and healthy regenerative use of land. This draft plan must be revised to incorporate the required components of an Environmental Justice Element as the remaining elements of the General Plan do not satisfy state law. The following recommendations account for issues related to environmental justice and public health in development processes, and climate resilient housing to mitigate negative climate impacts and improve community health.

a. Promote environmental justice and public health in development processes.

Under Government Code Section 65040.12(e), environmental justice is the "fair treatment of people of all races, cultures, and incomes with respect to the development, adoption, implementation, and enforcement of environmental laws, regulations, and policies." Environmental justice goals, policies, and objectives should reduce health risks to disadvantaged communities, promote civil engagement, and prioritize the needs of disadvantaged communities. California law further establishes that environmental justice[13] includes:

- the availability of a healthy environment for all people;
- the deterrence, reduction, and elimination of pollution burdens for communities disproportionately experiencing the adverse effects of that pollution;
- government entities engaging and providing technical assistance to communities most impacted by pollution to promote their meaningful participation in all phases of the environmental and land use decision-making process; and
- at a minimum, the meaningful consideration of recommendations from communities most impacted by pollution into environmental and land use decisions.

We are concerned that this draft plan does not sufficiently address the cumulative impacts and disproportionate pollution burden placed on environmental justice communities throughout LA. As a result, this draft plan does not establish sufficient goals and policies to promote positive health outcomes to meet housing needs with a focus on low-income households and disadvantaged communities.

First, the draft plan does not consider the tens of thousands of individuals in the City of LA who live in close proximity to an active oil well.[14] Neighborhood drill sites, sometimes a few feet from homes, greatly increase and compound a slew of toxic emissions such as benzene, a known carcinogen.[15] In addition, high levels of cancer-causing diesel particulate matter are emitted into the air from the countless diesel trucks and emergency diesel generators used to service and sustain active oil wells. It is not just active wells that exacerbate environmental and health harms in LA. Wells that are no longer producing oil and gas are often left uninspected and unmaintained, some since the 1990s, leaking oil, gas, and other contaminants into the air and local groundwater.[16] The toxic practices of the oil industry have taken their toll on frontline communities throughout LA. Impacted residents and their children experience high rates of cancer, miscarriages, frequent nosebleeds, headaches, rashes, and respiratory issues, especially asthma.[17] It is important to note that oil drilling sites are not incidentally concentrated in low-income communities and communities of color–this is the result of decades of racist land use decisions such as fast-tracked permit approvals, redlining and racial covenants. The undeniable concentration of oil wells in disadvantaged communities is just one symptom caused by the historical practices of 'redlining,' predatory lending, and other inequitable policies that shape modern land use decisions and planning–while forcing low-income communities and communities of color to live in neighborhoods marked by environmental harms and health hazards.

To protect the health, safety and well-being of all Los Angeles residents, we urge LA City Planning to declare oil drilling/production a non-conforming use immediately (Council File #17-0447 (Bonin, Cedillo, Harris-Dawson, Koretz, Martinez, Wesson - Huizar)), prohibiting new oil drilling/production within the City of LA, phasing out existing oil drilling within five years with a just transition for workers and communities.[18] ACT-LA members hope to continue working with the City Planning Department to advance just and equitable housing development that combats the unjust legacy of redlining which continues to limit equitable access to healthy affordable housing options for communities of color to this day.

For example, ACT-LA members are concerned by LA City's proposal to redevelop Brownfield sites, coupled with broader policies to "provide incentives and promote flexibility for the conversion of non-residential structures to new housing in order to reduce the carbon footprint resulting from demolition and new construction"[19] and proposed programs to increase CEQA streamlining to incentivize energy and resource conservation.[20] We oppose the false solution too often presented to environmental justice communities that health and safety measures (such as environmental review under CEQA) must be sacrificed in order to build affordable housing. In addition, we reject the false narrative that CEQA is a barrier to housing development. The number of lawsuits filed under CEQA has been surprisingly low, "averaging 195 per year throughout California since 2002."[21] We believe that affordable housing that includes energy and resource conservation can be incentivized in other ways such as more inclusive social housing models, community land trusts, cooperative housing, and nonprofit community-run housing that do not diminish the importance of environmental review or expand the use of CEQA exemptions.

Next, while ACT-LA supports increasing availability and equitable access to safe and affordable housing, we strongly oppose building affordable housing on polluted land without proper remediation. As such, we are concerned by the City of LA's plan to maximize the use of unused, public lands by remediating toxic sites for affordable housing development. Although chapter 4 of LA City's draft plan claims that public lands are an option "provided that there are no environmental features that would [negatively] impact the [proposed] development on a site by site basis (4-14)," the draft Housing Element's definition of Environmental Hazards fails to include man-made hazards such as oil drill sites. We are concerned by Policy 3.2.9, which seeks to create "new residential uses, including live/work and mixed-use, in less-productive industrial, office, and commercial areas when the site can accommodate housing in keeping with citywide industrial land, jobs-housing and jobs preservation priorities." This policy does not identify or sufficiently discuss plans for clean-up and remediation of industrial sites. Rather, the policy sets forth a broad goal to build on underutilized industrial land without clarifying how the City plans to ensure that prior-industrial land will be tested and cleaned, or what the required soil standard is before proposing an affordable housing project. Providing these details is important and critical to ensuring community members are aware of their rights and able to hold negligent companies accountable for failing to test or clean the soil to the standard required by local and state law.

Furthermore, the draft housing element does not adequately address the risks of existing and future environmental hazards such as drought, intense heat, wildfires and floods on publicly owned lands due to climate change. Despite resounding scientific consensus that global temperatures are warming and weather patterns are rapidly intensifying, the draft housing element does not include climate change projections or account for how these changes will influence how housing should be developed and where it can be sited. We encourage LA City Planning to study and account for climate change projections when deciding where housing can be sited. SB 1000 also requires the safety element to include protection from flooding, climate adaptation, and resilience strategies. We were unable to locate an active inventory of proposed locations or approved ones that were analyzed with future climate impacts in mind. In addition, we would like to request more clarity around (1) approval criteria for affordable housing developers and (2) whether priority is being given to those working in frontline communities.

b. Develop climate resilient housing to mitigate negative climate impacts and improve community health.

As mentioned, climate change is undeniably affecting all of us, from rising temperatures and seas, shifting precipitation patterns and stronger storms, wildfires increasing in size and occurrence- all of which pose risks to our livelihoods. However, low-income communities and communities of color are often hurt first and worst by the impacts of climate change. In vulnerable communities, climate change can be a new and complicating environmental challenge stacked on top of histories of pollution, disinvestment and discrimination.

The Surging Seas tool, created by Climate Central, states that a "medium" sea-level rise scenario points to a "93% risk of at least one flood over 3 ft taking place between today and 2050 in the Los Angeles Area."[22] According to this tool, approximately 47% of the total population living in LA's medium sea-level rise zones are Black, Indigenous, and people of color (BIPOC). To make matters worse, these same communities are overwhelmingly concentrated in nature-deprived areas, and disproportionately exposed to high pollution levels and toxic land uses. A detailed report released by the Hispanic Access Foundation and the Center for American Progress found that, "the United States has fewer forests, streams, wetlands, and other natural places near where Black, Latino, and Asian American people live." A report by the Liberty Hill Foundation, focusing on the community consequences of expanded oil development in LA notes that "72% of people living near oil and gas drilling in LA County are people of color." These troubling reports make clear that LA is segregated and so is its pollution. Increasing equitable access to healthy affordable housing throughout LA will require an extensive phaseout of toxic land uses such as oil drilling operations and long-term remediation of the land. Housing justice is inextricably linked to environmental justice. This draft Housing Element should (1) make clear that industrial sites are incompatible with residential areas and (2) lay the groundwork for community-driven development and stewardship.

For example, LA City's Council District 15 (CD15), a predominately Latinx and Black community with an overwhelming amount of petrochemical and industrial pollution is also extremely rent burdened. Areas like CD15 not only need more affordable housing, but also increased access to healthy affordable housing--which hinges on surrounding land-use designations. Due to the numerous petroleum and industrial sites near residential, schools and sensitive receptors, the Housing Element must declare oil drilling/production a non-conforming use immediately, prohibiting new oil drilling/production within the City of LA, phasing out existing oil drilling within five years with a just transition for workers and communities.

LA City Council recently passed the "Tenant Anti-Harassment Ordinance,[23]" an ordinance banning landlords from harassing tenants throughout LA. Passing this ordinance was a critical step by LA City to meaningfully invest in safeguarding vulnerable tenants against abusive landlords. We hope to build on LA City's Tenant Anti-Harassment ordinance by expanding the scope of this program to include the impact of the climate crisis, and how it has limited equitable access to healthy affordable housing. For example, urban heat waves are "rapidly increasing in frequency, duration, and intensity with a greater tendency toward more humid nighttime events" a trend that "[has] a high probability of increasing by 42% in frequency and by 26% in duration during severe drought conditions".[24] This increases health risks to communities with low adaptive capacity, such as those with limited access to air conditioning, air filtration, reliable transportation, access to cooling centers--a large majority of whom are migrant, elderly, or monolingual speakers. An analysis by the American Housing Survey found that 22% of Los Angeles households do not have air conditioning. This percentage increased to 30% for low-income households, making less than $50,000 a year.[25] We encourage LA City Planning to respond to these findings by implementing strong climate resilience strategies in LA's Housing Element Update, including but not limited to: (1) mandating proper air conditioning or ventilation systems in leased properties, (2) requiring landlords to install new air conditioning systems as reasonably requested by tenants (especially elders or families, without handing off the cost to the tenant), and (3) institutionalizing cooling centers and resilience hubs in environmental justice and vulnerable communities. Finally, prioritizing green infrastructure is an important tool in providing natural services that offset intensifying climate change impacts, such as flooding and the urban heat-island effect. It is important to note that communities of color have historically had limited access to green space and parks which can negatively impact community health and resilience. The 2018 Safeguarding California Plan highlights the state's growing need to increase equitable access to nature to ensure community health and climate resilience. We urge LA City Planning to invest in programs to: (1) identify park-poor communities, (2) build affordable housing near green infrastructure investments, supported by strong anti-displacement measures to guard against gentrification/displacement, (3) ensure public parks are within walking distance for all communities, and (4) develop and preserve public parks to meet the unique needs of surrounding communities, creating resources for recreation, community building, and local stewardship of the land.

The Clean Up, Green Up (CUGU) (Ordinance #184246)[10] was approved by the LA City Council in 2016 after years of community organizing. The ordinance "authorizes the establishment of a CUGU Supplemental Use District within Boyle Heights, Pacoima/Sun Valley, and Wilmington to reduce cumulative health impacts resulting from incompatible land uses." CUGU focuses on pollution prevention, pollution reduction, and economic revitalization while supporting small-businesses in complying with regulatory requirements. The CUGU district aims to reduce cumulative health impacts created by incompatible land use/concentrated industrial land use, on-road vehicle travel, and heavily freight-dominated transportation corridors, which are within close proximity to homes, schools, and other sensitive uses. The Housing Element can comply with CUGU goals by declaring oil drilling/production a non-conforming land use, prohibiting new oil drilling/production within the City of LA- starting with the CUGU communities, phasing out existing oil drilling within five years and providing a just transition for workers and communities.

The Safeguarding California Plan: 2018 Updates[14] was a collaboration across-departments, agencies, elected representatives, tribal nations, and non-profit organizations. It provides principles, recommendations to guide adaptation efforts, and case studies for the State of CA in addressing climate impacts. The plan emphasizes equity and community engagement as the common ground on which to build policies, projects, and overall decision-making processes. Some of the indicators of climate change that the Safeguarding CA Plan identified were:

- With increasing temperatures, the energy needed to cool buildings during warm weather—measured by "cooling degree days"—has increased.
- Extreme heat days and especially nights have become more frequent since 1950. Heat waves have been highly variable each year, but nighttime heat waves have shown a marked increase since the mid-1970s.
- The area burned by wildfires across the state is increasing in tandem with rising temperatures. Large wildfires account for much of the acreage burned each year

The Safeguarding CA Plan states that public agencies must make "land use and community development decisions that prioritize long-term safety and resilience".[26] The current Housing Element does not sufficiently incorporate climate change impacts and projections, and community-led solutions or approaches to best support those living in impacted areas from flooding and the urban heat-island effect. Recommendations from the Safeguarding CA Plan that are related to the City's Housing Element include:

- L3: Coordinate state laws, regulations, guidelines and policies to promote climate resilience and hazard avoidance and mitigation through local, regional and state planning;
- L-5.4a: Support local implementation of general plan statute requirements on climate justice;
- P-1: Promote community resilience and health equity by improving underlying economic, environmental, social, and living conditions;
- P-6.4: Consider collaborating with State agencies focused on green buildings and energy efficiency to include climate adaptation and health and equity considerations into State initiatives, planning, and policies, including updates to the California Building Code and California Energy Efficiency Standards.

4. The draft element must honestly acknowledge the history of unjust land use in a way that actively foregrounds policies and programs to Affirmatively Furthering Fair Housing.

The Affirmatively Further Fair Housing analysis in Chapter 4 shows the product of a long history of segregated housing development patterns and structural racism inherent in conventional planning efforts. While we appreciate the department's affirmatively further fair housing analysis, this analysis makes clear the inequities that exist in the current zoning code. The department's analysis shows that current zoning places an over-representative share of new unit potential in areas at highest risk of gentrification and displacement. We find it especially troubling that the neighborhoods with a higher share of Black, Asian, and Latino residents have the highest share of identified development potential while the lowest capacity neighborhoods have the fewest people of color. This reflects the past use of zoning to enforce segregation and highlights the moral imperative LA City officials and staff now have to use the required rezone program to affirmatively further fair housing and undo past harms.

The data indeed show how LA City's planning policies and programs polarize the city, both racially and economically, and cumulatively fails to affirmatively further fair housing. If the City expects the policies and programs of Chapter 6 to serve as the city's so-called "action plan" over the next eight years of housing in LA City, then Chapter 4 must not only present the data but also (a) identify the current and past policies and programs, which have led to these unjust conditions, (b) identify the risks of inaction, (c) make a commitment to center community needs and reverse decades of racist land use designations through a robust community engagement process, and (d) conduct an additional analysis of the realistic development potential of rezoned sites that subsequently inform the rezoning program.

[26] Safeguarding California Plan: 2018 Update, California's Climate Adaption Strategy, (Jan. 2018), https://www.srta.ca.gov/DocumentCenter/View/4762/Safeguarding-California-Plan-2018-Update.

For instance, as the Site Inventory Analysis by Opportunity Area (Table 4.26) shows that nearly half of all sites (49%) that the city are accounting for in the Site Inventory are situated in low-resource areas, which effectively targets these areas for displacement and gentrification. In addition to presenting this data, the Housing Element should account for the negative social and economic impact this data reveals and cite relevant policies such as redlining, which continue to have lasting effects on LA residents, especially low-income residents and residents in communities of color.[27] As page 4-41 of LA City's draft Housing Element says, current policies such as "land use incentives have a much higher rate of producing affordable housing in High Opportunity Areas, [than housing] produced through financial subsidy alone," and publicly "subsidized affordable developments are overwhelmingly located in lower resource areas." This suggests that the City should prioritize strategies that utilize the affordable housing land use incentive programs over subsidy programs to racially and economically integrate neighborhoods and also protect tenants in lower resource areas from displacement by strengthening tenant protections.

The Site Inventory Analysis by Opportunity Area (Table 4.26) also shows the outsized share of affordable housing potential in low resource areas as compared to the (small) share of affordable housing in high resource areas. Specifically, Table 4.26 shows that the City's high and highest opportunity areas (34% of city census tracts) only have 24% of the cities lower income potential. By comparison, the City's low opportunity and high segregation areas (44% of census tracts) have 54% of the lower income potential. In line with presenting this data, the Housing Element needs to acknowledge the role that policies such as current land use zoning designations continue to play in concentrating poverty, which are exacerbated by repeated use of conventional housing models. In order for the City to counteract these inequities expeditiously and at scale, the Housing Element should rightfully focus onsite affordability in high and highest resource areas and boldly invest resources in a new housing paradigm that includes a wider array of housing models with social housing and community land trusts. Simultaneously, the Housing Element must ensure community-serving investment in historically disinvested areas. This includes investing in place-based strategies that create a net gain of affordable housing, stop displacement, prioritize environmental justice, enhance community health, and strengthen community leadership in land use planning.

In order to meet LA City Planning's commitment to center community needs and reverse decades of racist land use decisions, the Housing Element must include a robust community engagement process before changing zoning and land use designations. We urge LA City Planning to adequately discuss the demographic characteristics of the areas within the planned update that are subject to potential rezoning as well as how rezoning might impact those characteristics. The Safeguarding CA Plan identifies the importance of working with the most vulnerable to the impacts of climate change to ensure that they do not suffer disproportionately as a result of historical injustice and disinvestment. Recommendations in the Safeguarding CA Plan that are related to this Housing Element work are Recommendations EM-4, E-6 (increase climate resiliency in low-income and disadvantaged communities), L-1 (develop innovative governance models and equitable public engagement strategies to engage residents), and others including Recommendations L-5, P-1, T-5, B-6, O-5, W-6, and PC-6.

While the site inventory highlights the current inequities in the distribution of housing potential throughout the city, the rezone program has the potential to undo these harms and focus future growth in communities within high and highest opportunity areas while protecting sensitive communities from increased displacement pressures. As was done with the site inventory, a successful rezone program must conduct an analysis of realistic development potential in high and highest opportunity areas. The rezone program must then use this analysis's findings to adequately allocate and designate affordable housing through the rezone program. To ensure that the city not only zones for an additional 219,732 units, including 121,881 lower income units, but also can reasonably expect developers to build these units, the city must conduct an analysis of the realistic development potential of any rezoned sites. If the city does not conduct this analysis and use its findings to inform the rezone program, the City cannot reasonably expect to address the massive disparities presented in the site inventory, risks falling far short of providing affordable housing, especially in high opportunity areas, and will fail to affirmatively further fair housing. Without conducting a realistic development potential analysis specifically in the rezone program in high and highest opportunity areas, the department will also not have an accurate ability to assess its progress towards meeting goals to affirmatively furthering fair housing.

Overall, Tables 4.26-4.29 highlight the shortcomings of the current distributions of unit potential. Table 4.26 highlights the outsized share of affordable housing potential in low resource areas as compared to the (small) share of affordable housing in high resource areas. Table 4.27 highlights how the highest capacity neighborhoods are those with the lowest environmental and educational scores and lowest capacity neighborhoods are those with the highest environmental and educational scores. Lastly, Table 4.29 highlights that only 14% of the City's affordable housing units over a decade ending in 2018 were developed in the 35% of high and highest resource census tracts. Together, this chapter shows a dire crisis in the distribution of past and future affordable housing and highlights the importance of affirmative furthering fair housing through the rezone program.

5. To address the glaring deficiencies outlined in the AFFH analysis and to correct a long history of segregated housing patterns, the City's RHNA Rezoning Program must require onsite affordability with rezoning programs and focus rezoning in high opportunity areas. The City must also ensure that while focusing rezoning in high opportunity areas, the City separately, simultaneously, and equitably invests in historically disinvested areas to prevent gentrification and displacement.

Communities that our member organizations organize with and represent have borne a heavy toll from generations of failed land use policy and environmental injustices, including redlining and exclusionary zoning. Housing justice and equity for our communities means that the Planning Department must engage with historically marginalized and excluded communities in a way that centers their ongoing concerns and works with them to develop solutions, including as the Housing Element and the Rezoning Program are revised, finalized, and implemented. As a baseline, the Rezoning Program must materially benefit our communities by resulting in more and better affordable, healthy and stable housing opportunities.

We appreciate Council President Martinez's letter (dated August 13, 2021), which was co-authored with six of her Councilmember colleagues and issued to your department, detailing their commitment to equitable distribution of housing throughout LA. We appreciate that many of our coalition's recommendations were included in the Council President's letter, but we write to emphasize the ongoing need to tie on-site affordable housing requirements to rezoning. This fundamental approach would help our city meet the scale of affordable housing needed at this moment in our city's history. Our coalition's recommendations to the Rezoning Program are as follows:

- Design the Housing Element's Rezoning Program to include on-site affordable housing requirements that exceed TOC program requirements on every site that is rezoned, and include displacement avoidance and protection measures such as excluding tenant-occupied sites from rezoning. Rezoning should require progressive tiers of affordability for increasingly higher density development. Rezoning should be limited to high and highest opportunity areas of Los Angeles. The City should simultaneously invest public dollars in community-led planning, affordable housing opportunities and housing stability programs, and other community-serving, health-promoting strategies to protect and uplift residents living in historically disinvested areas and areas that are susceptible to gentrification.

- Update the City's affordable housing incentive programs to require more affordable housing and strengthen tenant protections. This process should increase affordability and tenant protections across the board, while focusing increased density allowances in communities in the California Tax Credit Allocation Committee (TCAC) high and highest opportunity areas, while subtracting census tracts that have a high displacement risk.

- Enforce the Measure JJJ requirement that community plan updates do not reduce the capacity for creation and preservation of affordable housing or undermine California Government Code Section 65915 or any other affordable housing incentive program by requiring that all increases in allowable density and FAR be aligned with on-site affordable housing standards that meet or exceed TOC. The Community Housing Needs Assessment Process should be based upon citywide housing production goals and utilize a methodology that balances traditional factors such as job and transit access with a new prioritization for high opportunity areas, anti-displacement, healthy and affordable housing, and achieving housing opportunities at the deepest affordability levels.

6. The City should maximize housing justice in L.A. by prioritizing permanent housing affordability and community stability throughout the draft Housing Element, especially in the Site Inventory (Chapter 4) and Programs and Policies sections (Chapter 6).

a. Public Land

We support the inclusion of the pipeline of new housing on public land in the Sites Inventory. In addition, the Inventory includes 10,000 units of Lower and Moderate Income units attributed to a "Public Lands program" that would use "300 acres of public land to drive a scaled housing solution that would create ten housing development opportunities with 1,000 units each." The Housing Element should provide more detail on this proposed program. It appears that this strategy is referenced in Policy 16. But to the extent this is a major policy initiative with the potential to create 10,000 new units of affordable housing on public land, the Housing Element should provide more information on the timeline, funding sources, key stakeholders, and any other relevant information. The Public Lands program (Policy 16) must prioritize models of housing that by design are permanently affordable and enable community control of housing, including social housing and community land trusts.

Councilmembers Mike Bonin, Nury Martinez, and Marqueece Harris-Dawson already initiated an effort in early 2020 to direct the City departments to explore social housing for LA City. This motion, which LA City Council's Housing Committee members also rightfully affirmed (CF# 20-0197), directs City departments to explore demonstrating the social housing model on LA City- and other government agency-owned land. By utilizing public land for social housing, LA City would lower the development cost of permanently affordable, public-nonprofit-community developed housing.

b. Goals and Objectives of the Policy and Programs Section (Chapter 6)

We offer the following recommendations to the city-stated Goals and Objectives of the draft Housing Element. For Chapter 6 of the Housing Element to serve as the city's so-called "action plan," then the goals and objectives should be modified to adequately reflect the scale of affordable housing needed by residents today and that the goals and objectives are inclusive of permanent affordable housing models. The following recommended edits in italicized text are recommended edits to the City-stated Goals and Objectives of the Policy and Programs Section (Chapter 6).

Recommended Edits to City-stated Goals of the Policies and Programs Section:
GOAL 2: A City that preserves and enhances the quality of housing and provides greater housing stability for households of all income levels.
OBJECTIVE 2.1 Strengthen renter protections, prevent displacement and increase the stock of affordable housing

2.1.3 Provide resources that enable the creation of Affordable Housing from existing unrestricted housing, including facilitating community stewardship and control, tenant management, and/or tenant ownership.

Pg 6-11:
GOAL 4: A City that fosters racially and socially inclusive neighborhoods and corrects the harms of historic racial, ethnic, and social discrimination of the past and present.

OBJECTIVE 4.3 Affirmatively further fair housing in all housing and land use programs by taking proactive measures to promote diverse, inclusive communities that grant all Angelenos access to housing, particularly in Higher Opportunity Areas, increase place-based strategies to encourage community revitalization and protect existing residents from displacement.
Objective: 4.3.4 Advance place-based strategies that create opportunity and financial strength in areas of disinvestment and with a history of discriminatory and predatory financial practices through asset-building shared equity homeownership that creates stability through community control of resources. Mitigating displacement pressures through shielding housing from market forces allows communities to thrive through inclusivity, stability and self-determination.

The above recommendations are a portion of recommendations from the Community Land Trust Coalition that are included as an appendix to this letter. ACT-LA fully supports the recommendations of the Community Land Trust Coalition in the attached appendix.

c. Policies and Programs (Chapter 6)

Overall, we see a majority of the programs continue to prioritize traditional affordable housing and market based solutions. We need to incorporate a wider range of housing solutions that prioritize community control and permanent affordability. While social housing is not explicitly stated in any program (aside from mentions in Programs 14 and 16), we see many opportunities in the programs presently listed in Chapter 6 that should support the creation of social housing and can continue to increase support of community land trusts. We urge LA City planning to consider and incorporate the following changes throughout the following programs.

While the following recommendations offer our feedback on some opportunities in the presently listed programs, the following list is not exhaustive. LA City officials and staff should advance the exploration and implementation of social housing and expansion of community land trusts in as many Housing Element programs and policies as possible.

Opportunities for financing social housing
As LA City staff and officials ordinarily pursue affordable housing funding, LA City officials and staff should additionally consider financing social housing models to generate a large scale of permanently affordable, community-controlled housing for current and future LA City residents. In addition, LA City's expansion of existing voucher programs, such as Section 8 tenant and project based vouchers, would be necessary to help ensure permanent affordability and operational viability of social housing and community land trusts. The following new and existing programs should include provisions to fund the demonstration and potential expansion of social housing in LA CIty.

- Housing Vouchers (Programs 2, 41, 42, 100, 102, 104, and 105) - We support housing vouchers targeting a range of populations and the creation of a permanent voucher system with social housing in mind.

- Tax Increment Finance District (Program 66) - We support revenue allocations for social housing using this tax revenue.
- New Revenue Streams for Social Housing (Programs 17 and 20)- Social housing and community land trusts should absolutely be included in these efforts to seek and allocate funding.

Opportunities for the public to learn about social housing as a model for affordable housing
As part of addressing the history of unjust housing policies, LA City should make considerable effort toward building community capacity to envision permanently affordable housing that rightfully gives tenants greater control over their own living situations, which should include expanding knowledge of social housing for all members of the public, especially through the following listed programs.

- Neighborhood Awareness of Special Needs Housing (Program 119)
- At least two Community Plan programs (Program 49 and 65)
- Supporting capacity building for tenant control
    - Property Management Training (Program 44)
    - Tenant/Community Opportunity to Purchase (aka TOPA/COPA) (Program 90) - this program should explicitly mention land trusts as potential buyer and owner of land.
    - Support community participation on site visits to places to learn about their social housing models (Program 12)

Opportunities for fundamental design (environmental and community programming) of social housing
Every housing model that LA City utilizes or provides for should advance environmental justice by design, in order to provide residents with healthy homes in which to lead their lives. Social housing developments, in particular, should fundamentally incorporate sustainable methods of construction and operations.

- Support sustainable methods of construction and operations (Program 69 to 76)

Opportunities for sites and land use to incorporate social housing and utilize community land trusts
LA City officials and staff should prioritize housing production in high and highest TCAC opportunity areas of the city to start to enable equitable access to decades of institutional investment into resources, including schools, job proximity, healthy food, and health care. Simultaneously, LA City officials and staff should also invest in historically disinvested areas of the city to prevent displacement and gentrification. The social housing and community land trust models should be considered for implementation throughout the region and utilized in every area of the city where historically marginalized communities stand to materially benefit from this public investment. Social housing and community land trusts, which are models for permanent affordability and residential stability, should be incorporated fully into the following programs.

- RHNA Rezoning (Program 121) - See Rezoning Program recommendations in Part 4 of this letter. Rezoning Programs should enable for an array of affordable housing options expeditiously and at scale in order to counteract market forces that include real estate speculation, which catalyze displacement and gentrification. Social housing and community land trust models should be among the array of affordable housing options this rezoning program should establish as early as possible over the next eight years with this Housing Element. At a minimum, for instance, the text of this program should be revised to say: "This program will carefully consider the creation of a diversity of housing types to expand more naturally affordable and deed-restricted affordable options, including social housing."

- Provide Adequate Sites for Lower Income Households on Nonvacant and Vacant Sites Previously Identified (Program 60)
- Public Land for Affordable Housing (Program 15)
- Neighborhood Awareness of Special Needs Housing (Program 119)

Opportunities for policy that enables use of social housing and expanded use of community land trusts

One characteristic that distinguishes social housing from the conventional public housing model is the focus on community governance of social housing developments. For example, we envision community governance through social housing as a means to enhance resident stability through community control (e.g. tenant councils) and programming (e.g. social/case workers) that enhance residents' wellbeing. Because single family neighborhoods have dominated Los Angeles's landscape for decades and the social housing model has yet to be utilized in Los Angeles, public policy should be changed to enable use of social housing and expanded use of community land trusts. Social housing and community land trusts should be incorporated fully into the following programs.

- Shared Equity Models (Program 4)
- New Models for Affordable Housing (Program 16)
- Preservation of Restricted Units (Program 27)
- New Models of Acquisition, Rehabilitation and Preservation (Program 30) - Should include social housing and Land Trusts
- Anti-Displacement Strategies (Program 122)
- Affirmatively Furthering Fair Housing (Program 124)
- Homeownership for Voucher Holders (Program 2) - Opportunity for land trusts
- Systematic Code Enforcement Program (Program 21) -include database can be used to focus resources identified for foreclosure intervention and displacement prevention
- Comprehensive Homeless Strategy (Program 92) - Social housing should in integrated into comprehensive homeless policy as a permanent supportive housing strategy and a avenue for preventing homelessness

Concerning programs for advancing equitable development, including but not limited to social housing

In contrast to the above five subsections of recommendations to the Housing Element policies and program, we recommend the following two programs be eliminated or substantially reworked so that the Housing Element rightfully addresses the history of unjust land use planning by prioritizing the concerns of historically marginalized communities.

- CEQA Streamlining Measures (Program 55) - CEQA streamlining measures that seek to override the concerns of community members present a false choice between expediency and equity. Community members, especially those who have endured decades of environmental injustice, need legal accountability tools including CEQA to be able to hold developers and successive government agency officials accountable to requisite mitigation measures, including full remediation of environmental degradation. In fact, CEQA provides community members with a process by which to remedy environmental harms and require developers to build safe and healthy homes/communities. Streamlining CEQA as LA City planning describes in this program weakens an important process community members use for cross-sector environmental review and long-lasting accountability. Because of these untold consequences to community members by weakening CEQA protections and to avoid exacerbating institutional inequities in land use planning, this program should be removed from the Housing Element.
- Community and Neighborhood Council Development Review (Program 77) - Neighborhood council development review priority exacerbates institutional inequity by giving Community and Neighborhood Councils, which principally include land owners, additional and privileged access to review property development. As a part of the city's efforts to start addressing the history of unjust land use in high and highest opportunity areas, LA City officials and staff need to prioritize the perspectives of historically marginalized communities in local development review.

If done right, the Housing Element update and 6th cycle RHNA can be transformative for Los Angeles, with the potential to vastly improve housing affordability and the quality of life for millions of Angelenos. After decades of underproducing affordable housing, perpetuating exclusionary zoning, and lacking policies to advance environmental justice in the City of LA, we call on our city officials and staff to take bold action. We urge you as public stewards to craft and adopt affirmative policies and programs that will result in vast numbers of deeply affordable units, stabilize communities at risk of displacement, unlock affordable housing in high opportunity areas, while simultaneously and equitably investing in historically disinvested areas to prevent gentrification and displacement. Our coalition remains ready to be a thought partner with the City in the implementation of the policies stated in our comment letters and we look forward to continued collaboration on making Los Angeles a city where everyone can thrive.

Sincerely,

Alliance for Community Transit - Los Angeles (ACT-LA)

HOUSING ELEMENT RECOMMENDATIONS BY LOS ANGELES COMMUNITY LAND TRUST COALITION - 9/2/21

City of LA Housing Element - CHAPTER 6 HERE

Pg 6-7:
GOAL 2: A City that preserves and enhances the quality of housing and provides greater housing stability for households of all income levels.
OBJECTIVE 2.1 Strengthen renter protections, prevent displacement and increase the stock of affordable housing

- 2.1.3 Provide resources that enable the creation of Affordable Housing from existing unrestricted housing*, including facilitating community stewardship and control, tenant management, and/or tenant ownership*.

OBJECTIVE 2.2: Promote more affordable ownership opportunities and ownership retention strategies,with an emphasis on stability and wealth building for underserved communities.

- 2.2.1 Expand ownership models that increase the ability for households to attain homeownership, including alternative forms of shared and limited equity ownership.
- 2.2.3 Expand ownership and wealth generation opportunities through accessible education and technical assistance, especially in communities of color.

Pg 6-11:
GOAL 4: A City that fosters racially and socially inclusive neighborhoods and corrects the harms of historic racial, ethnic, and social discrimination of the past and present.
OBJECTIVE 4.3 Affirmatively further fair housing in all housing and land use programs by taking proactive measures to promote diverse, inclusive communities that grant all Angelenos access to housing, particularly in Higher Opportunity Areas, increase place-based strategies to encourage community revitalization and protect existing residents from displacement.
Objective 4.3.2 Advance place-based strategies that create opportunity and financial strength in areas of disinvestment and with a history of discriminatory and predatory financial practices through asset-building shared equity homeownership that creates stability through community control of resources. Mitigating displacement pressures through shielding housing from market forces allows communities to thrive through inclusivity, stability and self-determination.

Programs - pg 6-14:
2. Homeownership for Voucher Holders Goal #: 2, 4 Lead Agencies: HACLA Funding Source: HUD Objective: Increase homeownership opportunities among voucher holders. Allow Section 8 participants to become homeowners by using their Vouchers to purchase a home.

Depending on funding levels and lender support, HACLA will continue to explore the feasibility of utilizing the homeownership program within the context of public housing revitalization activity. Explore facilitating long-term stability and wealth-building by incorporating a Community Land Trust model that supports homeowners and facilitates resales to future low- and moderate-income families.

4. Shared Equity Models Goal #: 2, 4 Lead Agencies: LACP Supporting Agencies: HCID Funding Source: General Fund Objective: Study barriers to the greater utilization of shared ownerships models. Use these models as a tool to facilitate affordable homeownership. Explore barriers and consider providing assistance to and incentivizing the development of shared-equity ownership models such as Limited Equity Housing Cooperatives (LEHCs), Community Apartments and housing owned by Community Land Trusts (CLTs) or Tenancy in Common (TICs) in the Zoning Code and housing funding processes. Prioritize public support for LEHCs on land held by CLTs Partner project-based rental subsidy programs with cooperative ownership models to support deeper affordability levels. Consider policies to require that on-site affordable for-sale units in mixed-income projects be sold to a qualified nonprofit, with an emphasis on CLTs. Promote the State property tax exemption for property that is owned by a CLT and that is being—or will be—developed or rehabilitated as rental housing, LEHCs, or owner-occupied housing per Section 214.18 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. Explore securing tax-defaulted properties through Chapter 8 Agreement Sales for Community Land Trusts (CLTs) to create long-term affordable housing. Explore conveying public land / tax foreclosed / receivership properties to CLTs and prioritize CLTs in current acquisition and rehabilitation programs.

Pg 6-30

21. Foreclosure Registry Goal #: 2, 3 Lead Agencies: HCID Supporting Agencies: LADBS Funding Source: Foreclosure Registration Fees Objective: Maintain a database of contact information of all residential properties within the City of Los Angeles that are subject to Ordinance No. 183, 281 (Amended 2014). Maintain and enhance a dashboard to show results and identify trends impacting neighborhoods, including statistics on initial foreclosure recordings (Notices of Default - NOD) and on the portion of those defaults which proceed to foreclosure (Real Estate Owned - REO); ensure database can be used to focus resources identified for foreclosure intervention and displacement prevention; continue education and awareness of Ordinance and increase outreach to over 95% of responsible parties on all new foreclosures recorded in the calendar year. The Foreclosure Registry Ordinance (183281, Amended in 2014) was established in 2010 as a mechanism to protect residential neighborhoods, including abandoned properties, from blight through the lack of adequate maintenance and security as a result of the foreclosure crisis. Any lender (or beneficiary or trustee who holds or has an interest in a deed of trust) who either issues a notice of default or forecloses upon on a residential property located within the City of Los Angeles must register that property with and provide contact information to the Housing and Community Investment Department (HCID) in case any exterior blight issues arise on the property in relation to foreclosure, along with completing required monthly lender inspections for as long as the property remains in foreclosure.

Subject: City of Los Angeles 2021-29 Housing Element compliance

Dear Housing Element Team:

Rising rents, widespread tenant evictions and a lack of affordable housing have made Los Angeles the city with the worst housing and homelessness crisis in the country. As the City of Los Angeles's (City) 2021-29 Housing Element states, the City had a higher percentage of cost-burdened renter households (59%) in 2019 than any other major American city. About 32% of renters in the City are severely cost-burdened, meaning they spend over 50% of their income on rent. As families overspend on housing costs, they have less in their budget for health care, childcare, education, healthy food, savings and retirement, and other household costs.

Alliance for Community Transit - Los Angeles (ACT-LA) coalition members have reviewed the California Housing and Community Development's (HCD) letter, dated February 22, 2022, to the City of Los Angeles Department of Planning. We understand HCD is requiring the City to revise its Housing Element to meaningfully affirmatively further fair housing pursuant to State Housing Element law. Our coalition members, many of whom represent low income renters, agree with HCD that the City must clearly identify how its policies and programs will affirmatively further fair housing by revising the Housing Element to include additional metrics and measures that would enable public accountability. While we appreciate the City's efforts, which include a site inventory informed by a realistic development analysis and a stated intention to facilitate the development of 10,000 affordable housing units on public lands, we still have outstanding concerns on issues related to equity, racial justice, and affirmatively further fair housing. The City of Los Angeles, comprised of tens of thousands of unhoused residents and mostly renter households where over half of which are so unaffordable that they impose a cost burden on their inhabitants, must affirmatively further fair housing by stably housing all its residents and crafting housing programs that ensure equitable access to healthy affordable housing at the deepest affordability levels and that counteract a legacy of institutional racism in its planning and zoning policies, as well as economic and urban environmental segregation in the City.

In 2017, ACT-LA members worked with other community partners to suggest measures and metrics that we believe would affirmatively further fair housing (AFFH) in the City. Our coalition's and partner's work sought to prioritize anti-displacement and equitable development concerns in various communities. We shared our concerns and recommendations with City staff as part of Council File #16-0647. In October 2017, the City of LA adopted the city's latest 2017-23 AFFH Plan, which contains metrics and measures that staff should integrate into the revised Housing Element. The Housing Element's AFFH Program 124 should be expanded to additionally report the status and remaining needs to fulfill the goals, metrics and measures shown in Section V of the City Council adopted 2017-23 AFFH Plan and Report (starting on page 382). As part of the Housing Element's Rezoning Program 121 response to AFFH analysis, Program 121 should additionally be expanded to express an intention of the city to advance the goals, metrics, and measures shown in the 2017-23 AFFH Plan and Report with the Rezoning Program 121.

Chapter 1 of the Housing Element reports that "the City has limited funding for the construction of Affordable Housing" and also reports an estimated funding need from 2019 of around $15.8 billion yearly of which the City needs $3.8 billion yearly from City funds (p.99). ACT-LA would also like to see the City utilize new funding sources for equitable built environment policies in Los Angeles that may not have existed or that may have existed but have not been historically used for built environment policies. We suggest a thorough audit of the Los Angeles Police Department and an equally thorough evaluation of the efficacy of their public safety efforts. The LAPD is responsible for a significant percentage of the City's budget, far more than other cities in California. This money is unlikely to be well spent, as empirical studies show that police are not good at solving crimes. On the contrary, empirical students show that investments in community nonprofits reduce crime. The discussion of policing and police funding has become highly emotional as proponents argue that policing deters crime, although this is not an established fact, and critics focus on police misconduct, rather than cost-effectiveness. An independent, impartial, and evidence-based audit of the LAPD and evaluation of the efficacy of spending public dollars on policing is in order. This is especially true as police budgets have not been cut as severely as other municipal departments during times of austerity and are more likely to contain unexamined inefficiencies and wasteful practices that rely on funds that could be put to better use. An overhaul of police practices could also reduce legal payouts by reducing the prevalence of police misconduct. We would expect police budget savings of 5-10% could be easily achieved, which would lead to tens, and potentially hundreds, of millions of dollars in additional funding for more cost effective programs that address various community's need for affordable housing and basic public services like bulky-item pick up, street lighting, and sidewalk repair.

While improvements to streets and infrastructure are crucial, the City should also ensure that the City's current low income inhabitants will not be displaced and thus not be able to stay and enjoy these public investments. One way to reduce displacement is to establish a right of return. Key elements include:

I. Developments should not be approved if they ultimately reduce the number of rental units (see No Net Loss policy).

II. HDLA should keep a list of tenants who are displaced due to a development and provide notice when new units in the development are being rented
III. For every development where a tenant is displaced, including through a voluntary buyout agreement, those tenants shall have a right of first refusal to rent units in the new development.
IV. Returning tenants should first be given the right to rent a physically comparable unit at their prior rent; effort should be made to offer units to tenants that are comparable in bedrooms, bathrooms, and square footage to their prior units.
V. Returning tenants should be offered any covenanted affordable units in the development that they qualify for
VI. If no qualifying affordable units are available, tenant should be offered a market rate unit
VII. These practices should also be followed for new Transit Oriented Community developments in the area from which a tenant was displaced

Finally, throughout the development of the City's 2021-28 Housing Element, ACT-LA members have consistently provided feedback and comments to City staff on updates to the City's Housing Element. We have the remaining concern that the Rezone Program, as proposed to be implemented through the Community Plan updates, lacks details to describe how these programs will affirmatively further fair housing. As our coalition described in our 2020 and 2021 comment letters, housing in LA is inextricably linked to natural environments that industries and transportation operations have polluted and exploited for at least the last century. The Housing Element should account for the cumulative impacts focused in Black and brown communities caused by harmful land uses such as warehouse expansions and neighborhood oil drilling by planning for safe and healthy housing that all residents can both afford. Housing Element goals to affirmatively further fair housing must prioritize plans for affordable and healthy residences, support tenant protections, and prevent displacement and gentrification, especially for vulnerable communities whose health have been impacted by long-standing environmental – air, soil and water – pollution. Land already owned by all public agencies within the City of LA should be prioritized and utilized to address the collective need for affordable housing, especially given both the City's deep need for affordable housing and potential housing development cost savings by utilizing public lands for affordable housing development. In order to affirmatively further fair housing starting this year, the City should prioritize the adoption of implementing city ordinance necessary to advance Housing Element Program 15: "Public Land for Affordable Housing" with priority to reduce homelessness and support people at risk of becoming homeless by building affordable housing.

As the City revises the Housing Element per HCD's February 22, 2022 letter, the City should consider both our coalition's AFFH recommendations from 2017 and the environmental justice concerns that we expressed in our Housing Element comment letters in 2020 and 2021. ACT-LA urges the City to incorporate metrics and measures in the City's Housing Element that lead to fair housing for LA residents in both the economic and environmental sense of fairness. We have appreciated the long-standing and constructive dialogue among ACT-LA members, City staff and Councilmembers. We look forward to reviewing future Housing Element revisions and working with the City to meaningfully and affirmatively further fair housing in Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

The Alliance for Community Transit - Los Angeles

Hello,

First, Thank You to the LA City planning team for the work that you all are doing. I have a general comment regarding the updates and I want to start by saying that we have a county-wide housing crisis and that we need to address that matter as such. Thus far, LA City is one of the main planning teams in Los Angeles County proving that they want to provide a compliant housing element and that they are actually working to further fair housing. Other cities in Los Angeles county are actually hiring consultants to NOT submit compliant housing elements & they are trying to find ways to NOT build housing! #ILLEGAL

I believe that the LA team will need more support in rezoning from the state, specifically in capturing PUBLIC land from localities abusing their positions like Santa Monica City, Beverly Hills, and many others. We have plenty of public land across Los Angeles county that can be used for some of the outlined social housing models like CLTs, co-ops, and community-owned PS, affordable, & market-rate rental housing. There are many progressive advocates in Los Angeles that are ready to begin implementing a solid social housing policy today. We cannot rely solely on privately-owned housing, the class that is primarily being displaced (Blue-collar workers & residents with low to no income), need to be able to hold their own cards in the housing game. The "affordable threshold" continues to get higher and higher and it's true that, when we build more housing, rent should go down but even then, it still likely won't go down enough for some blue-collar workers & other residents with limited incomes (disabilities, students, retirees, etc).

I want to remind you what city we are in, we are in Los Angeles where the AirBnb market is BOOMING. There is currently not enough accountability/enforcement within the private housing market which is currently lending MANY of their units for AirBnb/Short term usage (establish a rental registry please). I want to kindly remind you that we are in a city where some ppl can afford to pay $5,000-$10,000 a month for rent but many essential workers, college students, retirees, & others cannot afford to pay that much. In my opinion, for community-owned affordable rental housing, the "affordable rent" price needs to be based on the average of the blue-collar essential worker class. It's not fair to include the high earners in that average. With community-owned housing, we can set an affordable market-rate price that will be cheaper than privately-owned market-rate rental housing but the average we set should be based on that class's total average. Once residents are housed in community-owned housing, let's go ahead and rent stabilize them to avoid displacement. I hope that made sense!

Attached, you will find a proposal for mixed-income housing, both rent & homeownership, for the incorrectly zoned Santa Monica airport. I was in the Venice/Santa Monica area today and strangely, the small airplanes leaving the "Santa Monica airport" were only flying low & circling over the Venice community. The small plane owners avoided flying over the Santa Monica residents so not to disturb them by causing noise & fuel pollution. If the state supports LA City, LA City can sue the FAA & SM City to win back over the airport that actually belongs to Venice & Mar Vista residents as much as it does Santa Monica residents. This should be a pretty easy win because 1. Santa Monica's measure LC likely violates the state's "Surplus land Act" and Article 34 isn't relevant because the development isn't for low-income housing but for mixed-income. The incorrectly zoned airport along with penmar golf course will allow for a beautiful community-owned housing development that is surrounded by a large park/rec center/hospital. I've talked to many students at SMC that are in need of housing, we need to deliver on that for them!

Thank You again to the Los Angeles City planning team! I'm looking forward to furthering fair housing & ending the housing crisis. I believe that your team can lead by example because the truth is, we have a state-wide crisis and we need all jurisdictions to do their part to eradicate poverty & to provide stable safe, clean, and affordable housing. "A Right to Housing" already exists under international law (Thank You to the person CC'd on this email for letting me know that)!

I'd recommend establishing a trust fund account for community-owned housing to maintain the quality of the community. I know the NIMBYS & some of our elected officials are going to do everything that they can to drop all of us off in the desert, but we can't allow that! This land belongs to all of us so says the Lord! NIMBYS can keep their SFH's if they want, but they do not own all the land around the SFH.

To be clear, this community would include both community-owned rental and homeownership options. This pro-housing advocacy effort should be led by a housing advocate that understands the needs of the local community, someone that likely falls within the working class and has the best interest of the local community in mind. When it comes to renting, rent should never exceed 20-30% of a resident's total income after taxes. Please keep in mind, the average worker in LA makes about $39,000 a year, this rental housing would be catered to those workers but the community itself would be mixed-income meaning it would also include market-rate units (still cheaper usually than private market-rate housing). Along with market-rate rentals & homeownership opportunities, business placements would be considered throughout the community.

Housing proposal for the Santa Monica airport

(Please note that Penmar golf course is also being requested for this project. The exact community plans would need to be confirmed & this is just a proposed housing plan for the vacant land space. The proposal was created by Tieira R*.)*

Affordable Homeownership;

1. Affordable, reasonably priced homeownership for working-class residents, priority for long-term residents living or working in the Santa Monica, Venice, & Mar Vista zip codes.
2. Consider a set number of market-rate "for-sale" homes.
3. A variety of home types should be considered for development but especially multi-family housing such as plexes, condos, townhomes, and apartments. Consider co-op ownership.
4. Priority consideration should also go to first-time homeowners in LA County, my recommendation is residents that have lived/worked at least 10 years in LA County.
5. Priority consideration for historically displaced residents from supposed marginalized communities. Consider a 30-40% "right to return", "right to housing" for ADOS families (African descendants of Survivors), & for other residents impacted by systematic housing violence. (Google the history of displaced Black families in Santa Monica, Venice, and/or Manhattan Beach if you need more info.)
6. The millennial generation should also receive a percentage of priority consideration, they currently own a measly 18% of the homes in Los Angeles. "Equity is defined as "the state, quality or ideal of being just, impartial and fair." The concept of equity is synonymous with fairness and justice."

7. At no time would a small or large equity firm be granted permission to purchase a home within the community nor would an option be granted to purchase the community as a whole.
8. My recommendation on income qualifications for residents that are first-time buyers is; working-class residents making between $30,000-$130,000.
9. If potential owners require financing, ownership could be subject to credit union or bank approval. Consider public, city-owned bank.
10. The actual cost of homes should match that of the actual average wage of what most working-class residents make. There would likely be re-sell requirements as affordability would be protected by a trust.

Affordable Rental Housing;

1. Community-owned rental housing in mixed-income developments.
2. The recommended height for apartment buildings is 6-7 stories.
3. Set an "affordable rental rate" based on what the average person from the working class makes. At this moment, most workers in LA make about $39,000 a year. Affordability is usually priced for residents in the $17,000-$70,000 range.
4. Community-owned market-rate rentals to be included, most likely still cheaper than the private market-rate rental housing.
5. No income restrictions once residents are housed. https://www.nhlp.org/resources/lihtc-admissions-rents-grievance-procedures/
6. Reserve a portion of the housing for limited to no-income residents. Consider the following; subsidize with HUD and/or new digital voucher program; subsidize low to no income residents with market-rate apartment & business rentals; consider HCID/HACLA westside chapter. Social services for housing, food, and health care should be ONE efficient program.
7. Affordable bachelors, studios, 1, 2, and 3 bedrooms.
8. As with affordable homeownership, the rental units & placements would be for various types of community members but especially keeping in mind our core working class which includes the essential workforce, students, seniors, veterans, those living with disabilities, etc. etc.
9. Student apartments would be bachelor-sized apartments with smaller fridges and MUST have a kitchen area sink and a small area to put a hot plate (or something similar) so they can cook if needed. (Similar to this https://urbanize.city/la/post/micro-unit-apartment-building)

More info on the proposed community as a whole;

1. priority consideration for business placements within the community.
2. Open park space, recreation center within the walkable community. Cars can exist on the outside of the community, not within.
3. Consider the possible need to build new schools.
4. Consider a quality westside public transit system especially for college students between SMC and/or UCLA. (cut down on car traffic congestion because students wouldn't need to drive)
5. College student housing should have its own small park area that has a WIFI and outdoor/indoor workspace for them.
6. Consider large home space for displaced minors within the community aka a "group home" to provide stability.
7. Request consideration for golf course closure(s) as well as other vacant land plots and buildings that have potential use for affordable housing that is community-owned and suits apartments, condos, townhomes, small and/or tiny homes for locals. Request more interim housing and healthcare sites on the westside for residents with long-term behavioral health needs.

The overall progressive housing goal is to adopt a similar social housing policy for each city in California (all of the U.S) with pro-housing community advocates from said cities leading the efforts. The private market can obviously always exist but it can't compete against itself, forcing residents to beg for housing that is priced much higher than most can afford. That doesn't sound like freedom to me!

California's Housing Crisis

The current CA housing crisis is literally wiping out and pushing the blue-collar working class, students, senior citizens, and many other residents into poverty! In the last 10 years, rent has gone up well over 65% in the city of Los Angeles, in that same amount of time the number of unhoused residents increased by at least 50%! There are currently 60,000+ unhoused residents in LA County and the median income can no longer afford a rent-controlled studio in cities like Santa Monica!

Renters need to earn $95,000 to afford rent-controlled studio in Santa Monica, new report says

A household earning the Los Angeles area's median income cannot afford a rent-controlled studio in Santa Monica, according to a new report from the city's Rent Control Board. By U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development affordability standards, a family would need an income of at least $95,429 to afford a studio, which is about …

Side Notes:

Walkable communities are essential

https://planning.lacity.org/plans-policies/housing-element (LA City Housing Element)

What is a community land trust?

"Starting at about $600 per month for a studio, rents in the Los Angeles Eco-Village are less than half the price of some comparable apartments nearby, and prices aren't raised unless community members agree to it. That's possible because the land beneath the co-op is owned by the Beverly/Vermont Community Land Trust, which has pledged to make the land permanently affordable regardless of rising housing prices."

https://laist.com/2021/02/02/community-land-trusts-los-angeles-affordable.php

An email from the Santa Monica planning team regarding use of the airport in this upcoming housing element

"Hi , Thanks for sharing your proposal and thoughts for the airport. Please note that since the airport is slated to close at the end of 2028 and conversion to any other use would take time, the airport is not realistically being considered in the planning for the 6th cycle Housing Element Update (October 2021 – July 2029). It will most certainly be a consideration in the following housing element cycle (beyond 2029). However, to get to that point, there will need to be a public process around the future of the airport given the significant community interest and varying views on its future use so I hope you will continue on to be engaged in that separate effort."

Quotes from an LA Times article regarding the Santa Monica airport

"The opening of a the 227-acre site on the Westside — in close proximity to jobs, good schools and transit — is a once-in-a-generation opportunity. Housing has to be a part of the equation.
"Since the 1980s, Santa Monica has approved the construction of millions of square feet of office space, transforming it into a hub for both the tech and entertainment industries, with a daytime population that swells by more than 150,000 people. But this explosive job growth has not been accompanied by a proportional increase in housing units." "Santa Monica's estimated population of 92,478 residents in 2019 was only a blip above what it was in 1970, when 88,289 people called the city home. This growing imbalance between jobs and housing has created a massive influx of daily commuters into Santa Monica (even well-compensated tech employees) who either can't find or can't afford housing near these job centers. Meanwhile, population in neighboring jurisdictions has swelled, displacing lower-income residents. The result is more and more commuters crowding the freeways from increasingly distant parts of Southern California."

The plan to turn Santa Monica Airport into a park is irresponsible. The Westside needs housing

REPEAL ARTICLE 34 in the CA state constitution; USE public land for PUBLIC GOOD, end systematic housing violence & displacement. Article 34 of the CA constitution reads; "No low rent housing project shall hereafter be developed, constructed, or acquired in any manner by any state public body until, a majority of the qualified electors of the city, town or county, as the case may be.."

Localities that have been abusing their positions and segregating cities by race & class should not decide what happens to public land. Workers that commute into cities also have the right to decide what happens to public land, retirees, college students, and many others also have that right!

"Heidi Marston resigns from LASHA, citing difficulties in fulfilling LAHSA's mission without "fundamental shifts". In her resignation letter, Marston elaborates: "Power and funding alone control homelessness. But in our current system, organizations like the one I lead, the Los Angeles Homeless Services Authority (LAHSA), are not given control over regulatory or policy decisions, service providers remain underfunded, and dedicated front-line employees of non-profit organizations and government entities are hamstrung by rules, red tape, and bureaucracy. Marston also points to low wages, high rents, restrictive zoning laws, and other "shadow monsters" we must tackle in order to end homelessness."

Structural Governance of the Social Housing Authority

The State Housing Authority - HCD will oversee

The Social Housing Authority; Community-led development of PS, affordable, & market-rate housing: Social Housing Agencies in each county in CA (ONE SOCIAL HOUSING AGENCY with selected progressive civil peers (community advocates) assigned to offices in each part of the county (likely NSEW & Mid-City, TBD); a group of progressive housing civil peers that implements & develops new community-owned affordable, market-rate, and PS rental housing on publicly owned land throughout LA County. Communities are well put together, mostly in walkable, pedestrian/bike-friendly built communities. The agency as a collective whole will capture vacancy numbers (parking lots, buildings (privately & publicly owned), to determine ownership/best use for vacant spaces.

The Social Housing Authority will override city councils in localities to partner directly with County BOS, and HCD to collect funding meant for homeless/housing spending, money goes into ONE TRUST account that must provide RECEIPTS of where/how much money is spent on specific projects.

Agency works with HUD to implement new guidelines for affordable homeownership for the blue-collar working class. Agency maintains ONE website/database that has a list of AVAILABLE community-owned affordable, market-rate, and PS rental housing. List of AVAILABLE affordable & market-rate homeownership opportunities.

Affordable housing waitlist for rental housing should be no longer than 6 months, 6 months is actually too long but should not exceed that. The social housing agency is focused on public safety, public safety means safety from heavy traffic violence and climate arson. This means the social housing team works to build communities that are walkable, bike, and pedestrian-friendly. Communities that have access to green space. Communities that aren't being heavily polluted by LAPD helicopter pilots (noise & fuel pollution linked to dementia, linked to cancer). Cars belong on the outside of multi-family communities, not within. Cars are occupying too much land space! Humans need land to live on, we shouldn't NEED to drive everywhere. Create when possible 15-20 minute cities/small communities.

The Social Housing Authority

(created by Tieira Ryder; 4/25/22 https://htwws.org/social-housing-ca/)

Social Agency is primarily focused on the development of community-owned housing. However, the agency will be divided into 3 primary teams; PSH, affordable & market-rate rentals, affordable & market-rate homeownership;

Permanent Supportive Housing- PSH for residents in need of wraparound services. Services could be needed short or long-term depending on the person. This team is focused on securing housing for residents with low-to-no income, chronically homeless, FOSTER youth (up to age 24), disabilities etc. This team doesn't provide the services it connects other agencies & non-profits to PS housing.

This team maintains a database of PSH units that are available and works to revamp/remodel the broken shelter housing system to turn them into PSH.

Again, ONE social service housing website for residents with varying needs.

Foster Youth: safe and clean group homes that provide guidance & structure to youth/young adults up to the age of 24.

REVAMP the broken Foster System; guidance comes from social workers that are based out of the revamped DPSS, non-profits, grassroots teams, etc.).

PSH shouldn't feel carceral (jail-prison like).

The Social Housing Authority

(created by Tieira Ryder; 4/25/22 https://htwws.org/social-housing-ca/)

Supportive services are wraparound services in QUALITY family planning, STI/STD prevention/protection, mental, behavioral, & rehabilitation healthcare, etc, etc. Introduce UBI, money that should come from another trust account will not come from the housing trust fund. UBI for foster youth, and adult residents not working or below the poverty line. UBI up to $1000 a month for completed work/ treatment assignments.

For displaced youth; completed schooling/work/etc. Standard UBI (no work /treatment assignments required) $300-$500.

Repeating; services are provided by A REVAMPED DPSS, by grassroots and non-profit teams, etc. Agency will provide a civil peer court system; will also be for any potential cases of alleged abuse happening from workers but all workers must have ongoing training, schooling, and teachings in proper behavior when interacting with residents in PSH communities, especially foster youth! Service teams should meet every few months to go over what is and what is not working, the social housing agency does not provide the service, they are simply making available the housing needed for the residents in need of PSH, possibly in need of long term care, healing, community.

The PSH Social Housing Team works with the DPSS to secure safe parking/dwelling zones within the county until PSH becomes available. All non-profit groups/service teams need to be an extension of this department (LASHA, DPSS, Grassroot teams, etc., etc.) Service teams should be able to contact PSH social agency team to find PSH, Safe parking/dwelling, and/or to receive money for temporary hotel/room stays (FEMA MONEY should be used as the ONE trust account is mostly for development/maintenance/admin of community-owned housing. ONE TRUST per county social agency/authority).

The Social Housing Authority

(created by Tieira Ryder; 4/25/22 https://htwws.org/social-housing-ca/)

Community-Owned affordable & market-rate Housing; residents are self-sufficient, can pass a criminal background check likely just need assistance securing an affordable or market-rate unit. Will work with residents with a prior eviction. Community-owned affordable & market-rate rental housing that is always affordable. Rent shouldn't take more than 20-30% of a resident's total income after taxes. Establish an affordable rental market-rate price for the blue-collar working class. The affordable price should not be averaged with working-class/high income earners included in the calculation. Most workers, most jobs in LA County pay about $40,000. What is the average wage for the blue-collar worker???

Community-owned, market-rate units will likely be much cheaper than privately owned market-rate.

All local city affordable housing authorities would be moved into the social agency/demolished. There are too many moving parts of the housing programs/processes. We need ONE coordinated system with FUNCTIONING non-profits, social service teams an extension of the one agency. Social workers, field workers, and rehousing specialists should be able to utilize the agency/website to secure at a minimum safe parking/safe dwelling. Should be able to give food vouchers/stamps, etc. to those that need them.

Again, the housing team is likely divided by local cities in the county, likely by NSEW & mid-city, TBD. Each of those divided teams will be divided into the 3 groups of; PSH, affordable & market-rate rentals, affordable & market-rate homeownership)

Public Safety- A civil peer board of housing (court) will be established to hear cases about any potential threats to public safety happening in Socially owned housing. The court will also hear about allegations of any abuse happening within the system and correct the action. PSA on appropriate behavior will be provided to all residents/staff that are part of the social housing community.

The goal of the Social Housing agency is to prevent displacement but they will support "JUST-CAUSE" eviction for tenants posing a risk/threat to other tenants. No gang activity or violence WILL be tolerated, the community has a right to safety, if that safety is ever threatened, residents in the community have the right to evict!

Some PSH will be for residents in transition from jail/prison back into community living. Prevent ROOT CAUSE of problems that we are seeing in our community. Also, consider communities for disabled residents/ residents with special needs that may need long-term wraparound services. Consider partnership with community colleges for affordable housing for students/young adults up to age 24-25. Consider committed behavioral, mental, and rehabilitation health programs for residents with outstanding issues in above mentioned. Any committed programs should still be a place of healing, not further violence and trauma. Dismantle and rebuild existing programs in that area. Fix the problems at the ROOT, save the next generation and again, ongoing training, and schooling, for workers in this field. HIGHER pay for workers in these fields!

The Social Housing Authority

(created by Tieira Ryder; 4/25/22 https://htwws.org/social-housing-ca/)

The private housing market can always exist if it likes but residents shouldn't be forced to rely on it. There are residents whose families have been dealing with generational housing violence as it relates to race & class, they cannot rely on a privately owned market that has no accountability! Rent has gone up by over 65% within the last 10 years in LA County with no rebuttal for the blue-collar working class, retirees, residents of generational housing violence and displacement, college students, foster youth, and many many others.

The Social Housing Authority

(created by Tieira Ryder; 4/25/22 https://htwws.org/social-housing-ca/)

This social agency will have nothing to do with private housing developments but it can purchase private housing and it can assist with securing housing for residents in privately owned housing. The Social Agency will maintain a website of AVAILABLE community-owned affordable, market-rate, and PS rental housing units. Privately owned units can also be listed. <<< WATCH CYBER FRAUD/SCAMS which is rampant on apartment rental websites.

The social agency is being created to develop and implement new housing developments on vacant publicly owned land and remodels for publicly owned vacant buildings. The agency cannot deny community-owned housing developments in any neighborhood in LA County, they are a county-wide team that implements new developments of community-owned PS, affordable, and market-rate housing in ALL CITIES in the county, this includes SANTA MONICA, BEVERLY HILLS, WEST HOLLYWOOD, MARINA DEL REY, PASADENA, DOWNEY, LONG BEACH, etc., etc., etc., ALL CITIES IN LA COUNTY! The intentional segregation as it relates to race & class MUST end, THE NIMBY violence MUST END!

For community-owned affordable & market-rate housing, long-term residents of LA County should get priority with housing placements, focusing on getting workers closer to their jobs. It is imperative for the health of humans, the health of the Earth, and other species that we reduce drive times, and reduce pollution. Preventing displacement is IMPERATIVE. The team can prevent displacement by subsidizing rent for tenants in privately owned units and/or helping move them to community-owned affordable housing.

The Social Housing Authority

(created by Tieira Ryder; 4/25/22 https://htwws.org/social-housing-ca/)

Affordable homeownership- full proposal coming soon, introduce co-ops, CLT's, and resell requirements. The primary focus is blue-collar workers (affordable with resell requirements) and market-rate housing. Use money from market-rate sales to place into the ONE trust account. Insert grassroots team to help with restorative justice aspects of homeownership for residents impacted by systematic racial violence.

How do you think this story is going to end?????????

Short-term rentals- introduce tourism short-term stays, money goes into the ONE trust account.

Trust Account- One trust account that will be audited by city/state controllers. Money comes from HUD, Feds, State, Donations, & HHH. The annual state surplus budget must donate a portion into trust every year. The tourism industry should be donating a portion of total earnings into the trust. The cannabis industry should be donating a portion of money into the trust, should be redirecting money to communities impacted by the "pretend war on drugs" created by the U.S Gov't. A small portion is for admin/resident manager fees (try to avoid outsourcing resident management to other companies, which could run up costs). The largest portion of the trust is for housing development/property maintenance.) How much are CA taxpayers giving in federal dollars to other states using the money for social services (TBD).

The Social Housing Authority

(created by Tieira Ryder; 4/25/22 https://htwws.org/social-housing-ca/)

Community-owned housing cannot be sold to corporations. If TOPA is introduced, keep under CLT (land lease) to allow tenants to purchase their units but prevent corporations from being able to purchase??? (verify). Also, any money given to nonprofits to build affordable housing should mean that that housing cannot be sold to a corporation. How and why are some non-profits that received Gov't/Taxpayer money able to sell affordable buildings after a set number of years to private corporations?

Housing would go back to the social agency OR TOPA if the non-profit wanted to be released from oversight/responsibility. The Social Agency can buy privately owned property and resell it to private owners/corporations but NOT publicly owned land/housing, not rent nor ownership. Again, community-owned developments are going to be built with the community in mind, with green space, stores, hospitals, etc., sometimes worked/developed within the communities.

Social Housing Plans ready for implementation;

https://htwws.org/santamonicaairport/

(Author notes, not part of the proposal)

-Examine the years that ADOS (American descendants of Survivors paid federal taxes but were not able to utilize public service. Examine displacement and communities that were intentionally burned t the ground by supremacists. Request reimbursement/hold percent of federal/state taxes to heal communities.

-Tenancy in common is a form of co-ownership of property in which each party owns an undivided interest that passes to his or her heirs at death. The interest is undivided because each tenant has rights in the whole property. Although ownership is in common, tenants may have equal or unequal shares.

-Joint tenancy is the joint ownership of property by two or more co-owners in which each co-owner owns an undivided portion of the property. On the death of one of the joint tenants, their interest is automatically passed to surviving tenants.

-Real property- immovable property, a building, land, plants etc, (though buildings can actually be moved depending on).

-Just cause eviction in CLT - Community members causing violence when corrective action cannot be taken, not working. Racial violence & other forms of discrimination. Peer court will recommend rehabilitation programs when permitted to do so, severe cases could result in immediate evictions.

-Land on Earth belongs to all of humanity.

-Land has not been fairly distributed to residents impacted by systematic housing violence as it relates to race & class.

-The aim of the Surplus Land Act (the "Act"); is to increase the availability of real property in California for affordable housing development by requiring the prioritization of affordable housing when selling or leasing public lands no longer necessary for agency use.

The Social Housing Authority

(created by Tieira Ryder; 4/25/22 https://htwws.org/social-housing-ca/)

-Foster City- examine the broken foster system, keeping families together whenever possible, family planning services, safe housing & family for youth that are not able to stay with their biological families.

To do;

-Write the state bar and include them on your housing emails. REQUIRE that the state bar authorize civil peers to oversee legal issues related to housing (LLP's).

-BLM the org must redirect funding into one trust that is overseen by a group of Black civil peers. Push money back into Black communities as direct UBI payment, as housing payments, treatment payments, crime & gang prevention, etc., etc.

-Email OMBW/Watch for grants (GS)

-Civilian Eminent Domain of Public Land; communities protected from Climate arson; Free market exists for those that want to be part of it.

-Establish Public Bank

-A PORTION of public land MUST remain PUBLICLY owned for use by the community.

-Agency divided into NSEW & Mid-City?!?! Civil Peer teams in NSEW & Mid-City ??

-If the BOS goes ROUGE, the social agency will partner with the state housing authority directly and override county BOS should they become non-compliant.

The Social Housing Authority

(created by Tieira Ryder; 4/25/22 https://htwws.org/social-housing-ca/)

-representcal.org, why a constitutional convention is necessary, and how the CA constitution allows localities to abuse their position, allows illegal segregation as it relates to race & class.

-Examine pre-built tiny home/ADU placements in well put together communities that are affordable & supportive. Sheds are not tiny homes. Some residents already own tiny homes or they want to, can support themselves but need land. Communities likely could be supported in the valley.
