Comments for Public Posting: This is cruel; how can anyone sit back and turn away from this and the amount of crap that goes on. It's not anger, it's disappointment in our global acceptance to ignore this dispecable behavior.

Comments for Public Posting: I absolutely agree with the city of Los Angeles in that passing a plant based treaty will immensely help the healing of our planet.

Comments for Public Posting: Even though I live in BC Canada, I am signing because I believe the world needs to implement a plan to stop the rapid speed of climate change, by restricting (hopefully one day ending) one of the leading causes of climate change - animal agriculture. If LA can lead by example by participating in this treaty and actively doing something to support it, I believe other municipalities/states/countries will quickly follow suit. Be the first to make the change! Don't wait for others to do something that needs to be done NOW!! Sincerely, Rachel Binks
