I'll admit I'm not a fan of these so-called "Bird" scooters (even if they are fun to ride). The reality of unleashing unregulated scooters on the city is now clear: an entire new level of rudeness as buzzed riders whizz by you on the sidewalk, missing by inches before unceremoniously tossing the vehicle to the ground like a kid who's become bored with their new toy. I don't think I've once seen them ridden in accordance with the app's guidelines: with a helmet, on the street, and limited to one driver. It's like a big joke.

Unregulated scooters have been a social experiment in anarchy and have reached a predictably undesirable conclusion. If these scooters are to be more than an obnoxious fad, we need some laws that are actually enforced regarding where they can be placed and how they are to be used on public streets.

Dear Mayor and City Councilmembers,

The city should be supporting these methods of novel transportation for the masses. They encourage people to stay out of cars as well as travel to places that are normally difficult to reach. Due to parking or traffic. I believe it is in your best interest to regulate and communicate with these companies and ideas rather than ban them outright.

Thank you,
Quinn Miller

Dear Mayor Garcetti & City Councilmembers,

Thank you for reading what I have to say. This is not a canned / pre-written email. Please take into consideration the desperate need that We Angelinos have for more transportation options in our already polluted and congested city.

Thank you for your ongoing leadership and thoughtful attention to the many issues facing our city, especially reducing traffic by allowing more multimodal transportation options.

People like me who can not afford a car, or those who choose to not own a car for environmental reasons - need shared electric scooters (like Bird and Lyft). These innovative new modes of transportation are affordable, environmentally-friendly, they reduce traffic congestion and are the only affordable alternative to taking the bus.

I take the red line from my home in North Hollywood to the Hollywood & Highland station every day. In Hollywood, I walk south to Sunset and find a bird. Using residential streets (usually Willoughby Ave), I can get to work in Beverly Hills in about 20 minutes for about $3.50. It is a brilliantly economical, efficient and fast route to work, far more so than paying $18 for an Uber!

As we plan for a more sustainable future, we need to embrace innovation that makes our city greener and our streets less crowded with bumper-to-bumper car traffic. I realize scooters can be a nuisance, and proper regulation for the riding and parking of them is necessary. But please do not ban them. To do so would be cutting off our proverbial nose to spite our face.

Thank you,
Nicholas Harsin

I love Bird!

Dear Mayor and City Councilmembers,

Thank you for your ongoing leadership and thoughtful attention to the many issues facing our city, especially reducing traffic by allowing more multimodal transportation options.

I want to let you know that I support shared electric scooters. These innovative new modes of transportation are affordable and environmentally-friendly. This has been a huge help to my community. Although there are people trying to destroy and hurt the city's future. There are still people like me, who need transportation like this. For example, every other weekend there is a Movie premier of some sort in Hollywood, making it impossible for me to get to work on time via the Metro, and all those times I've needed another option besides uber/lyft (because prices triple during Movie premiers) Bird has been there me. It has literally helped me put food on my table, and kept the lights on my home. I am only 24 and live in Los Angeles on my own. In a city where everyone loses touch, Bird has somehow kept us all connected by a common thread: innovation for the generations to come. So thank you Bird. And thank you for helping in more ways than you'll ever know.

As we plan for a more sustainable future, we need to embrace innovation that makes our city greener and our streets less crowded with bumper-to-bumper car traffic.

Thank you,
Claudia Blanco
