Comments for Public Posting: Pacific Dining Car is a part of Los Angeles history. We've lost so much of our collective history already. I hope we can save PDC because their late night menu made their food accessible to more of us and made it feel more democratic.

Comments for Public Posting: Please save PDC, this is a historic restaurant in Los Angeles and deserves to be preserved. With so many historic buildings and businesses being destroyed in Los Angeles we need to keep PDC as a time capsule of the elegant Los Angeles history.

Comments for Public Posting: Honorable Councilwoman Eunisses Hernandez, I am writing to ask that you please help save one of our great city's true treasures. I'm talking about The Pacific Dining Car. I am now retired, but was a hard working blue collar family man, employed in the Wholesale Produce Market. During my time working there, I often saw other employees returning with bags of food from this great restaurant. I found out that they had a "breakfast special" that was an amazing bargain, considering that it included scrambled eggs and filet mignon, and your choice of toast or a muffin. I decided to take my young family with me to dinner there one day. I never thought to check the regular hour menu prices. Anyway, when we got there, we were welcomed like family and seated right away. When we were given our menus, that's when it hit me, that although the regular prices were not ridiculous, they were higher than what I had in mind. I didn't know what to do, because my family was really excited about being there, especially because my kids all love trains. I was hesitant to order, when the owners must've saw that look in my eyes. He came over to ask if there was any problem, and I admitted to him that I had not brought enough cash with me and that we were really thinking of leaving because of that, to come back another day. He and his wife were so very understanding and worked with us. They went so far as to make chicken strips for my kids and even split orders for my wife and I, in order for us to have a most wonderful dinner together. Needless to say, we became loyal customers. We loved going to this great restaurant and were always treated great. This story might not mean a lot to some people, but it will definitely always mean a lot to my family. Please don't let us lose this great treasure. Heaven knows that our great city simply can't afford to lose such a great family business. Thank you for your time and help. Sincerely, Fidencio Gallegos, Jr and Family

Comments for Public Posting: The Pacific Dining Car has been one of my go to places since I moved to LA in 1989. It offered "old school" high quality service that you rarely find anymore. The setting harkened back to old LA. I would often take guests from out of town there to get an unique LA experience. I often noticed that the clientele were very international, speaking many languages. It was an internationally know LA spot. It would be a great loss to loose such a place. LA will soon become just a mass of restaurant chains and fast food. We can't let our unique heritage fall to this. Please help protect the Pacific Dining Car site.

Comments for Public Posting: Please do what you can to save the legacy of the Pacific Dining Car. This venue is well known by people all over the United States, and the world. Many have enjoyed gathering their with friends and loved ones for years. It would be a shame to let it fall by the wayside. Thank you.

Comments for Public Posting: Please save pacific dining car. In the 70s 80s and 90s I took customers there for breakfasts for lunches and my sister for dinner before going to the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion.. it was also one of my favorite places for afternoon tea where I took my niece as a young child, and then had her bridal shower there as well. My name is Penny Olender

Comments for Public Posting: This is an important historical element that should warrant consideration to be preserved. Our entire immediate and extended family dined often at the downtown Pacific Railcar Restaurant and it holds lasting memories that we would appreciate being preserved for future generations. Your embracing support for the preservation of this splendid dining experience will be of lasting value to those that follow us. Thank you.

Comments for Public Posting: Please save the icons of Los Angeles. The Pacific Dining car is one and is part of the city's history. Let's not forget the history on which this city was built, there is way too much new and not enough of the old memories to remind us what created this iconic city.

Comments for Public Posting: I vote to keep the Pacific Dining Car for the current and future residents of Los Angeles County. My business holds many events for our students at the Pacific Dining Car. We provide tutoring to students who are low income in the East Los Angeles area. Please know that we rely heavily on the Pacific Dining Car for the well-being of our students. Wherever they are called, in spite of all the hardships in life, they can always remember celebrating their victories at the Pacific Dining Car. Thank you for your consideration.

Comments for Public Posting: The simple fact is, The Pacific Dining Car is one of the very few monuments from Golden Age Hollywood left in Los Angeles. And in an era when even malls in Des Moines house a branch of Tiffany & Co., thus rendering a trip to Rodeo Drive unnecessary--Hollywood needs all the original monuments it can keep. The LA city government is so quick to greenlight any new real estate development deal, but tourists can get new construction and ugly, ordinary buildings housing ordinary stores anywhere. Every day of the year, tourists flock to the greater Los Angeles area to see things they cannot see anywhere else. So, why is Los Angeles, a city so dependant upon the tourist trade, so quick to demolish everything that makes this city unique?

Comments for Public Posting: Pacific Dining Car is the sort of establishment that makes me proud to be an Angelino. It's the sort of legacy business whose importance to the city is difficult to estimate. I've been going there for twenty years, and I would be heartbroken to see it go.

Comments for Public Posting: Please save Pacific Dining Car! It has been an integral part of not only our business activities, but most especially a beloved place where our family has celebrated many milestones, major holidays, and just plain LIFE! The food was always so fresh, well-prepared and delicious; and it was served by some incredible Angelenos who knew their craft! They were friendly yet professional, and they always provided service at the highest level. We have many wonderful memories of family gatherings which included four generations, and now that we are blessed with a new generation, we would love for this new generation to continue being able to enjoy this iconic venue which has brought our family so much joy over many decades! I encourage everyone who loves LA to join me in this effort to save our beloved Pacific Dining Car for generations to come!!

Comments for Public Posting: Please save the pacific dining car in los angeles. I miss this place so much. I was able to go anytime because they were open 24 hours a day. My favorite was the breakfast omelet, coffee that I have never found to taste so good like the pacific dining car Coffee. I love their breads. Their baseball steak, cocktails, the atmosphere was amazing. You can't find any place like this in los angeles. The Beaty inside is amazing. Just to hang out at the bar was awesome. I had the privilege to actually see Terrance Howard sitting in the next booth. O.j simpson visited their often. Johnny depp loved the place. Always at the bar. Lol. Tommy Lasorda was a penny pincher but dined their often as well. Nicolaus cage had dinner their numerous times. They filmed training day in their. Please save this landmark. Please bring it back we need this restaurant back. The staff was amazing as well Such nice people. This historic restaurant needs to be here. Great quality food. I will be the first customer once it opens again. Please save it ????
