Comments for Public Posting: The Pacific Dining Car is like Katz's to NYC. IT needs to live on and is integral to the historical importance of the vibrancy of the City of Los Angeles. Please designate the building as a historical space and protect it. This iconic restaurant and creative space is necessary to the culture of Los Angeles and the greater United States. Please! I live in Pennsylvania and when I come to Los Angeles want to go and spend time and money at the Pacific Rail Car. In the middle of the night there needs to be a space to meet and talk and eat and know that there are some things that always remain no matter how fast culture changes. Some things of this caliber should remain.
