Comments for Public Posting: I am writing in support of the council studying the Livable Communities Initiative. The LCI is a holistic plan that marries gentle density, with multi-family buildings of 3-5 stories, along commercial corridors, with a better, more sustainable streetscape that includes protected bike lanes, pocket parks, a tree canopy. This plan will allow people to live near their places of work which will make LA more affordable, more diverse, and more sustainable. The only reason we can't have a plan like this – and a city that works better – is because our lawmakers of the past have been unwilling to make it so. You have the power. Please use it and say yes to the LCI.
