Comments for Public Posting: I support the LCI and I want the council, particularly my council representative, Mitch O’Farellel, to support it too. Specifically I support it because for many reasons: -I want a more walkable community -- I want a more diverse community -- I don't want to have to commute 2 hours every day to work -- I want the mom and pop building owners near me to be able to develop their property and put up 3-5 story multi-family buildings instead of selling them to big development companies. --I want to be able to ride my bike to do my daily activities like buy groceries, and go to work and the gym -- I want prettier streets that are tree lined and full of people and cafes. Our city can and should be more inclusive, sustainable, prettier, safer and well, more livable. The LCI is one solution to helping us get there. I urge you all to vote yes. Thank you. -Puneet singh Gupta

Comments for Public Posting: I oppose LCI. I do not believe that density is the answer to a more livable community when it will impact traffic, schools and our failing infrastructure. The vacancy factor is a problem and developers are only concerned in their bottom line, not affordable housing.

Comments for Public Posting: I'm an Angeleno who supports the Livable Communities Initiative and I'm asking the City Council to do the same! By marrying gentle density with complete streets the LCI will make our city more vibrant, affordable, equitable, and just plain better. I'm lucky enough to own my own home in North Hollywood and I've lived all over L.A. since 1992 and 've seen firsthand how LA has not kept up with the needs of its people or our planet. The LCI could help improve the quality of life for EVERYONE for generations. And as a mom of a 14 and 11 year old that matters deeply. Thank you, Lindsey

Comments for Public Posting: I am a college student and I want to live in a place like the Livable Communities Initiative imagines. I grew up in Los Angeles and my family is still there. When I graduate I want to be able to afford to live in LA. Like my friends in other major cities, I want an apartment that is close to my job and my community. I don't want to have to use a car everyday. I want to be able to walk, ride a bike or take a bus or tram to work. The LCI would make that possible. I urge you to vote to study this plan. The young people of Los Angeles deserve it. Thank you!
