Comments for Public Posting: It's just truly amazing to see that, even with ALL the protections tenants normally receive in Los Angeles and the added (mind-blowing) protections they received because of the "pandemic" at the cost of middle-class landlords, tenants continue to cry and beg for even more protections. This is what happens when you give handouts: the people receiving them want more. It doesn't matter what's logical or fair. It doesn't matter that they haven't paid rent in over 2 years and continue to live free in someone else's house. They want MORE. It doesn't matter that I, small-time landlord of one property, live in a worse home than my tenant while I pay all the expenses for both properties. The $60,000+ and counting she's already stolen from isn't enough. They want MORE. Landlords are going through the same pandemic, same inflation, same (and even more) stress, while only tenants receive resources and protections. I've been waiting on my tenant's rent relief application to be approved for over a year now while I haven't collected rent for a year and a half. But I guess these tenants don't want to think about that. They just want to continue to TAKE. Here's a thought: go live somewhere you can afford. Buy things you can afford. I'd love to live in Beverly Hills myself, but no one is giving me free housing there and I can't afford to live there, so I don't.

Comments for Public Posting: Hi, my name is Cassidy Bennett, I am a tenant and I live in district 10. As a renter, I want to strongly urge you to vote YES on Item 19 to extend the emergency declaration. I am also here to demand that you implement permanent tenant protections, now! I am thankful that some members have already taken action to support our tenants and I hope that more will join them. We are once again in a COVID surge with many of our community members out of work over the holidays. Lifting emergency protections at the end of January would be cruel and inhumane, does not guarantee we will be past the surge, and will result in thousands of evictions in the new year. We need universal just cause, protection for not being able to pay small amounts of rent, expanded relocation assistance, and protection for our family members and pets that moved in during the pandemic.
