Comments for Public Posting: I commute via Metrolink past this building and would much rather see it converted to some version of either a mixed use residential, commercial, or public space. The building has historic value and provides an opportunity for the City and its citizens to engage with a 90+ year story encompassing everything from improper incarceration, architectural relevance, adaptive re-use, and the utility of public spaces. The site is a historic-cultural monument left for ruin at the hands of corrupt city officials looking to hand over city owned properties to private interests for personal profit. This site has been saved in the past, and should be saved again. Please do not choose destruction over conversion, erasure over remembrance.
