Comments for Public Posting: Building more parking is like adding lanes on a freeway. You build more > more people come > you need even more > you build more, etc. Let's stop driving ourselves into extinction and improve access via alternatives modes of transportation instead. More bus routes more frequently, safe bike routes, shuttles,... you have SO MANY options that are not car centric, let's get out of the car dependency bubble.

Comments for Public Posting: I do not think we should be adding any more parking to the zoo, especially at the cost of cutting down more trees.

Comments for Public Posting: Please do NOT add more parking at the LA Zoo. We need to encourage visitors to walk, bike, and ride transit. Adding and expanding parking facilities is a misguided investment. -Will Wright

Comments for Public Posting: Increasing parking in a climate emergency will only encourage visitors to drive to the L.A. Zoo and is contrary to the Zoo's and City of LA's sustainability goals. I do NOT support any additional parking at the LA Zoo. Instead, alternative methods like an electric shuttle should be considered.
