Comments for Public Posting: Dear Honorable City Council Members, Please support the Cultural Heritage Commission's recommendation and findings in whole to designate 15526 Plummer Street built in 1914, as a Historic Cultural Monument. This is the oldest home in North Hills and one of the last intact examples of life during this time period. The San Fernando Valley has changed so much since then and will continue to change but we need to preserve and recognize our history as we move forward. The home was built around the time the Los Angeles Aqueduct was completed, which is significant to the growth and development of the Valley pre annexation to the City of Los Angeles. What would the San Fernando Valley look like without the aqueduct? What would Los Angeles look like without a robust San Fernando Valley? We can't know that but we do have a last slice of what life looked like back then and it should be preserved as a Historic Cultural Monument to remember and learn from. Thank you for your time and consideration. Jill
