Comments for Public Posting: As an Angeleno without a car, I'm completely dependent on the public transit system. With some buses coming only once an hour, I can be stuck outside with no shade waiting for hours a week. I am able-bodied, relatively young, and I live an otherwise comfortable life, but I can't drive in Los Angeles. That inability has put me at greater risk (in multiple ways) than my fellow Angelenos and something needs to be done. Changing this contract and getting more shelters built will benefit thousands of the least cared for citizens of our city. Please do the right thing and enable this city to build more shelters and protect our citizens from extreme heat!
