Comments for Public Posting: Charter reform is long overdue. If we learned anything from the LA FED tapes, is that those Councilmembers present were doing anything possible to silence the public's voice. They were not concerned with the carrying out the will of the people, instead they were consumed with greed and power. It is astonishing that one of those members is STILL on the council. It is also astonishing that we STILL have the same number of Councilmembers as we did in 1925. A lot of things have changed in nearly a century and it's time that the people have proper representation. These are the things that must change. 1) We need no less than 45 Councilmembers. 2) We need fair districts that do not aim to put certain people in power and undermine the will of the people. 3) We need meetings at times where the general public can attend. 4) We need Councilmembers to be held responsible for their crimes against the people. I hope you take my comments into careful consideration. Best, Jillian Burgos

Comments for Public Posting: The Los Angeles City council needs to be disbanded not expanded. Los Angeles needs smaller districts that have direct community support. LA City council has brought residents nothing but endless corruption, limited affordable housing, and high levels of poverty. Los Angeles County neighborhoods need smaller districts with direct safety support including affordable housing that must be maintained for the collective blue-collar worker, students, & senior citizens etc., including senior services, including youth and young adult programs and including plenty of green space and car free land usage, and including limited air space disruptions from LAPD helicopter pilots and other air vessels aggressively taking over Los Angeles air space making the county unlivable with excess noise and fuel pollution. LA City council has had endless convictions of corruption. We do not want to expand but dismantle this rogue undemocratic system to form something better. Housing and public transportation should be at the county level and guided by the state. We've had enough of NOTHINGNESS from the Democrat party. The system needs to be defunded and restructured.
